IN MEMORIAM.

SODEN—In loving memory of Major Charles William Soden, Manchester Regiment, who died 19th October, 1922, darling, devoted husband of Isabelle Ethel Soden.
THE LIGHT ATHWART THE SEA.
I wake at night, I wake at night,
And know if there it be,
The precious Light, the glorious Light,
The Light athwart the sea.

It comes and goes, it comes and goes,
It heals my misery,
And soothes, assuages all my woes,
The Light athwart the sea.

I thank my God, I bless His name,
Where ever I may be;
But here and now I see the flame,
The Light athwart the sea.

The life of a shirt is determined by many factors: fit, style, comfort, material, washability, &c. It stands to reason that the made-to-measure shirt has an enormous advantage, for it ensures fit, style, comfort, the opportunity to select material for design and quality, and last but not least, the workmanship that makes it safe in any laundry. Imported Ready-mades now cost 15 per cent. more than formerly. You will therefore immediately appreciate the economy of having your shirts made to measure.

CITY OF DUBLIN SKIN AND CANCER HOSPITAL.

The monthly meeting of the City of Dublin Skin and Cancer Hospital, Hume street, was held at Hume House on Thursday last, under the chairmanship of A. E. Cairnes, Esq., J.P., at which were also present:—M. R. Lalor, Esq., D. H. Charles, Esq., LL.B.; Andrew Smith, Esq., J.P.; E. M. Lloyd, Esq., B.A., and Andrew Charles, Esq., F.R.C.S.I.

Apologies for unavoidabel non-attendance were received from other members.

The report of the Medical Superintendent, Andrew Charles, Esq., F.R.C.S.I., showed an attendance of 52 intern patients, 480 extern, 260 for light treatment, and 42 for Erlangen cancer treatment.

The report of the House and Finance Committee was submitted, and cheques passed for necessary expenditure.

M. R. Lalor, Esq., and E. M. Lloyd, Esq., B.A., were chosen as Visiting Governors for the month.

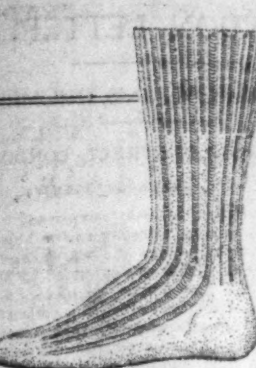

The Committee urgently appeal for donations to enable them to pay for the equipment of the new hospital, which is now completed and furnished with the most modern appliances for the treatment of cancer known to science.

One of the most powerful Erlangen plants in the British Islands has been installed, and no other hospital in Ireland is equipped with apparatus of similar capacity. The new light rooms for all descriptions of light treatment have been remodelled and enlarged to meet the exigencies of modern requirements.

Subscriptions should be sent to the Secretary, Hume street, Dublin.

Sir Archibald Salvidge, chairman of the Mersey Tunnel Joint Committee, has received a communication from Lord Derby stating that Princess Mary has consented to perform the ceremony which will inaugurate the work in connection with the tunnel on December 16.

It is stated that the Czecho-Slovakian Government has refused an application from the United States Government for the grant of diplomatic status to its Treasury Agents.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN DISCOUNT RATES.

Conditions were slightly more comfortable in Lombard street on Saturday, owing to the usual slackness of business on a Saturday. Day-to-day money was renewed at 3 p.c. by the clearing banks and at 3¼ to 3½ p.c. by other lenders, fresh loans also being granted at the latter rates. Surplus balances were offered on easier terms, and weekly fixtures were continued at 3 p.c. The Discount market remained firm on Friday's large gold withdrawal. Fine three months' bills were quoted at 3⅞—3⅞ p.c., two months' at 3⅞—3⅞ p.c., four months' at 3⅞, and sixes at 3⅞—4 p.c.

The Bank sold £7,000 in bar gold. The price of the metal in the open market was unaltered at 84s. 11½d. per ounce fine, and no further supplies from the Cape are expected before the 26th inst. Mainly owing to the small amount offering, coupled with a little Indian buying, silver rose ⅛d. for spot and ⅛d. for forward delivery, to 33⅛d. and 32⅞d. per ounce respectively.

Foreign exchanges were comparatively steady. French francs exceptionally fluctuated somewhat, but after touching 107.30 closed practically unchanged at 108.30. Italian lire further appreciated, while rates on Holland, Switzerland, Norway, and Denmark moved in favour of this country. Sterling on New York remained at 4.84. In the South American market, Rio was firmer at 7⅛—7⅛. Eastern rates were without alteration.

MANCHESTER PROVISIONS AND CATTLE.

FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

With one or two exceptions, prices have declined in most departments of the provision trade in this centre. Butter and bacon appear to be the chief sufferers, both these commodities showing a sharp decline so far as official prices are concerned. Copenhagen official quotation was wired 38 kroner lower, and, while this was made partly to meet the variation in the rate of exchange, it was followed on spot to the extent of fully 10s. per cwt. for most descriptions, and it cannot be said that forward prospects are any too bright. The quantity of Irish creamery butter is now almost negligible, but there was a wide divergence of opinion as to current rates, and prices generally ruled nominal. In bacon, Irish was officially reduced 5s. to 7s., Danish 9s., and Swedish 6s. per cwt. by the Bacon Committee, and it was hoped that this reduction would cause buyers to operate more freely. Lard has declined steadily throughout the week. Both home produced and imported cheese rule steady, and, so far as the former is concerned, an upward movement is reported in the country for absolutely choicest dairies. Supplies of eggs have been light, and, whilst for all varieties and grades prices have been firm, demand for new-laid descriptions has been slow. At a meeting of the Northern Council of Grocers' Associations held in Manchester this week the efforts of the Free State Government to promote the better grading of dairy and kindred products from that country were very highly commended by several speakers, who said that English agriculturists would benefit greatly by employing similar methods. The New Zealand Government also appear to be making a determined effort to challenge the supremacy held by the Danes, especially in the North of England, with regard to butter. A Control Board is being established in that Dominion, whose operations will come into force in August, 1926, all produce being centralised and shipments from that country made under its supervision.

At Salford Cattle Market on Tuesday there was a general improvement to note, but there were complaints as to lack of finish in the majority of the beasts on offer. There is no doubt that many beasts are being taken off the grass direct to the market, the high price of feeding stuffs making it unprofitable to do otherwise. Really choice lots of sheep and lambs cleared readily, but poorer qualities met with a slow sale. The number of Irish cattle and sheep penned was similar to the previous week, and, so far as the latter are concerned, there will, no doubt, be a gradual tapering off as the season advances. At Manchester Dead Meat Market business throughout the week has, to a certain extent, been featureless, and prices of home-killed meat have approximately closely with those of imported. The quality of pigs offering has generally been rather unsatisfactory, and has resulted in an easing off in prices.

Dead poultry has been fairly plentiful, but the weather has been rather variable and against business, which was slow, though, taken all round, there has been little change in prices.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

GOLD EXPORTS AND MONEY RATES.

The past week has been an awkward period for the Money market, which has not been at all pleased at the course events have taken. As a result of the continued outflow of gold, together with the initial payments for the Conversion Loan, a pronounced change has come over the monetary situation. From the abundance of credit available throughout the preceding week supplies have become exceedingly scarce, and brokers were forced to seek assistance from the Bank of England, borrowing a moderate sum for seven days at 4½ per cent. In the open market rates have naturally ruled high, the range for day-to-day loans varying from 3½ up to 4½ per cent. The effect of the gold exported up to Wednesday last was shown in the Bank return on Thursday, the total of coin and bullion being over two millions down at £155,843,000, while the reserve fell 1¼ millions to £32,459,000, the loss of gold being offset by a decline in the note circulation. The higher total of gold shown since the return to a free gold market was 164½ millions on August 5, while the higher reserve was 39⅞ millions on August 19. Compared with these figures the present gold holding shows a decrease of over 8½ millions, and the reserve a decrease of over 7 millions. Discount rates have been marked up sharply. Since Monday last an efflux of £3,577,000 in gold from the Bank of England has taken place, so that since the restoration of the gold standard at the end of April last there is now a net loss of £2,112,000, whereas at one time there was an influx of £8,651,000.

BIG DIAMOND DIVIDEND.

A dividend of 300 per cent. on the Deferred Shares has been declared by the directors of the Premier Diamond Mining Company. In October, 1924, a payment of 150 per cent. was declared, the previous dividend, announced in April, being at the same rate. With the distribution of 200 per cent., declared in April, 1925, the dividend for the current year is 500 per cent.

THE OUTLOOK.

So far as the set-back in Rubber shares during the past week was due to the supposed intentions of the Government regarding the gradual removal of restrictions on export, we (Sunday Times) consider it entirely unjustified. No decision has yet been arrived at, and there is no reason to expect any interference with the normal operation of the Stevenson scheme. From the technical point of view, the fact that holders have been securing part of their profits, in conformity with our advice of last week, is all to the good. There is no overblown speculative account, by far the greater part of the business done being for cash, and we see nothing to prevent the market from going ahead strongly in the course of the coming week. Financial difficulties in Johannesburg have led to the unloading of locally held shares, and among these Transvaal Platinum have fallen to 2, which compares with a price of about 4 when they were first introduced. When it is remembered that they were underwritten by Transvaal Consolidated Land and South African Townships at 2⅛, it seems possible that the fall in these, with other leading shares of the groups, has been overdone. In Breweries we notice good buying of Ind Coopes, for which a considerably higher price is predicted. Among other Industrials the rather disappointing Erinoid dividend is expected to be followed by a good report, and the slight set-back to 10s. 9d. provides an opportunity of securing an interest in a progressive business.

BRISTOL BREWERY DIVIDEND INCREASED.

The directors of the Bristol Brewery Georges and Co. propose to pay a final dividend on the Ordinary shares at the rate of 24 p.c. per annum, making 20 p.c. A sum of £50,000 has been appropriated to general reserve, making that fund £300,000, and £10,000 placed to depreciation of brewery premises, plant, etc., leaving to carry forward about £83,019. For the previous year the dividend was 18 p.c., with an allocation of £25,862 to reserve and £15,000 to contingencies, the carry-forward being £81,033.

AFRICAN AND EASTERN.

Further details are now available of the offer made by the directors of the African and Eastern Trade Corporation to shareholders of the 439,632 unissued Ordinary shares and the same number of 6 p.c. Cumulative "B" Preference shares. A circular to the shareholders intimates that the new capital is required to meet the growth of the corporation's business. The new ordinary shares will rank equal with the existing ordinary shares, and will be entitled to the final dividend for the year ending 31st December, 1925, but will not participate in any interim distribution in respect of that year. The new preference shares confer the right to receive on 1st January next a dividend for three months, calculated on a capital sum of 10s. per share.

HIGHER TEA PRICE AVERAGES.

The improvement in the Mincing lane tea made further progress at the auctions last week. A feature was the demand for the lower grade Indians, and as a result prices for common tea often showed a rise of 1½d. per lb. on the week. The average price realised for Northern Indian teas was 1s. 6.71d. per lb., against 1s. 5.77d. for the previous week. Ceylon teas were a strong market, there being keen competition for the good medium to fine sorts, and the average for all Ceylons sold was 1s. 10.79d., compared with 1s. 9.21d. last week. The average obtained for all teas disposed of at the auctions, including Southern Indian and Java, was 1s. 7.41d., as against 1s. 6.25d.

RISE IN SILK SHARES.

Silk shares have again been well in the limelight, and a tip to buy Courtaulds carried the price to over £7 (a new high record) following which there was a moderate reaction. We have before pointed out that for some time past, the rise in Courtaulds has been helped by American buying, and this activity frequently revives bonus talk, although none outside of the boardroom knows the intention of the directors. That the position, more especially as regards the American Viscose asset, permits of another substantial bonus, there is no doubt but the Courtaulds directors with remarkable foresight have always given great attention to plant extension schemes. Buyers of Courtaulds at present price should be well repaid in the long run, but it is likely that fluctuations will be seen in the early future (writes The Investors' Chronicle). Grouts have been favoured over £3 again, and Hinde and Hardy also have received attention, while Wardle and Davenport have been in demand on vague rumours of a deal. There is reason to believe, however, that the rally in the last named is largely due to the fact that a large block of shares, previously overhanging the market, has passed into strong hands. Harbens 8 p.c. Cumulative Participating Preference, entitled to 50 p.c. of surplus profit, have now risen to 9s. premium in Manchester, and the commencement of dealings in London this week is not likely to find many shares available. Investors evidently fully appreciate the fact that this concern is already a producer of artificial silk, and, moreover, is under very shrewd control.

A RECOVERY IN IRON AND STEEL SHARES.

Iron and Steel Shares have come into active demand, particularly during the last week, and prices show substantial recoveries. The recent buying has been persistent, and, whatever may be the reason, current quotations compare very favourably with those of a fortnight ago, when they stood at practically their lowest level this year. A comparative table of some of the leading shares shows:—

Share.	Price Now. s.	d.	Price Oct 4. s.	d.	Highest 1925. s.	d.
Armstrong	13	3	11	9	16	6
Baldwin	10	6	8	3	15	3
Bengal Iron	9	4½	7	6	20	3
Bolckow Vaughan	6	6	4	9	10	0

South Durham	45	0	40	0	55	6
Swan Hunter	24	0	21	3	32	9
Vickers	7	6	7	0	12	9

The improvements range from a little over 10 per cent. in Armstrongs to 55½ per cent. in Ebbw Vale.

MEXICAN EAGLE OIL.

The London financial agents of the Mexican Eagle Oil Company are advised that the production for the week ended 10th October was 105,000 barrels (previous week 102,000). Cerro Viejo No. 24 (in which the company has a 50 per cent. interest) has been brought in, and is flowing into the company's trunk pipeline at the rate of about 21,000 barrels per day. This well may prove to be a stripper.

RUBBER FORWARD SALES.

Jitra Rubber Plantations, Ltd.—Sold forward 9 tons smoked sheet for shipment, 3 tons monthly, April-June, 1926, at a price equivalent to 3/0½ per lb. London landed terms.

Negotiations are stated to be in progress for the amalgamation of the German Aero-Lloyd Company and the Junkers Airways with the object of reducing expenses by eliminating competition.

IRISH LIVE STOCK PRICES AT A GLANCE.

Parcels rather dearer; Plate October-November and November-December sold 33/7½ per 480lbs. BARLEY quietly steady; cargoes of South Russian arrived sellers 27/-, November 27/6; parcels of ditto afloat 27/-, November 27/3; American malting (48lb.) November 27/6, No. 3 Canadian Western October 30/- per 400lbs. OATS quiet; Plate afloat sellers 22/6, October-November 22/-, January-February 21/3; No. 2 Canadian Western October 26/3, No. 3 ditto 24/3; No. 2 white clipped American (38lb.) 22/3 per 320lbs.

LIVERPOOL.—WHEAT—Influenced by disappointing American cables, and "Bradstreet's" heavier shipments for the past week, forward deliveries of wheat here showed a liberal decline at the outset, and after a slight recovery again receded, final rates marking a considerable decline from Friday night. C.i.f. parcels of No. 1 Northern Manitoba October-November sold at 48/9 to 49/- to Liverpool, and arrived Manchester at 50/9 per quarter. C.i.f. parcels of maize, River Plate, September-October sold at 33/6 per quarter. WHEAT on the spot quiet and easier. MAIZE—Spot parcels steady at 7/3 to 7/3½ per cental for River Plate, and 8/10 to 8/11 for American mixed. FLOUR quiet at about late rates. Graded wheat futures opened 1½d. per cental lower, then recovered ½d., and later on again receded, and after slight fluctuations the market closed quiet at 1¼d. to 1½d. lower on the day. Sales, 100 loads at 10/5½ for October, 10/0¾ to 10/1, 10/0½, 10/1, 10/0¼, 10/0¾ and 10/0¾ December, and 10/0½ to 10/0¾ and 10/0½ November delivery. Values—October 10/5½, December 10/0½, March 10/0½ per cental; maize options nominal. Imports of Grain (cwts.)—Saturday—Wheat 78,100, maize 9,700. Last week—Wheat 572,610, flour 12,183, maize 187,453, peas 14,585, beans 100. This year—Wheat 16,456,229, flour 486,389, maize 4,008,619, peas 289,160, beans 36,217. Last year—Wheat 18,956,192, flour 597,001, maize 5,557,738, peas 543,735, beans 87,386.

NEWCASTLE.—Dragging market. Wheat inclined to be dearer. Flour 2/- per sack cheaper. Foreign wheat 12/6 to 13/-, English new 10/9 to 11/-. Maize 9/-. Native oats, old crop 10/-, new 11/-; foreign 8/3 to 9/2. Boxings, 9/9; bran, 7/6; broad bran, 9/-; flour, 42/- to 44/-.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL.—Irish and Danish BACON continues quiet, and prices show a further decline, now being quoted at 128/- to 132/- and 128/- to 130/- per cwt. respectively. Canadian Wiltshire also easier in sympathy at 112/- to 116/- per cwt. The market for American descriptions of bacon here remains quiet, with a downward tendency, singed Wiltshires being reduced to 108/- to 111/-, backs 109/- to 116/-, bellies 128/- to 131/-, and heavy Cumberlands 117/- to 119/- per cwt. HAMS quietly steady at about late rates. Shoulders still scarce, and nominal for squares and New Yorks, while pic-nics rule quiet at about late rates. LARD on the spot partially 6d. to 1/- lower; prime steam quoted 82/6 to 83/-, and American refined 84/- to 85/- per cwt., with little business reported. CHEESE more steadily held at about 1/- advance; New Zealand being raised to 117/- to 119/-, and Canadian 117/- to 118/- per cwt. BUTTER quiet, the recent decline in values failing to stimulate buyers to any appreciable extent. EGGS scarce and dearer, Irish hen being advanced to 21/- to 25/6 per 120, duck being still nominal. Imports of provisions (cwts.)—Saturday—Bacon 2,516, hams 1,983, lard 550, pork 32, cheese 712, beef 67. Last week—Bacon 22,775, hams 10,108, lard 14,283, pork 32, cheese 8,096, beef 67, butter 2,012.

LIVERPOOL REFINED LARD "FUTURES."—This market ruled irregular, in sympathy with Chicago, near positions gradually giving way under pressure to sell, and closing 1/3 to 1/6 per cwt. lower, but distant showed little material change. October sold at 82/6 to 82/3, November 82/3 to 81/9, December 77/9 to 77/-, January 75/3 to 75/-, May 73/-, and cash ex store 83/- per cwt.

DUBLIN VEGETABLE.—Large market of vegetables, for which the demand was disappointing and sales poorly supported at a compartively cheap run of values. Cauliflowers 1/6 to 2/- and 2/6 per dozen, seconds 9d. to 10d. and 1/-; York cabbage 10/- to 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, and 36/-, extras 40/- to 48/- per load; York per bag 3/- and 3/3; Savoy cabbage 12/6 to 20/-, sprouts 2/9 to 4/- and 4/3 per float, etc.; Swede turnips 2/3 to 2/6 per cwt.; white turnips 2d. to 5d. per bundle; lettuce 3d. to 6d. per dozen; parsley 6d. to 8d. per tray, etc.; carrots 1/6 to 2/- and 2/6 per dozen bunches; parsnips 1/2 and 1/6 ditto; celery 1/6 to 4/- and 4/6 per bundle; thyme 3d. to 6d. per bunch; Irish tomatoes 5d. to 8d. and 8½d. per lb.

DUBLIN POTATO.—Supplies clear slowly owing to poor consumptive demand for potatoes. Factors' city prices remain from 4/6 to 5/- per cwt., but some country growers offering to deliver per ton less.

CORK BUTTER.—The market presented a quieter tone. Creameries 218/- to 224/- per cwt., choicest mild 216/- to 220/-, farmers' fresh parcels 168/-.

DUBLIN FISH.—Very small market of fish. Lobsters rated from 2/- to 10/-, 12/6, and 15/- per 13; turbot 1/- to 17/6, brill 6d. to 4d. each, best soles 30/- to 50/- per 9 pairs, mediums 17/6 to 25/-, slips 2/6 to 7/6 per lot; plaice 4/- to 6/- per lots of 4 and 8; half boxes plaice, poor quality, 12/6 to 35/-, ray 7/6 to 20/-, herrings 12/6 to 17/6.

BILLINGSGATE FISH.—Supply fair; demand moderate. Soles 22d. to 26d., slips 16d. to 24d. per lb.; live eels 15/- to 28/-, dead 12/- to 20/- draught; turbot 13/- to 17/-, brill 11/- to 15/-, plaice 9/- to 14/-, halibut 17/- to 21/-, lemon soles 11/- to 16/-, witches 6/- to 10/-, whiting 2/- to 5/-, hake 6/- to 9/-, skate 3/- to 6/-, cod 5/- to 8/-, haddocks 4/- to 6/- per stone.

PRODUCE.

LONDON.—RUBBER firm. The Mincing Lane raw rubber market was fairly active on Saturday, quite a large mount of business being put through. America readily absorbed the offers made, and the price reached 4/1½ for spot, as against 4/0½ on Friday. A few profit-taking sales were made later in the morning, but these had little effect on the quotations, spot closing at 4/1, October 4/0½ to 4/0¾, November 3/11¼, and December 3/5½ to 3/6; April to June was quoted at 3/3 and 3/2½, and January-December (1926) was dealt in at 3/0½. SUGAR—General tone remains quiet and under a hand-to-hand policy on the part of buyers. British refined goods are favoured. Imported descriptions can be quoted about 3d. per cwt. down on the week and experience a slow movement. Some Czecho 88 per cent. beet was offered in the region of 9/- f.o.b. terms, but failed to interest refiners on this side, despite this being quite a pre-war figure. There was no change in British refined goods. Foreign kinds easier. American granulated spot 26/3, Canadian 26/6; Czecho granulated October sellers 13/6, November-December 13/3 f.o.b. Hamburg; steamer cargo Cuban 96 per cent. November sold 10/1½ c.f. and i. U.K. Terminal generally active, but easier; October sold 12/6, 12/5¼, and 12/6¾, December 12/9¾, January 12/11¼ to 12/10½, March 13/3¾, May 13/8¾, August 14/2¾.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LIVERPOOL COTTON.—Spot market quiet. American quoted 5 points dearer; Mid 11.54; Brazilian 5 higher, fair Pernam 12.04, Peruvian 5 up; Sakels. generally 15 to 75 lower, F.G.F. Sakel. 24.30. African 5 dearer, fine M.G. Broach 10.60, F.G.F. Tinny 10.60. American futures quiet and rather featureless, opening on parity level at 5 to 8 points. Towards the close there was an inclination to liquidate over the week-end, and some selling out ensued, final rates being 6 to 9 points lower, with a quiet tone. Egyptian contracts opened 12 points down, and closed quiet, 23 to 25 lower. Closing values, noon, Saturday:—October 11.26-11.32d., November 11.10-11.18d., December 11.16-11.23d., January 11.16-11.23d., February 11.15-11.23d., March 11.21-11.28d., April 11.20-11.27d., May 11.25-11.33d. (based on 1925 universal standard); June 11.20-11.28d., July 11.20-11.28d., August 11.14-11.22d., September 11.09-11.18d., October 11.03-11.12d.

TROPICAL PRODUCE MARKET RECOVERING.

FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.
LIVERPOOL, Saturday.

Tropical produce started the week somewhat easier in tendency, and prices eased off, but as the week advanced dealers showed more activity, and there has been a gradual recovery in the prices of the chief commodities.

Palm oil at one time showed a drop of fully 20s. per ton for Lagos and hards, while softs and mediums changed at 27s. 6d. to 30s. lower. Since then the market has steadied, with business reported in hards on spot at £39 2s. 6d., softs spot £38 13s., and November-December and December-January arrival at £39 per ton.

Most of the buying has been on behalf of the home trade, and covering by shorts for neither America nor the Northern Continent has shown any activity. Compared with December-January arrivals spot and near Lagos and soft regulars have changed at a discount of 5s. to 8s. 9d. per ton, the difference between near and forward positions of other descriptions being negligible.

Imports during September totalled 13,558 tons, and exports are provisionally returned at 992 tons. Business done during the week totalled 1,960 tons, with Lagos quoted £39 to £39 7s. 6d., Sherbro' £38 5s. to £39 2s. 6d., Congo £39 5s. to £40 2s. 6d., Opobo £38 17s. 6d. to £39 5s., Benin £38 12s. 6d. to £38 17s. 6d., and Niger £39 5s. to £40.

Palm kernels wind up better than at any period of the week, and prices, after showing a drop of 15s., have recovered some 5s. per ton. Consumers have not been over-keen to do business, even though importers have shown a desire to meet them, and what business has been carried through has been largely professional, with some covering by shorts. October-December and November-January shipment material early on changed at £20 15s., but £20 18s. 9d. has since been paid for October-December accommodation, with £21 wanted for later months. Hull consumers continue to adopt a passive resistance, not even the decline inducing them to come in. Near positions have again been pressed for sale, October-November shipment being obtainable at 3s. 9d. to 5s. discount on November-December material, the former fetching £20 13s. 9d. to £20 15s. The Northern Continent have also held off, and as a consequence afloat and September-October shipment material can be purchased at £21 to Hamburg or Rotterdam, with later periods 2s. 6d. to 5s. per ton less money.

Copra has given way gradually, the volume of business being small, shippers still holding well above the European level, with consuemrs showing no eagerness to encourage them. On the week values are from 2s. 6d. to 3s. 9d. per ton lower. Mixed No Padang August-September Marseilles offers at £29 7s. 6d., with F.M. Straits September-October done at £29 16s. 3d. To Rotterdam F.M. Straits October-November has changed hands at £29 7s. 6d.

Ground nuts are easier in trend, though Eastern shippers are not over-keen to sell. Undecorticated September-October Rufisque has changed at £18 10s., but further business at this figure is difficult; for new crop sellers demand £18. Decorticated Nigerian afloat and September-October shipment has changed hands in small parcels at slightly under £23. Refined oils business has been small, with prices easier, on the whole, while nut oils have been an idle market, with values lower.

IRISH FAIRS.

RAPHOE.—This fair was held on Saturday. There was a good supply of stock, which changed hands quickly for best qualities. A downward tendency in prices prevailed since last fair. Beef, best quality, 45/- to 50/- per cwt., second quality, 40/- to 45/- per cwt.; springing cows, best class, £22 10/- to £26 second class £17 to £22; springing heifers, best class, £20 to £24; second class, £15 to £20; milch cows, best class £19 to £22 10/-, second class, £14 10/- to £19; dry heifres, £10 to £14; weanling calves, £3 10/- to £4 15/-; newly dropped calves, 20/- to 30/-; three-year-old bullocks and heifers, £18 to £20; two-year-olds, £14 to £15 10/-; six-quarter olds, £10 to £11 10/-; year olds, £6 10/- to £8 5/-; mincers, best class, £9 to £11 10/-, second class, £5 to £9; fat bulls for beef, best class, £21 to £24 10/-; second class, £18 to £21; fat cows, best class, £18 to £20, second class, £14 to £18; good fat sheep, £4 10/- to £4 17/6; fat lambs, £2 15/- to £3 5/-; mountain or horned sheep, £1 10/- to £1 15/-; mountain lambs, 16/- to 25/-; good strong general farming horses, best class, £18 to £22 10/-, second class, £14 to £18; old agricultural horses, £5 to £9 10/-; driving horses, best class, £15 to £20, second class £10 to £15; heavy horses, best class, £25 to £28 10/-, second class, £20 to £25; ponies, £10 10/- to £18.

TULLAMORE.—There was a marked improvement in prices and demand in all departments at Tullamore Cattle, Sheep and Horse Fair, save in the horse section. Cattle were up about £2 a head as compared with prices ruling at previous fair. In the sheep market, also, business was brisk, and sellers disposed of their property quickly at higher prices than they expected. Taken all round, the fair, in the opinion of all, was one of the best held in Tullamore for many months. Weanling calves realised £7 to £8 10/- for good quality animals. Yearlings, 1st class, £10 to £11 10/-; 2nd class, £8 to £9 10/. Two-year-olds, 1st class, £16 10/- to £18 10/-; 2nd class, £11 to £15 10/-. Three-year-olds, 1st class, £21 to £24; 2nd class, £17 to £20. Heifer springers, 1st class, £20 to £27; 2nd class, £16 to £19 10/-. Milch cows—First class animals fetched up to £32 and £33, and there was keen demand for them; second class £22 to £27. Lambs, 1st class, 55/- to 63/-; 2nd class, 37/6 to 54/-. Fat sheep, 1st class, £4 to £5; 2nd class, £3 to £4. Store sheep, £3 to £3 15/-. Beef, 45/- to 58/- cwt. A slackness in demand was noticeable in the horse fair, which was made up of horses of the working class type, suitable for farm and carting work. One and a half year olds fetched £7 to £9; two and a half year old, £10 to £15. Six year old and over working horses, 1st class, £22 to £28; 2nd class, £16 to £20.

From Gothenburg—1,260 cwt. carbide of calcium. From Boulogne—690 tons cement, 200 cwts. asbestos slates. From Balik Pappan—171,210 galls. benzine, 584,805 galls. motor spirit. From Danzic—732 tons wheat. From Genoa—Motor cars. From Gothenburg—Toilet paper, wrapping paper, newspaper, wood pulp, sawn wood, builders' mouldings. From Le Havre—2,679 lamp bulbs, 1,260 cwts. flour, 126 cwts. rice flour, 30 cwts. cream of tartar, 110 gross wood pipes, 23 cwts. olive oil, 178 yards silk goods, brandy, wine, etc. From Antwerp—Fibre for brushes, 1,016 tons railway material, 28 tons steel bars, 300 cwts. sheet glass, 50 tons mattress fibre, 25 tons wire, 50 tons Portland cement, 23 tons plaster slabs, marble table tops, etc. From Malaga—5 cwts. almonds. From Valencia—2,480 cwts. onions, 220 cwts. lemons, 1,025 cwts. grapes, wine, etc. From cross-Channel ports—18,535 tons of coal arrived, per 46 collier vessels. Of these arrivals of coal, 2,569 tons were entered as consigned to "J. Larkin," and 2,030 tons for "Workers' Union."

LIVERPOOL MEAT IMPORTS.

Only six steamers landed cattle and fresh meat at Liverpool during the past week from overseas ports. There were no arrivals of sheep and lamb carcases, and only a very small amount of fresh beef. The vessels, with their freights, were as follows:—The Berwickshire, from Australia, with 1,000 qrs. of beef; the Montrose, from Quebec, with 4,763 boxes of meat; the Canada, from Montreal, with 2,091 boxes of meat; the Celtic, from New York, with 1,424 boxes of meat; the Scythia, from New York, with 840 boxes of pork and 1,976 boxes and packages of meat; and the Devonian, from Halifax, with 712 cattle, 450 carcases and 1,100 packages of pork—making a total of 712 cattle, 450 carcases and 1,940 boxes, etc., of pork; 10,244 boxes of meat, and 1,000 qrs. of beef. Compared with the arrivals of the preceding week, these figures show an increase of 1,735 boxes, etc., of meat; and a decrease of 665 cattle, 557 boxes, etc., of pork, 14,942 sheep and lamb carcases, and 78,468 qrs. of beef.

THE MAGDALEN HOME, GLOUCESTER STREET, DUBLIN.

The needs of the Magdalen Home, Gloucester street, Dublin, were the subject of two pulpit appeals in Dublin churches yesterday.

Speaking at last Mass in the Church of St. Francis Xavier, Gardiner street, the Rev. George Byrne, S.J., said that few had heard even the name of St. John Endes, one of the recently canonised saints. He lived in the days of St. Francis de Sales and St. Vincent de Paul, and had been described by M. Olier as "the marvel of his century." In their midst in Dublin was a proof of the triumph of the saint's greatness, the community of nuns of the Order founded by him three centuries ago. He was scoffed at when he mooted the project of founding an Order of nuns to conduct homes for Magdalens. He was told that the idea was Utopian, but he persevered and succeeded.

Now the daughters of St. John Endes in Dublin were pressed down by financial difficulties, but were determined to carry on the noble work of their foundation. It would be a fitting tribute to the saint in the year of his canonisation if the good people of Dublin were to lift from the shoulders of the community in Gloucester street the burden of a debt of £5,000.

In the Dominican Church, Dominic street, the Rev. C. H. Hunt, O.P., also appealed for help for the Home, and said that the divine precept to love one's neighbour could not be better followed than by helping the Sisters to save the souls of the Magdalens of the city.

The Irish Times.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1925.

IRELAND.

Four men stopped a man named Donoghue, who had been collecting accounts, in Inchicore on Saturday evening, and ordered him to put his hands up. He refused, and struck one of the men, whereupon another of them fired a revolver, wounding Donoghue in the shoulder. The men got away.—(Page 7.)

Six armed men raided the house of Mr. Pierce Beasley at Sandycove, County Dublin, on Saturday evening, and carried away a number of documents the property of Mr. Beasley.—(Page 5.)

Speaking at Dungarvan yesterday on the economic depression and unemployment that exist in the Free State, Mr. Kevin O'Higgins declared that the cure lay in settled conditions, enterprise and hard work.—(Page 5.)

Housing Week opened in Dublin yesterday, when the Archbishop of Dublin appealed to church congregations to support the project.—(Page 5.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

ABROAD.

The Anchor liner Cameronia, which reached Moville yesterday, rescued the six occupants of an American patrol boat in bad weather when two days out from New York.—(Page 5.)

Mr. and Mrs. Cosgrave and the other members of the Irish pilgrimage yesterday morning heard Pontifical High Mass, which was celebrated by Dr. MacNeely, the Bishop of Raphoe, in the Church of St. Agatha, adjoining the Irish College, Rome.—(Page 5.)

SPORTING.

At the Phoenix Park on Saturday Princess Theresa won the Woodenbridge Plate, Flattery the Ward Plate, Buntz the Whitechurch Plate, Amatoi the West Plate, Sparsholt the Wilkinstown Plate, and Pasol the Warrenstown Plate.—(Page 8.)

At Lingfield Park on Saturday Mystical won the Lingfield Autumn Oaks.—(Page 8.)

FINANCIAL.

London Money Market was firm on Saturday, but rates were slightly easier, loans over the week-end being made at 3¼-½ per cent. Discount rates showed a further advance on the big gold exports.—(Page 3.)

Free State Contracts.

Yesterday the Free State Minister for Justice opened the political season with an interesting speech at Dungarvan. Fair-minded Irishmen will agree with his view that the present condition of the country's fortunes does not justify pessimism. The fact of widespread depression in industry cannot be disputed, but Mr. O'Higgins believes that the State has reached the stage of convalescence, and foresees an early revival of commercial enterprise. We share his hope and would have been more ready to share his confidence if he had been able to announce an impending reduction of the large taxation which is discouraging all forms of business and, as we fear, is driving capital out of the country. On this subject, however, Mr. O'Higgins was silent. The bonne bouche of his speech was not a promise of reduced national expenditure and lighter taxation, but the disclosure of an alleged conspiracy against the State. In the course of a denial that his Government had taken a hostile attitude to economic relations with Great Britain and was showing undue favour to other countries, Mr. O'Higgins announced—on "information received"—the existence of a secret body which has been established to combat this alleged hostility. It is seeking members and subscriptions in Dublin, and one of its agents has declared that it is fomenting trouble in connection with the Shannon scheme and hopes to make an end of that project. At present the Government regards the secret body's activities as negligible, but, if they become serious, Ministers will take Parliament into their counsels.

We hope that, if the alleged agent exists, and if he has made the sinister remarks which are imputed to him, the Government will get him quickly by the ears—which must be very long—and will treat him as he deserves. No sane or honest Irishman of any party would associate himself with a conspiracy of this kind. In the first place, secret organisations have been the curse of Ireland, and the country desires no more of them. In the next place, the German Shannon scheme is with us for better or worse. We opposed it at the outset on account of its hurried and unusual inception, and because we did not think that the country was yet ripe, financially or economically, for this gigantic enterprise. Much of the blame for the present crisis at Limerick lies on the Labour Party, which supported the Government's policy of concealment and haste. The thing has been done, however, and the whole people must accept responsibility for the Government's action. Every loyal citizen must hope that the present labour troubles will be adjusted quickly, and that the Shannon scheme will prosper and will become, as Mr. O'Higgins expects, "the basis of Ireland's economic future." Any persons who should try to kill the scheme now would be inviting new dangers and perplexities, and would be thoroughly bad citizens. Mr. O'Higgins, however, ought to give the country chapter and verse for his rather startling statements. On the one hand, he cannot wish that suspicion should be turned upon innocent people. On the other, he ought to leave no ground for any suggestion that, if the story of the "plot" distracts Labour's attention from its grievances against the Government, a result not unwelcome to that Government will have been attained.

We are glad that Mr. O'Higgins has faced the important issue of the Free State's economic relations with England. He denies the charge that, in its costly contracts, his Government has preferred foreign countries, and says that, when British engineers and traders exhibit the vision and initiative of their German, French and Belgian rivals, their proposals will find an equally good reception. For what reason, then, was an opportunity to tender for the Shannon contract refused to British engineering firms at a time of extreme depression in their industry? We contend that British industry should get not merely equal, but favoured, treatment from the Free State Government, because more than ninety per cent. of the Free State's exports are taken by the British market. Mr. O'Higgins says that the members of his Executive Council "are not sentimentalists in trade development"; but they may be bad business men without being sentimentalists. Any Irish trader would hold it bad business to alienate his best customer by ostentatious patronage of that customer's rivals; and what is bad business for an individual is still worse business for the State. In the course of his speech yesterday Mr. O'Higgins claimed legitimate credit for his Government's efforts to foster the Saorstat's export trade in all the produce of the farm. How much of this produce is consumed by the compatriots of Messrs. Siemens-Schuckert and of M. Boudeville and how much by those of the British firms which were not permitted to tender for the Shannon scheme? Youth likes to cut a figure in the world, but experience soon teaches it that it must not quarrel with its bread and butter.

The Revival of Industry.

The success of the Motor Show at Olympia has been significant in two ways. First, it has shown that there is plenty of money circulating in England, even at this time of industrial depression. Thousands of cars were sold, and orders were given to manufacturers for the delivery of thousands more to dealers. Evidently those who bought cars and those who ordered them, confident of early sales, were neither lacking in funds nor pessimistic regarding their country's future. Secondly, the Show proved that British industry, in one important branch at least, is capable of holding its own. British cars have come down in price and risen in quality, and to-day England has recaptured from her rivals a large part of the export trade in motor cars and cycles. We have refused at all times to present to our readers that gloomy view of the future of British industry which is popular with the thoughtless and the ill-informed. Every war dislocates the accustomed flow of trade and commerce, and it was inevitable that Britain should undergo a period of difficulty and strain after a war that shook the whole world. Industry and exchange have to be reorganised to meet the new conditions and contact must be made with fresh markets; but we see no reason why any of the great British industries should fail to adapt itself like the motor industry and to achieve a like measure of success. The evidence which is being given before the Royal Commission on the Coal Industry has shown already that the basic British industry is not in a state of irretrievable ruin, but only requires due adaptation to be able to pay its way once more. An official of the Mines Department of the Board of Trade, Mr. Ernest Gowers, disposed of the common saying that the British worker did less work than his continental competitor; for, while the German output per man shift is 17½ cwt., that of the British miner is 20.51 cwt. On the other hand, evidence was given showing that England and Wales are far behind other coal-mining lands in their use of machinery. In Scotland nearly half the coal raised is cut by machinery, but in England and Wales only one-seventh is machine-cut. In the United States only about one-third of the coal is cut by hand. These facts show that the British mines are yielding an unduly low output owing to want of up-to-date methods. An interim report of a joint inquiry by masters and men into the causes for the depression in British shipbuilding throws further light on the difficulties which beset industry to-day. It states that Dutch and German shipbuilders are working longer hours for less wages than British workers, but it declares that, if solid work is given during the British working week of 47 hours, labour costs still may be brought down by doing away with the excessive sub-division of function which at present multiplies expense. "Interchangeability of trades" is to be introduced, and this reform in the economy of the industry is expected to bring British tenders down to the competitive level. Yet another example of the adaptation of industry to new conditions is seen in the appeal made by the Southern Railway of England to its employés to take up portion of its new stock, and thus to become part owners of the industry in which they work.

Fortunate Islands.

A curious constitutional problem has arisen in the Channel Islands. The British Treasury is dissatisfied by the exemption, shared by the Channel Islands with the Isle of Man, from the burden of taxation imposed by the war, and a Committee of the Privy Council has arrived in Guernsey charged to examine the island's ability to pay an imperial contribution. It is thought that Jersey and Guernsey together could contribute half a million pounds per annum to the Imperial Exchequer without bringing the island taxation up to the standard of taxation in England. The people of Guernsey challenge the figures on which the Treasury makes its case, and declare that their resources would not permit a substantial increase of taxation. The people of Jersey, however, go much further and repudiate the British Government's authority to make any demand upon them. Jersey, they say, which is not represented in the British Parliament, never was a part of the United Kingdom, and recognises no constitutional link with the British system save the Crown. They point to the admirable efficiency of their island Government, and declare that their members of Assembly could not be asked to continue to give honorary service in order that the Imperial Parliament should reap the surplus revenue of their economic administration. In the islands there is no income tax; yet there are old age pensions and workmen's compensation. The unemployed are given work on the roads and in the quarries instead of being paid a "dole" for which no return is given. Owing to low taxation and the cheap cost of living, large numbers of persons living on pensions have taken up residence in the islands, and there, too, children are sent to be educated. To bring the rate of taxation up to the level of the great mainland would be to destroy the basis of the prosperity of those fortunate islands. On the other hand, the islands ought to pay some share of the cost of the great imperial services which give them peace and security; and Jersey's claim, which amounts almost to that of Dominion independence, will not be lightly admitted.

Irish Jewels.

In recent times Irish visitors to London have been surprised to hear on all sides demands for Irish cut glass. Collectors have taken them aside to show them highly-prized specimens of old-time Waterford ware, hand cut with the maker's signature. That clear, fine crystal, with its sweet, musical note, has a charm of its own, and for many an admirer it calls up memories of far-off, boyish days, when it was used commonly at table by a generation that had not learned to preserve it like a precious relic. It may be that the "boom" in Irish glass is due to the scarcity brought about by the destruction that swept over our land three years ago, and, in one historic house, resulted in the loss of what probably was the finest private collection of Irish glass in existence. A demand has arisen in London, also, for Kerry diamonds and old Irish paste jewels generally. Necklets of the stones are valued, but the buckles set with Kerry diamonds bring the highest prices. These were the buckles of which the poet sang when he described, not—as the translator supposed—the ladies of Irrul, but the smart menfolk of the age, "with their hair bags and their topknots, for I pass their buckles by." Formerly, these dainty tokens of the swaggering days of old were curios with which families were loth to part, but now—such is the stress that has fallen on so many Irish houses—the prices offered in London call forth no small supply. While England loses her pictures to America, Ireland loses her smaller treasures of antique craftsmanship to London.

INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

TWO T.C.D. SUCCESSES.

The list of candidates selected for appointment to the Indian Civil Service by the examination held in London in August last fully confirms Lord Birkenhead's statement as to the high standard of recruitment reached. It goes to show that the indisposition of young Englishmen of high academic attainments to contemplate an official career in India, which was a marked feature of the post-Armistice period, is passing away. For the four years, 1921 to 1924, the average number of European candidates was 21, and the European share of the recruitment was approximately five. This year the total European entry was 70, of whom 19 entered for the Indian Civil Service alone, instead of having the Home Service or an Eastern Cadetship as the second or third strings to the bow.

In the final list the number of Europeans selected is 21, while the Indians number 15. Eleven of the Europeans come from Oxford University, 15 from Cambridge, two from Trinity College, Dublin, and one each from London, Aberdeen, and Birmingham Universities.

The successful Trinity College students are Mr. H. C. Baker (Campbell College, Belfast), and Mr. R. E. McGuire (High School, Dublin.)

OBITUARY.

THE HON. WILLIAM ROSS.

The death is announced in Cape Town of the Hon. William Ross, M.P.C., J.P., V.D., at the age of 75. He was a member of the Provincial Council of Cape Province, and an Hon. Lieut.-Colonel of the Kimberley Highlanders.

The Hon. William Ross, who was born at Stranraer, Scotland, and was educated at the Stranraer Academy, married a daughter of the late Mr. George Page, a Bloemfontein bank manager. He was first elected for Griqualand West to the Legislative Council in 1883, and was never opposed throughout the twenty-eight years of his representation. After the Union he was returned for Beaconsfield as member of the Provincial Council. The dignity of Honourable was conferred on him for long Parliamentary services.

CANON H. W. S. GIVEN.

We regret to announce the death of the Rev. Canon Henry Wilson Swinburn Given, late Rector of Ematris, County Monaghan, and Precentor of Clogher Cathedral, which took place last Saturday at his residence, Sandycove House, County Dublin. Canon Given, who had retired from the active ministry, was ordained Deacon in 1878, appointed Curate of Cootehill, and took priest's orders in the following year. In 1881 he was elected Incumbent of Donamon, Clogher, where he served until 1884, when he was appointed to the parish of Killeran, County Monaghan, remaining there till 1889. He then became Rector of Ematris, where he served till the end of his ministry. Canon Given was Rural Dean of Ballybay since 1902, and was appointed Precentor of Clogher in 1920.

DR. JOHN M'LEISH.

We regret to announce the death of Dr. John McLeish, which occurred at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast, on Saturday night.

Educated at the Royal Belfast Academical Institution, he took his degree in the National University of Ireland. In Queen's University he acted as chief assistant to Sir John Byers, and subsequently became teacher and examiner for the Central Midwives' Board of Ireland, and teacher of vaccination at the University. He was surgeon of the Belfast Infirmary for many years. As a young man, Dr. McLeish was a keen athlete, and represented Ireland in the Lacrosse team which toured Canada and America in 1886. He was also a keen horseman, and took an active part in the County Down Stag Hunt. The McLeish family have been associated with Belfast for several generations.

Dr. McLeish had been on holiday in Larne, when he took seriously ill, and had to be removed to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast.

RUSSIA'S DEBT TO U.S.

WASHINGTON, Saturday.

President Coolidge has noted with interest the reports which have been published to the effect that Soviet Russia might be willing to recognise her war-time debt to the United States, which amounts, according to American figures, to 255,000,000 dollars (£51,000,000). Acknowledgment of this obligation has been held to be one of the conditions of the recognition of the Soviet Government.—(Reuter.)

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The King and Queen returned to York Cottage last Saturday from Buckingham Palace, where the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and Prince Henry lunched with them before their departure for Norfolk. The Prince of Wales remained at York House for the week-end, but will visit Melton Mowbray during the next few days to inspect his hunters, which are now being prepared for the coming season. His Royal Highness will make his headquarters at the Craven Arms, where Prince Henry will also stay.

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles are spending the week-end at York Cottage with Their Majesties, whom they accompanied from London last Saturday. Princess Beatrice will leave Kensington Palace to-morrow for Longleat, where she will be the guest of the Marquis and Marchioness of Bath; and on Wednesday she will open the bazaar, "The Vignettes of Old Bath," which Lady Grant Duff has organised in aid of the local nursing association.

The Duke of Connaught unveiled the Royal Artillery War Memorial at Hyde Park Corner yesterday. The dedication Service was read by the Chaplain-General of the Forces, and during the Service Lord Horne placed a magnificent wreath on the Memorial on behalf of the Artillery Force. It was borne to the scene of the ceremony on the gun of E Battery, R.H.A., which fired the first shot in the war.

The Maharajah and Maharanee of Patiala left London yesterday for Paris, and will leave Marseilles to-morrow for India. The Duchess of Santona, who has been staying in London, has left the Carlton Hotel for Paris. The Hon. Mrs. Ronald Greville is making a short stay in Paris on her way to Poland.

The Marquis and Marchioness of Bute and their sons and daughter, Lord David, Lord Phidian and Lady Mary Crichton-Stuart, left Tilbury last Saturday in the Orient liner Ormonde, and will land at Gibraltar en route for their villa at Algeciras. Among their fellow-passengers on the Ormonde, which is bound for Australia, are the Governor of South Australia, Lady and Miss Bridges, who are returning to Government House, Adelaide; Lady Hilda Murray, Viscount Hastings, Admiral Sir George and Lady Egerton, Sir R. Waldie-Griffith, Lieutenant-General Sir Henry Lawson, Lady and Miss Butler, Sir Alexander and Lady Anderson and Lady Shephard.

Viscountess Gormanston has left Gormanston Castle for London. Viscountess Peel will return to London to-morrow to join her husband, Viscount Peel, who is considered a likely successor of the Earl of Reading as Viceroy of India, should the Earl of Birkenhead prefer to retain his present post as Secretary of State for India.

The Marquis and Marchioness of Northampton, the Countess of Chesterfield, Viscountess Scarsdale, Lady Howard de Walden, the Countess of Aylesford, Lord and Lady Wrenbury, Lord and Lady Shaw of Dunfermline, Admiral of the Fleet the Hon. Sir Hedworth and Lady Meux, Sir Davison Dalziel, Sir Abe Bailey, the Hon. Robert and Mrs. Brand and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Fitz-Gerald are among the latest arrivals in London.

Lady Beatrice Wilkinson visited Doncaster last week and opened the Waifs and Strays Bazaar in the Corn Exchange, which was organised by the Children's Union, of which she is President. Mrs. Westby, of Roebuck Castle, is arranging a sale of country produce in aid of the Dundrum district of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, which will be held on Friday, October 23rd, at 20 Molesworth street, Dublin. Lord and Lady Howard de Walden will lend their London residence next Friday for an entertainment which Miss Sybil Thorndike is organising in aid of the War Memorial Hostel for the children of touring actors.

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place very quietly early in January, between J. G. Gibbon, M.D., of Kiltennel, Gorey, Co. Wexford, and Miss W. Hamilton, niece and adopted daughter of the late Rev. James Hamilton, Rector of Clara, King's County, and Dean of Clonmacnois, and Mrs. Hamilton, 21 Kenilworth square, Rathgar.

THE NEW VICEROY.

VISCOUNT PEEL MAY BE EARL READING'S SUCCESSOR.

The Political Correspondent of the Central News says that there is a growing impression that the Earl of Reading's successor as Viceroy of India will be Viscount Peel, who was Secretary for India in two successive Governments. He is First Commissioner of Works in the present Government, but has also done much special work in the Cabinet outside of that office.

The Prince of Wales visited the King and Queen last Saturday, and remained to luncheon, at Buckingham Palace.

The King and Queen of the Belgians left Bombay for Colombo yesterday in the City of Harvard.

The Hungarian Cabinet has decided to adopt a new monetary unit of 12,500 existing paper crowns.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

BARLEY PRICES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Wild statements have been made in your paper in connection with barley prices. 35s. 11d. per barrel has been quoted at the average price in England for malting barley. Such figures may have been paid for a quality of barley that we do not produce here—a very silky-skinned variety and almost white in colour, used for making special light ales. The quantity of this is very restricted. I have attended Mark Lane and several of the largest barley markets in England lately. Farmers and brokers are pressing English barley equal in every way to our best, and find it most difficult to make sales at the same price that Messrs. Guinness are paying in our country markets.

If anything like the prices quoted by your correspondents as the averages in England is accurate, a very fine market exists for shipping Irish barley, and yet not a sack leaves. Irish barley has been offered in cargo lots at 15s. per barrel, c.i.f. English and Scotch ports, less than the average 35s. 11d. quoted by your correspondents, and no sales can be made. In Friday's issue it is prominently stated that it costs the Irish farmer 25s. 6d. to produce a barrel of barley. I wonder what it costs to produce a barrel of oats. Irish black oats are offering in cargo lots at 10s. and 9s. 6d. per barrel, f.o.b. South of Ireland ports, and can hardly be sold. Merchants must pay the producer considerably less to ship at a profit. To-day oats are under pre-war prices and barley considerably higher. Which pays the producer best—oats at 8s. to 8s. 6d. per barrel or barley at 19s. to 20s. per barrel? There is no reason in attacking Messrs. Guinness so bitterly. They are paying as much as any other brewers in the United Kingdom for native grain.—Yours, etc.,

R. HAMILTOON-HUNTER.

THE PRICE OF SOAP.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES

SIR,—We notice in one of your leading articles to-day a statement that household soap made in Ireland costs twopence per lb. more than a similar commodity in England. We are much surprised at such a statement being made, as the wholesale prices charged by the Irish Free State makers are certainly no higher than those charged by English soap-makers in Great Britain for the various grades and qualities. We should further like to emphasise that none of the Irish Free State soap-makers have increased the price of their productions by reason of the duty on imported soaps, and there is no desire or intention on their part to do so. We fear that a contrary impression may have resulted from your article.—Yours, etc.,

GIFTS OF CLOTHING.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Will you kindly allow me to draw your readers' attention to the needs of St. Peter's Dorcas Society and Sewing Class? At this season of the year gifts of left-off clothing are especially appreciated. By their means many children and old people in a very poor district are made comfortable and safeguarded from sickness during bitter weather. The clothes sent are repaired or re-made by poor women, to whom employment for several hours weekly is a great boon.

Those who will kindly trouble to look over their wardrobes will, perhaps, find something they can spare; their gifts will surely bring warmth and comfort to many a poor home. Parcels will be gratefully received at 43 York street, Dublin, or will be sent for on receipt of a postcard.—Yours, etc.,

JANE R. BRANDON, Honorary Secretary.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT FOR LOUVAIN COLLEGE.

MALCOLM McEACHERN IN DUBLIN.

A successful concert to help the Irish Franciscan Fathers to restore their famous college at Louvain was held in the Theatre Royal, Dublin, last night. The college, for ever associated with the production of the "Annals of the Four Masters," has recently come again into the possession of the Irish Franciscans, banished from it at the time of the French Revolution.

For this occasion a well-known singer was heard for the first time in Dublin, Mr. Malcolm McEachern, whose fine baritone is so much admired by gramophone enthusiasts. He sang, "O tu Palermo," from Verdi's Sicilian Vespers, like a true artist; but the rest of his programme, except perhaps the last little morceau, was disappointing. He could not sing other than interestingly, but his rich voice and easy style were thrown away on such stuff as "The Boy from Killane" and "The Donovans." There was too much of the comedy vocalist about his selections, and the result was disappointment for those who came to hear great vocalism.

Miss Stiles Allen, a cultured soprano, made a great impression on her first appearance in Dublin, where she will be welcomed back. Our new tenor, Mr. Luke Byrne, added to the good opinions already formed as to his voice, his singing, and his future on the concert platform. He made the threadbare "Mother Machree" live again. Again he suffered from a nervousness that should be altogether absent in a singer of such grace and masterly command of voice and music. The accompaniments by Lieutenant Arthur Duff were a feature of the evening.

Mr. Agnes O'Kelly was a very popular singer, who received many recalls. The instrumentalists were Mrs. Larchet, at the piano, Mr. Arthur Darley, violin, and Mr. William Reidy, 'cello.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—Pressure is high to the north and south of the British Isles and low to the east and west. The low pressure system to the west is likely to move eastwards, and cause a renewal of unsettled weather after a brief period of quiet weather.

N.W. and N.E. Ireland.—Wind between north-east and south-east, light to moderate, freshening; cloudy; rain later; visibility moderate to good, but some mist locally; moderate temperature.

S.E. and S.W. Ireland.—Wind variable to south-west, light, freshening; fair to cloudy, with some rain or drizzle; some mist; mild.

S.W. Seaboard, Mouth of Channel to South-West Ireland.—Wind south-west, light, freshening; cloudy; some rain; mist locally; sea slight to moderate.

Irish Sea and St. George's Channel.—Wind variable to south-west, light to moderate, freshening later; cloudy; rain later; mist locally; sea slight.

N.W. Seaboard.—Wind north-east to south-east, light to moderate, freshening; cloudy; some rain or drizzle; visibility poor at times; sea slight or moderate.

MAHARAJAH OF PATIALA.

The Maharajah of Patiala, who spent several weeks in England, and was at Geneva for the Assembly of the League of Nations, left London yesterday for the Continent, on his way back to India.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald arrived at Budapest yesterday.

LONDON LETTER.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S TRIUMPH.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
SUNDAY NIGHT.

Deep satisfaction was expressed in Government circles yesterday at the happy result of the proceedings at Locarno, and a high tribute of praise was extended to Mr. Chamberlain. The Prime Minister and the Cabinet Ministers sent him a collective telegram of congratulation, and several members of the Government sent individual wires. The final signing of the Security Pact will take place in London on December 1st, when the Prime Ministers of the different countries interested are expected to come to London for the purpose. The occasion will be a memorable one, and, in all probability, there will be some very interesting entertainments in connection with it.

Possible Evacuation of Cologne.

In some quarters it was expected yesterday that the British Army of Occupation on the Rhine would be home for Christmas, but this, I understand, is unlikely. There are some eight thousand officers and men in the Army, and they could be withdrawn by Christmas if there was an express agreement that this should happen. Although the evacuation of Cologne has no connection with the Pact of Security, and the German delegation did not press for the inclusion of that subject in the official discussions at Locarno, the better spirit engendered by the agreement upon larger questions may not be without its effect in the hastening of the date of evacuation. The handing over of the zone depends entirely upon the fulfilment of the disarmament obligations by Germany, and as soon as these have been accomplished to the satisfaction of the international mission of control the troops could be moved. Good progress has been made, and it is understood that the only questions outstanding concern the administration of the German police force. It remains to be decided whether they shall be accommodated in barracks in the same way as a military force or whether they shall live separately as ordinary members of the civilian community.

Reduction of Armaments.

The signing of the Security Pact may set new forces to work for peace, and already President Coolidge is so moved that he is entertaining ideas for a second limitation of armaments conference to be held in the United States. Whether the European Powers will feel inclined to cut down their munitions of war further is another matter. The new Pact will do much to prevent war, but it will not abolish it; for, while it is designed primarily to secure peace on the most dangerous frontier in Europe—the Rhine—and France and Germany guarantee not to war on each other, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium pledge themselves to oppose with arms either side breaking the terms of the pact. This rather presupposes that armies and guns will still be necessary if the peace is to be kept.

The Prince's Presents.

A considerable crowd waited outside York House all day yesterday in the hope of seeing the Prince of Wales. Once or twice he passed out of the building, but almost unseen, since the entrance is inside St. James's Palace, and the crowd waited in Pall Mall. The Prince's staff was busy unpacking, and three pantechnicons of further baggage arrived during the day from Portsmouth. The Prince has received an immense number of gifts, and it is understood that the Queen has expressed a desire to see them as soon as they can be arranged. This is being done in the State apartments of York House. In addition to the presents the Prince has several trunks filled with illuminated addresses and books of views given him at many centres. He has also brought home many presents for his immediate relatives.

French Finance.

The glamour which once surrounded M. Caillaux as a financial wizard is beginning to wane, and the French people are showing increasing anxiety regarding the finances of their country. The value of the franc has fallen to such a level that it is felt in Paris that immediate measures should be taken to check the movement. One of the main difficulties of the French Finance Minister is the lack of scope which the present position affords; for the practice of economy for two-thirds of the revenue is swallowed up in debt services, and the remaining third is insufficient to provide for the ordinary services of the State. Detached observers long have held the view that a greater amount must be raised by taxation, but the Government has failed to resort to that simple expedient of making ends meet. It would be unpopular, and popularity is a matter of life or death to a French Government.

Short Weight.

Since the sharp practices connected with the giving of short weight by retailers has been brought to public notice by the Food Council consumers are taking far greater interest in the matter. It really is more a matter for the consumers themselves than for legislation. If buyers would take sufficient care to watch the weighing of their commodities at the time of purchase, the short weight scandal would soon be ended. Apparently consumers are now adopting this course and carrying it a stage further by checking weights on their return home; for at one of the large stores there is a big display of scales and weights, which have been in great demand during the past few days.

Automatic Dairying.

No fewer than fifty-four new inventions, mainly of machinery used in connection with dairying, will be shown at the annual Show of the British Dairy Farmers' Association at the Agricultural Hall this week. One process bound to excite much interest is that by which the milk, from the moment it is taken from the cow until it stands on the table in the house of the consumer is never permitted to come into contact with the open air. Through an automatic milker it is conveyed to sealed tanks, put through various cleansing processes, passed to another tank from which it is automatically bottled, and then placed in receptacles.

Christmas Traffic.

Postal arrangements in London last Christmas came very near to breaking down, and there was great delay in the delivery of postal packets. A thorough investigation was held, with the result that it was found that, though the strength of the temporary staff exceeded by five hundred that of the previous year, they were hampered by the lack of buildings and shortage of vans. Steps have been taken to remedy these faults this year, and not only will a larger staff be engaged, but many additional temporary sorting offices will be opened, while the transport section will be augmented by a large fleet of motor vehicles.

Joint Ownership.

An issue by the Southern Railway Company of £3,000,000 Five per Cent. Debenture Stock is being made the occasion for an invitation to the railway workers to take a financial interest in the company by which they are engaged. A railway company has many little expenses which could be reduced if everybody engaged upon the work was imbued with a spirit of efficient service, and the experiment which the Southern Company is endeavouring to put into practice is deserving of the greatest encouragement.

Rents of 11s. 6d. and 12s. for three-roomed houses on the Roehampton estate of the London County Council are recommended.

FREE STATE'S PROGRESS.

MR. KEVIN O'HIGGINS'S REVIEW: HARD WORK WANTED.

STORY OF A PLOT.

"SHANNON SCHEME THE BASIS OF OUR ECONOMIC FUTURE."

IN a review of the activities of his Government during the past three years at a public meeting in Dungarvan yesterday, Mr. Kevin O'Higgins, the Free State Minister for Justice, said that he disagreed with those who said that the country was sick and needed war with Britain and the North-East of Ireland. "In my judgment," he declared, "the country is not sick, but convalescent -physically, mentally and morally convalescent; and her need is peace—peace and hard work."

Having spoken of the Government's measures which were designed to assist farming and relieve the acute housing conditions in the towns, Mr. O'Higgins turned to the Shannon scheme, which he described as the basis of Ireland's economic future. He said that he found it difficult to share the view that the wage rate offered by the contractors for unskilled labour was unreasonable in existing conditions in the country.

Before passing from the subject Mr. O'Higgins surprised his audience by telling them of a plot, which, he said, had been discovered in Dublin, to restrict and hamper any tendency to industrial development, and especially to render the Shannon project abortive. He declared that, if at any time the circumstances demanded it, the Executive Council would seek the fullest powers from the Dail to deal with the alleged plot.

STOCKTAKING.

THREE YEARS' SURVEY.

Mr. Kevin O'Higgins, speaking at Dungarvan yesterday, said:—In about six weeks' time the Irish Free State will celebrate its third birthday. On the 6th of December, 1921, the Treaty of Peace with Britain was signed, and on the 6th of December, 1922, the Irish Free State, with a Constitution based upon that Treaty, came into formal existence. The time is not inopportune for a stocktaking. What use has the country made of its freedom? What has it done? What does it propose to do? Governments and forms of Government are intended to serve the needs of peoples, and Dáil Eireann and the Government which answers to it can ask no other test. It is one of the most obvious duties of Ministers to maintain contact with the electorate, and to keep the people informed from time to time of the progress that has been made.

On their part the electorate should remember that a Government and Parliament can but co-operate with a people for their advancement. Legislation and administration alone never brought, and never will bring, any people to their economic salvation. The State can create and maintain the conditions most favourable to individual enterprise and energy, but if either the one or the other be lacking, there can be no prosperity.

THE FREE STATE'S NEED.

What is the country condition? What is its need? While the bulk of the people have been engaged on the practical and patriotic work of reaping and saving a bountiful harvest, we have had distinguished pessimists amongst us placing their stethoscopes to the country's breast and delivering a grave diagnosis. "The country is sick," they say, "very sick; and her need is war—war with Britain, war with our countrymen in the North-East." I find myself in the position of disagreeing emphatically with both the diagnosis and the prescription. In my judgment the country is not sick, but convalescent, physically, mentally and morally convalescent, and her need is peace—peace and hard work. Such evils as are pointed to as the evidence of deep-seated disease are merely the remnants of a trouble which has passed its crisis, a trouble which has left the patient weak and shaken, no doubt, but the last traces of which are rapidly disappearing from the system.

One would think by some talk we have heard that this is the one country where the operations of cause and effect are suspended—and where the luxury of civil war can be enjoyed without unfavourable reactions. Does it lie in the mouths of those who made a murderous onslaught on the State in its infancy to say when it is three years old:—"This is not a healthy State; there are signs of economic depression; there is a degree of unemployment; some young men are leaving the country." Let them maintain a decent silence, if they will not help to undo their evil handiwork.

THE AILMENT AND THE CURE.

Here, as elsewhere, there is a degree of economic depression. Here, as elsewhere, there is unemployment. The fact that, on the whole, there is relatively less depression and unemployment here than in neighbour countries gives the index of how far we might be on the road to prosperity if some people had a little more practical patriotism and a little less bull-headed fanaticism. But what is the cure for such economic depression and unemployment as exists? Surely it lies in settled conditions, enterprise, and the hard work which brings increased productivity. Those who tell you that the cure lies in resuming hostile relations with Great Britain and in proceeding to impose upon the Orangemen of the North-East the jurisdiction of a sovereign independent Republic are prescribing strychnine for your toothache. That course spells the permanent loss of the North-East and the economic ruin of the rest of the country. Let us have done with fooling and get on with the constructive work which lies to our hand.

I have described the condition of the country as one of convalescence. Throughout the last year in particular that convalescence has been rapid and steadily maintained. I am not referring solely to an improvement in material conditions; there is, in addition, a saner and more wholesome mentality amongst the people. From the angle of my own special responsibilities as Minister for Justice I have really very little to complain about, and I would have been glad to know in 1922 and 1923 that conditions would be so satisfactory in 1925. There is a steady decrease in the more serious forms of crime, and month by month, with the growing co-operation of the people, the Civic Guards are maintaining a steady improvement in their statistics of crime detection. That is a most satisfactory development.

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS.

One does not need to be a very thoughtful kind of man to realise its bearing on our economic conditions and on the question of commercial development. Credit is a shy bird and in times of strain and insecurity it flies away, money becomes "tight," as the saying is, trade languishes, the man who was thinking of opening up some new business or developing that which he had, decides to wait until the times mend, and generally the reactions are felt throughout the economic fabric. On the other hand, when there is security of person and property, when crime is prevented or successfully detected and punished, when debts are easily collected, when the writ of the State runs freely throughout its territory, then credit returns, the business man takes courage, commercial enterprise reasserts itself and a period of recovery sets in.

I am convinced that such a period is commencing here, and it is in that sense that I speak of the country's condition as being one of convalescence rather than of illness, although certain evils are still with us. In this connection one may mention as a pleasing development the proposal to erect a dead meat factory at Waterford. With the co-operation of railway and shipping companies such a project seems to offer a very considerable improvement on the system of shipping our fat cattle on foot to England. The factory itself will give much-needed employment, and there must necessarily arise in connection with it subsidiary industries for the treatment of such by-products as hide, horn and offal. The proposal to proceed at once with the enterprise is a welcome sign of the times.

THE STATE AND THE FARMER.

In Carlow a beet sugar factory is to be erected immediately, so that it will be completed in time to enable a 1926 crop to be taken from the farmers of Carlow and South Kildare. The contract has been signed, and the work of construction will commence forthwith. I understand that the experimental plots of beet which were grown throughout the country this year under subsidy from the Department of Agriculture are showing excellent results. One may assume that if the Carlow factory proves a success, a very short time will see branches or rivals of that factory in other parts of the country.

This State is based on the farmer. The Government that would seek the prosperity of the State and ignore that fundamental fact would be building on sand. The farmer is the base of our economic pyramid, and if we cannot induce prosperous conditions at the base, then any prosperity that may exist higher up is unsound and artificial. I think that we can claim as a Government that we have not been unmindful of that fact. We have sought carefully and scientifically to lay the foundations of agricultural prosperity. We have sought, as it were, to create the framework in which it may grow and flourish. The Land Act of 1923, the Live Stock Breeding Act, the Dairy Produce Act and the Egg Act embrace between them an agricultural policy which, with the organised co-operation of the farmers, ought to result in a very substantial improvement in their conditions.

ORGANISING AGRICULTURE.

To complete land purchase, to standardise agricultural produce, to enable the farmer to maintain the supply of a consistently good article to the English market, and thus to withstand the competition of his Continental rivals, has been the aim of the Minister for Agriculture. The administration of all these Acts is proceeding steadily, and their benefits will be increasingly evident. Within the past few months, for instance, under the Live Stock Breeding Act, an inspection has taken place of all the bulls in the country, and about a third of the total number were refused certificates, and eliminated as unfit. Year by year the operations of that Act will tend to create and maintain a better average standard of live stock in the country. Similarly, the control exercised by the State over the export of butter and cheese and eggs will ensure an improved standard in the article which we supply to the British market.

These things are of vital interest to the farmer. Only by better methods, better organisation, increased productivity, will he win his way to properity and hold his own against rivals. He must realise that his market is menaced by competitors who are technically skilled and highly organised, and that it can be saved and held only by organised effort and industry. But the market can be held, and not merely held but increased enormously, if the farmers in the various counties will realise the importance of getting together in organisations for the purpose of better and closer contact with the Department. The Department can teach. Its chief function is education. The farmers must form the classes.

HOUSING IN THE TOWNS.

What have we done for the towns? Has the Government, in its zeal for improved agricultural conditions, neglected to deal with the acute housing shortage? A glance at the housing situation which confronted the Provisional Government in 1922 in contrast with the present position will answer that question. Prior to the European war housing needs were met almost entirely by private enterprise. The artisan and the agricultural labourer, who were not catered for by the private builder, were housed by local authorities with State assistance. Prices were so moderate and money could be borrowed on such favourable terms that local authorities could provide houses at very low rents without appreciable loss to the rates.

During the years that followed the European war building costs became prohibitive. Private builders and local authorities had ceased to build when the Provisional Government was established in 1922. To effect a revival the Government offered to bear two-thirds of the cost of housing schemes undertaken by municipal authorities, and set aside one million pounds from State funds for the purpose. Notwithstanding the conditions then prevailing, over 80 per cent. of the municipal authorities undertook schemes, resulting in the construction of more than 2,000 houses. Having got the local authorities under way the Government next gave attention to the stimulation of private enterprises in house-production.

THE CASE OF DUBLIN CITY.

The Housing Acts, passed early last year, offered free grants to persons erecting or reconstructing dwellings, and empowered local authorities to supplement that assistance by further grants and remissions of rates. Before twelve months over 4,000 houses were approved. So great has the revival been that the sum made available for grants proved altogether unequal to the demand, and it became necessary this year to pass an Act making further provision. Under this Act of 1925 the provision of over 1,000 houses by private builders has been approved and new applications are pouring in. The newly-elected councils are also active and schemes covering 1,700 additional houses have been formulated to date.

In Dublin for the twenty-four years prior to 1922 the total number of dwellings erected by the Corporation was 2,250. What is the position since? Under the scheme promoted by the Provisional Government 950 houses were provided, and the City Commissioners are at present engaged on schemes for a further 1,400 houses under the 1925 Act, making a total for the last three years of 2,350—a hundred more than the total number provided in the preceding twenty-four years. I may add that the Commissioners are at present proceeding with the acquisition of 150 acres of land at Drumcondra and Glasnevin, where it is proposed to provide a further 1,050 dwellings.

Here in Dungarvan your Council availed of the Provisional Government's scheme of 1922 to the extent of building eight houses, and at present, under the Act of 1925, they are promoting a scheme for the erection of twenty. The Government grant in the case of each of these houses will amount to about £70. In Waterford County under the 1922 scheme the Government expended on housing £24,750, and under the Acts of 1924 and 1925 grants have been allocated to private builders to the amount of £9,100 for about 100 houses.

THE SHANNON SCHEME.

I want to speak now of a matter which I regard as by far the biggest fact in any survey of our economic position and prospects. It is not an over-statement to say that the Shannon electricity scheme is the basis of Ireland's economic future. It is unfortunate that the progress of that scheme has been interrupted by a wage dispute. I find it difficult to share the view that the wage rate offered by the contractors for unskilled labour in rural areas is an unreasonable one in existing conditions in the country. This is a predominantly agricultural country. The average wage rate for agricultural labour through the country is 25s. or 26s. An offer of a three years' run of work at 32s. per week, with free hutment accommodation and specially cheap dieting arrangements, is not a bad offer.

If a body of farmers in County Limerick or County Waterford were offering such terms there would be no lack of applicants. But a scheme which would give much-needed employment to thousands of men is held up, and the contractors are asked to pay to unskilled

WALL STREET PANDEMONIUM.

PRICES FALL FROM ONE TO EIGHT POINTS.

NEW YORK, Saturday.

Pandemonium reigned at to-day's record-breaking Stock Market. Motor and other industrial stocks at first showed rises of from one to eleven points as a result of the frantic outburst of buying.

There was subsequently a collapse of between two and ten points from the high levels reached under the weight of an enormous volume of profit-taking bear selling. The decline came suddenly.

After the first hour traders, apprehending that the buying power was showing signs of exhaustion, suddenly threw tens of thousands of shares on to the market, which was unable to absorb them except at material concessions in quotations.

Hundreds of customers who crowded the larger commission houses, discovering that the tape was so far behind the market that stock was selling one to three points below the tape machine prices, threw stocks overboard in a mad scramble to get out of the market.

Final prices showed numerous declines on the day of one to eight points. United States Steel, after touching 128¼, dropped nearly four points.—(Reuter.)

SHANNON SETTLEMENT NO NEARER.

FREE STATE FLAG ON GERMAN SHIP.

FROM OUR SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.

LIMERICK, Sunday.

With the return to Limerick to-morrow of Mr. Joseph McGrath, Labour adviser to Messrs. Siemens Schuckert, there is almost certain to be some indication of the contractors' willingness or otherwise to enter into negotiations with Labour for a settlement of the Shannon wages dispute. It has been mentioned already that Father Clery, a well-known member of the Redemptorist Order, has been interesting himself in the matter, and that as a result of communications with both parties, he was prepared to say that a conference "would take place forthwith."

Within twenty-four hours of expressing that belief, Father Clery has found occasion to alter his views. When seen this morning he expressed himself as pessimistic as to the prospect of an early meeting between the representatives of the workers and of the contractors. He declined to explain his pessimism, but the suggestion locally is that the agents of Messrs. Siemens Schuckert have intimated a disposition not to enter into any negotiation with the workers for the present.

WAITING FOR THE DAIL.

There may or may not be any foundation for this suggestion, but it is likely that Mr. McGrath, on his return from Dublin, may be in a position to throw some light on the matter. It is understood that the object of his departure from Limerick on Friday was to acquaint Dr. McLaughlin, the Irish representative of the contractors, with the result of certain "diplomatic conversations" recently conducted by him.

At present it can only be said that local feeling is distinctly pessimistic, and there seems to be a growing belief that nothing will be done until the Dail reassembles.

It may be stated frankly here that any further postponement of a settlement, which is felt to be long overdue, will not tend to popularise the Shannon scheme. The Limerick people are now heartily sick of what they regard as a very dismal wages squabble, and if it is to drag its existence through another fortnight the Government's proposal for the electrification of the Free State will have less than a hundred supporters in this city.

A farmer T.D., who wishes to remain anonymous, when interviewed to-day, expressed the view that the wage of 32s. a week offered by the contractors is inadequate, as there is, according to him, bound to be a great deal of broken time. It was essential, he declared, that there should be an agreement between the two parties, as, in consequence of the heavy local taxation upon the farmer at the present time, labourers were being discharged from employment in great numbers. The reason, he added, was because the farmer found it "impossible to meet the weekly wages bill."

ANOTHER VESSEL ARRIVING.

It is possible that the action of the Port linesmen who refused to assist in the docking of the Erling Lindoe on Friday will be the subject of discussion at the Harbour Commissioners' meeting to-morrow, particularly in view of the fact that another boat chartered by the contractors is due to arrive next week. The discharge of the Arabia will be completed on Wednesday, when, presumably, the work of unloading the Erling Lindoe will begin.

The Arabia to-day was flying the Free State tricolour, a fact which may perhaps be accounted for by the presence among the crew of one of the sailors who manned the submarine which landed the late Sir Roger Casement on the coast of Kerry in 1916.

SHANNON CONDITIONS CONDEMNED.

DROGHEDA WORKERS AND "ARBITRARY WAGE."

The seriousness of the unemployment question and the Shannon Scheme were among the matters discussed at a Labour meeting held in Drogheda yesterday.

Mr. M. Connor, who presided, said that the wages and conditions offered under the Shannon Scheme should be condemned as those practised in the Belgian Congo.

A resolution proposed by Mr. Archie Heron called upon the Government to initiate productive works to give employment at trade union rates to the unemployed. The Labour Party, he said, suggested that the responsibility for finding a solution of the problem rested with the people who controlled the wealth and the Government of the country. The position now was that they were as badly off under a native Government as they were under a foreign Government. It was no longer a question "of which Government or flag they should live under," but of the extent to which they could secure the right to live in decency and comfort in their own country. How, he asked, were they to appeal to the workers of Belfast to come into the Free State when they can secure unemployment benefit in the North but not in the Free State?

BRITISH GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS.

Referring to the Shannon Scheme, he said that the wages of 32s. a week were decided by the German firm in conjunction with the Irish Government. In the most reactionary days of the British Government contracts were always carried out on trade union principles and in consultation with the Irish trade unions; but the freedom-loving Irish Government had fixed an arbitrary wage and called upon the unemployed to accept it.

Mr. T. Nagle, T.D., said that the Minister for Industry and Commerce had been compelled to admit by Mr. J. Good, T.D., that the Shannon Scheme wages had been fixed in consultation between members of his Department and the German firm.

COMMUNISTS RAIDED.

300 ARRESTS BY THE POLISH POLICE.

WARSAW, Saturday.

The Political Police in Vilna arrested two hundred Communists to-day, including the director of the Jewish College and numerous pupils. Simultaneously over one hundred Communists were arrested in Cracow and Grodno. In the latter city arms and explosives, as well as instructions from Moscow, were found by the police.—(Reuter.)

RESCUE IN THE ATLANTIC.

LINER SAVES SIX MEN.

AMERICAN SAILORS' FIGHT FOR LIFE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONDONDERRY, Sunday.

The Anchor Line steamer Cameronia, which reached Moville to-day, had an eventful voyage. After leaving New York two days of terrific weather were encountered, and the Cameronia was summoned to the rescue of two vessels in peril. They were United States patrol steamers.

In the case of the second vessel the greatest difficulty was experienced by the Cameronia in taking the crew off. It was impossible to launch the life-boats, and rafts, ladders, and buoys were utilised to rescue the six men.

A line was thrown to them, but they missed it. Four jumped into a raft, but it capsized, throwing all into the sea. They managed to grip either ropes, ladders, or life-belts, and were hauled aboard in an exhausted condition.

Further manœuvring was necessary to bring the Cameronia into position to rescue the remaining two. Both jumped, but missed the ropes, and fell back into the icy waters, which were rising to a height of twenty-five feet. They gripped life-belts, and were being hauled aboard when the engineer of the little craft dropped back into the sea from sheer exhaustion.

Fortunately one of the crew of the Cameronia threw a life-belt, under which the man, in a last desperate effort, dived, and managed to get himself rested within it. He was got on board and brought to the ship's hospital, where his companions were being treated by Dr. Murphy, the ship's surgeon.

These thrilling rescues were watched by the passengers, the women among whom showed great excitement.

It was a remarkable feat of seamanship, and there was high praise of Captain Smart's commendable conduct.

MASKED MEN AT SANDYCOVE.

MR. PIERCE BEASLEY'S HOUSE RAIDED.

A raid by armed men took place at Sandycove, Co. Dublin, on Saturday evening.

Shortly after 7.30 p.m. there was a knock at the side door of the house 8 Eden Park, occupied by Mr. Pierce Beasley, formerly a general in the National Army. When the door was opened by the maid six men, wearing masks, forced their way past her into the diningroom, where Mr. Beasley was seated, with his mother. All carried revolvers, with which they "held up" the occupants of the room.

One who acted as spokesman demanded that Mr. Beasley should hand over to him all the documents in his possession relating to the old I.R.A., and, when told that there was none in the house, he asked for the keys of the safe. Mr. Beasley replied that there was no safe in the house, and, on the order of the leader, two or three of the men gathered up all the papers that they could find, and all left. Before going the spokesman told Mr. Beasley that they would come again if what they wanted was not among the papers that they had seized.

It is believed that the object of the raid was political. Mr. Beasley, it is understood, is writing the official life of the late General Michael Collins, and would naturally have access to a large number of documents, many of a secret nature. Most of the papers which were taken away by the raiders were solely of a personal interest, but it is stated that among them were some of value in their bearing on recent events in Irish history.

DUBLIN BREAD PRICES DOWN.

STILL HIGHER THAN BELFAST AND LONDON.

Dublin master bakers met on Saturday, and decided to reduce the price of bread in the Dublin area to 5½d. the 2lb. loaf, delivered. The price of the same loaf sold over the counter is a halfpenny less. The reduction operates from to-day.

In England the prices quoted for a 4lb. loaf sold over the counter is 7½d. to 9d.; in Belfast it is 9½d.

Bread prices have been reduced in Lurgan. The 4lb. loaf now costs 9½d. and the 2lb. loaf 5d. to 5½d.

SACKVILLE STREET SITES.

COMMISSIONERS' LETTER TO OWNERS.

In view of the authority given to the Dublin City Commissioners by the Dublin Reconstruction Acts to sell by auction sites on which satisfactory progress is not being made with the rebuilding of premises destroyed in 1922, the Town Clerk has addressed to the owners of sites on which rebuilding has not yet been commenced a letter, in which he inquires whether they have any reasons to put forward why their interest in the premises should not be offered for sale in the manner prescribed by the Act.

The issue of this letter last Saturday follows on the expiry on the previous day of the period of grace allowed by the Act.

Some owners have special circumstances to plead in reply, but generally the case of the Sackville street site-owners who have not yet commenced rebuilding is that by rebuilding in accordance with the requirements of the City Architect they would be put to extra expense, which was not taken into consideration when the awards for compensation were made.

GLANVILLE HOTEL SIET.

The future of the Granville Hotel site has not been decided. The site has not changed ownership, and the owners have not as yet made plans for the rebuilding of either the Granville Hotel or the Crown Hotel, which was also part of the property. A difficulty with regard to the conclusion of a rebuilding scheme there consists in litigation, still outstanding in the Dublin Circuit Court, concerning the interest of the owners of the hotel site proper in the lease which they held of the upper portion of the next building, which was used in conjunction with the hotels.

ITALIAN TRAIN SMASH.

FOURTEEN PERSONS KILLED ON MILAN-GENOA LINE.

ROME, Saturday.

A passenger train drawn up at the Bottarone Station, on the Milan-Genoa line, was run into to-day by a goods train. Fourteen persons were killed and twenty injured, some of them seriously.—(Reuter.)

SUDDEN DEATH IN A CHAPEL.

Feeling faint after entering the Primitive Methodist Chapel, Stafford, yesterday, an elderly farmer named Frederick Foster died in the vestibule while the hymn "Fight the good fight" was being sung. The Service was immediately concluded.

NEW ARMS CONFERENCE.

A LOGICAL SEQUEL TO THE SECURITY PACT.

U.S. PRESIDENT'S PLAN.

POWERS TO MEET IN WASHINGTON NEXT YEAR.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Sunday.

THE calling of a new Disarmament Conference by President Coolidge at an early date, and the permanent settlement of the French debt to the United States, will be the probable effects of the successful conclusion of the Treaty of Locarno by the European Powers. President Coolidge regards the Security Pact concluded by the European nations as the most important achievement since the Dawes plan, and he hopes that the results of the Locarno Treaty will warrant the calling of a Disarmament Conference at Washington within the next six months. The President wishes this parley to be the crowning act of his public life.

A confidential exchange of views between the United States Government and the other Powers will probably take place before a final decision regarding the proposed Conference is taken, in order that the White House may be assured of their acceptance and adherence to the general lines of its programme.

ARMY CUTS?

It is believed in official circles that the work of the new Arms Conference will begin where the Harding parley of 1921 left off, and it is hoped that it will complete it and realise real world disarmament.

So far as naval armaments are concerned, it is intended to subject aircraft, submarines and light cruisers to ratio reduction, whereas the 1921 Convention provides mainly for the limitation of battleships. Now that the five principal nations of Europe have signed a security pact, which practically ensures European peace, officials here hold the belief that the arguments formerly brought forward by Governments in defence of their keeping up vast military establishments are no longer valid, and that the nations will be glad to come to Washington to seek a way of abandoning the ruinous armament race.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LOCARNO, Sunday.

In driving through the Locarno Conference to agreement, Mr. Austen Chamberlain has won the greatest victory achieved by a British diplomat since the war, as he has succeeded in uniting Western Europe by its common interests for the preservation of peace, into a combination opposed to the "Red" Russia ideas of revolution.

This factor is of untold importance in assuring stabilised economic conditions, which, Mr. Chamberlain believes, are bound to follow the conclusion of the Locarno treaties.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S SUCCESS.

Mr. Chamberlain deserves the greatest credit for the way in which, without seeking to impose his ideas upon his European colleagues, he has steered the plenary sessions and private conversations around difficult obstacles. It will be revealed one day to what a great extent the British Foreign Minister was responsible for the conclusion of the Pact.

While Mr. Chamberlain's work is done, Herr Stresemann's is only beginning. Only in Germany is any fight expected over the ratification of the Treaty. The French delegation are leaving Locarno with the assurances that the people of France will accept with joy the results of the Conference.

M. Briand, who failed at Cannes to get a military alliance with England, has won more than that here. He has got the definite assurance that France can turn her military attention elsewhere while the need remains, and that as soon as the trouble in the Riff and Syria is settled, big reductions in her armed forces can be made.

WAR MADE DIFFICULT.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S TRIBUTE TO M. BRIAND.

PARIS, Sunday.

In the course of a conversation with the Correspondent of the Petit Journal at Locarno, Mr. Chamberlain declared that the Conference constituted an unforgettable experience of the highest value.

"From the first days an atmosphere of mutual good-will was created, which, in consequence, only required to be confirmed. There had been some difficult moments, but not a single minute of bitterness or ill-feeling.

"If some observer from a distant country, or from the planet Mars, had been present at the deliberations, he would have had difficulty in believing that he was in the presence of representatives of nations who a few years ago had been making a pitiless war against one another; he would rather have thought that the statesmen were discussing somewhat delicate questions in all good faith, and with the desire to reach an agreement.

"This great change in the political atmosphere had been rendered possible," Mr. Chamberlain added, "by a realistic and conciliatory spirit on the part of all the negotiators, but, above all, by the admirable diplomatic work of M. Briand, whose authority, patience and good humour at every moment conciliated divergent interests."

Mr. Chamberlain said that he would cite one example.

"One day, when M. Briand had explained in one of the most difficult discussions a series of arguments that the Germans heard in silence and hesitated to agree to, M. Briand stopped a moment, as though to allow the force of logic to sink into the mind of those who were contradicting him, and then he said to them smilingly, 'You are not going to make me believe that you cannot accept this proposition. Come, now.'

"There was in the last two words, and in the tone of M. Briand, so much wisdom and good nature that Dr. Luther yielded and indicated that he was in agreement."

"In all countries," said Mr. Chamberlain, "many people were still sceptical. They would also yield gradually to the force of logic, and in a short time it would be possible to say to them, 'You still do not believe? Come, now!'

"In contemporary history there did not appear before to have been a Conference where all the members had retired satisfied, each having the feeling that he had gained something.

"This was certainly not a Conference of perpetual peace," Mr. Chamberlain said in conclusion, "and no one would think of going to sleep; but it was a Conference to make war difficult, and that was a great deal."—(Reuter.)

LINER ABLAZE.

TEN PASSENGERS MISSING: MANY INJURED.

LIFEBOATS CRUSHED.

MAYPORT (FLORIDA), Sunday.

The Clyde liner Comanche, en route from Jacksonville to New York, was abandoned when on fire off here last night. Ten persons were missing, and many have been burned and injured.

The survivors of the passengers and crew were brought here after rescue by the tanker Reaper and the pilot boat Mota.

The fire started in the forward hold and spread to naval stores which were among the cargo, and was soon beyond control. The Reaper and the Mota responded to appeals for help, and the passengers and crew attempted to escape in lifeboats. Most of the missing are believed to be among forty passengers who were thrown in the water when two lifeboats were crushed between the Reaper and the burning vessel.—(Reuter.)

[The Comanche is a steel screw steamer of 3,856 tons, owned by the Clyde Steamship Company, and registered in New York.]

IRISH PILGRIMS IN ROME.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT RECEPTION.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

ROME, Sunday.

The 800 Irish pilgrims who are visiting Rome for the Holy Year celebrations spent a busy day yesterday, their first day in the Eternal City.

After congregating in the morning before the impressive entrance of St. Peter's, the pilgrims marched in processional order through the various basilicas singing Irish hymns as they walked.

President Cosgrave, who has informed newspapers here that he is present solely in the capacity of a pilgrim, headed the solemn procession, in the forefront of which were carried the Irish national colours. Mrs. Cosgrave, carrying the Holy Cross, led the women's section, which specially impressed the Vatican with its grand and numerous representation.

In the afternoon a reception followed at the Irish College, one of the most brilliant ever held in that historic institution. Three Cardinals and nine bishops served to lend dignity and pomp to the informal gathering, which, in addition to the 800 Irish pilgrims, was attended by numerous other visitors and students.

Great interest was taken by the pilgrims in the burial place of O'Connell's heart, in the Irish Seminary Chapel, and in the slab which is inscribed: "I give my soul to God, my body to Ireland, my heart to Rome." The inscription was read with many tearful eyes.

This morning the Primate of All-Ireland, Archbishop Patrick O'Donnell, preached the sermon to the 800 pilgrims.

Archbishop O'Donnell's sermon followed the celebration of High Mass, in the little church of the Irish College. The Irish pilgrims, said the Archbishop, were in Rome, not for sight-seeing, but for the demonstration of the faith of their fatherland and fealty to the Pope, who was the head of their Church. The countries which suffered most because of their faith retained most of religion, the Archbishop remarked.

There were touching scenes as the Archbishop added that, among other graces, the Irish pilgrims are the last concourse of devotees who would muster in the little church, as the authorities of the college were founding another institution more imposing and more suitable to their expanded needs. The church has been sold to a bank, and a larger property has been obtained on which to build the church. As the Irish colony in Rome, which is considerable, appeared to be in full force, the little church was crowded to over-flowing this morning, and numerous pilgrims were compelled to remain outside during the sermon.

The afternoon to-morrow will be devoted to a second visit to four of the chief basilicas and confession, while early Mass will be celebrated on Tuesday.

On Saturday next the Holy Father will receive the pilgrims at the Vatican. The official pilgrimage terminates on Monday week, October 26th, but the original programme is, I understand, to be extended after this date, so that it will include visits to Florence, Pompeii and other famous centres.

AUDIENCE TO ARRHBISHOP O'DONNELL.

ROME, October 17.

The Pope received in private audience Monsignor O'Donnell, Archbishop of Armagh, from whom he received a report on the archdiocese. The audience was most cordial, the Pontiff embracing the Archbishop and made him sit next him at his desk.

His Holiness displayed great interest in religious and educational conditions in Ireland, asking about the number of students in the primary schools and the number of Catholic libraries. The Holy Father expressed a desire to see Monsignor O'Donnell again before his departure.—(Reuter.)

UPROARIOUS LONDON LABOUR MEETING.

M.P.'S HECKLED.

Mr. Will Thorne, M.P., Mr. Jack Jones, M.P., and others had an uproarious reception at an open-air meeting at Canning Town yesterday, when they attempted to explain the reasons which prompted West Ham Board of Guardians to accept the conditions of the Minister of Health. Mr. Thorne's remarks were almost drowned by continuous shouting of "Get down! get down," and one of the many uncomplimentary remarks with which he was assailed had reference to his being entertained by Lady Astor.

Mr. Thorne retorted that he did not ask what time his questioners spent in the local publichouse, and would not be dictated to as to where he went. Eventually he had to retire. Mr. Jack Jones was no more successful, being met with abusive epithets, and after vainly trying to make himself heard he also retired. Another speaker, who was met with cries of "Go back to Leeds" and "Go back to Birkenhead," replied: "Well, I can go back there, but I know where some of you can go."

Without strong leadership the party of order is helpless, just because it is the party of order.—Dean Inge.

LATE NEWS.

THE PAUSE IN MOROCCO.

RIFI DEFEAT CERTAIN.

The Times, in the course of a leading article, remarks that the fall of the October rains has brought the major operations of the French and Spanish Armies in the Riff to their inevitable close, and proceeds to review the course of the campaign. The victory of the French troops, it continues, has been complete. The whole region from the Wergha to the frontier has been cleared of the invaders, many of the rebellious clans have surrendered, and the French outposts are now in close touch with the Spaniards operating on the eastern flank of the Rifi. The operations have been costly, though not in French lives. The Rifi attacked has proved less formidable than the Rifi attacking. On the Spanish side the renewal of offensive operations has resulted in a remarkable and unexpected fashion.

The rains and mountain mists have now rung down their curtain. Abdel Krim is not yet crushed. The elements have given him a respite from the attacks of his European enemies. He may continue to harass the French and Spanish outposts, but the possibility that he may remain relatively secure in his mountain fastnesses till next spring should not blind him to the certainty, humanly speaking, of eventual and irretrievable defeat. The Spaniards, if they can follow the example of their allies, will probably succeed in detaching other clans from the Rifi league. All these dangers should make Abdel Krim more ready to pocket his pride and sue for peace.

THE LOCARNO AGREEMENT.

FRENCH FEELING OF RESERVE.

Telegraphing from Paris last night The Times Correspondent says:—The public in France has withdrawn its attention very rapidly from the events at Locarno to devote it to the problems of home politics. It may seem extraordinary that the conclusion of the Treaty of Locarno should not have made a deeper impression on the French mind, haunted as it has been since the war by a sense of insecurity. The causes of the uneasy feeling have now been removed; but it is certain that the idea of a new era of peace in European politics, which the Locarno agreements have made possible, has caught popular imagination in England far more quickly than in France.

It is idle to pretend that there is not a certain amount of mistrust of M. Briand's expansive temperament and a fear that he may not have pledged France's generosity too far. This feeling of reserve is strengthened by the objections raised to the Pact by the Nationalists in Germany.

BRITISH OPTICAL GLASS.

AN ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION.

Mr. F. E. Smith, Director of Scientific Research at the Admiralty, writes in a letter to The Times—It is a commonly held belief that optical instruments and optical glass of British manufacture are inferior to the instruments and glass produced by certain well-advertised Continental firms and sold in large quantities in this country. I wish to state that this belief is erroneous, and that it is based on prejudice rather than upon a knowledge of the facts. Comparative tests made with rigid accuracy in the laboratory, and trials under stringent service conditions prove that British optical instruments and glass are inferior to none. The Admiralty have assured themselves that British optical instruments and glass meet their exacting requirements, and it is always specified in Admiralty contracts for optical stores that the goods shall be of British manufacture throughout.

I hope that the majority of buyers of optical instruments—if only of binoculars, microscopes, or camera lenses—will need no further certificate, and that they will in future hesitate before buying foreign goods. The British optical industry at the moment leads the world in the quality of its products. This supremacy is the result of research, and research costs money which must be set aside out of the profits of the industry. If we are to maintain our supremacy we must maintain the sales of British instruments, or we shall fall behind other countries which can devote more money to the improvement of the quality of their goods because of their large and profitable foreign markets.

FIRST FOREIGN LOAN.

It would not come as a surprise to the City to know that credits had been granted by the Bank of England to the Belgian Government, writes the City Editor of the Westminster Gazette. This would probably be followed in due course by a public issue, in which case the loan would be well received, for Belgian credit stands high in London. Being a foreign loan, the embargo would, if the loan were duly floated, obviously be suspended in favour of Belgium, if it were not lifted altogether. It would not occasion any wonder, therefore, if the flotation of a Belgian loan were not the signal for the removal of the unofficial ban on foreign lending. The financial group responsible for the handling of Belgian Government financing in London is one of the strongest in the City, and there is reason to think that when the new loan is made it will be so timed and managed as to ensure not merely the success of the issue, but the appearance of a premium on the scrip when dealings begin in the market.

MEMORIAL TO ROYAL ARTILLERY.

UNVEILED BY THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

In the presence of an enormous crowd, the Duke of Connaught yesterday unveiled the striking memorial which has been erected at Hyde Park Corner, London, to officers and men of the Royal Regiment of Artillery who fell in the Great War.

The principal feature of the memorial, which is the work of Mr. Jagger, the well-known sculptor, and which has evoked a good deal of criticism in artistic circles, is a 9.2 howitzer carved in stone, and elevated as though in action. Other features are a roll of honour and bronze figures of artillerymen as they appeared when fighting amid the blood and mud of Flanders and other theatres of war.

Among those present in the assemblage yesterday were Lord Stamfordham, Private Secretary to the King; the Home Secretary, the Secretary for War, Military Attachés of various European countries, representatives of the Dominions, and a number of distinguished officers of the artillery and other branches of the Service.

General Sir Leslie Rundle, President of the Memorial Committee, in asking the Duke to unveil the memorial, said that of the money raised as a memorial to artillerymen it was decided to set aside 12 per cent. on a permanent memorial in London, the remainder to be used for benevolent purposes. In carrying out this latter task some £90,000 had been spent since July, 1919, and the funds still in hand were sufficient, it was hoped, to enable this work to be continued for another twenty or thirty years.

The Duke of Connaught, in unveiling the memorial, said that he was especially gratified to have been asked to do so, as he had the honour of serving as a gunner in the regiment during 1868-69. Those to whose memory that memorial was unveiled died while upholding the spirit of their regimental mottoes; and to future generations of the Royal Regiment of Artillery he would say: "See to it ye that come after that their names be not forgotten."

TSINGTAO TROUBLE ENDED.

TSINGTAO, Sunday.

The crisis has passed, and an amicable settlement has been reached. It is understood that the sailors' demands have been granted.—(Reuter.)

[A Reuter telegram from Tsingtao, dated October 16th, stated that Tsingtao experienced a night of terror when the crews of two gunboats threatened to shell the city after their demand for pay, which was several months in arrears, had been only partly granted. It was feared that the sailors, under cover of the ships' fire, would try and effect a landing and loot the city, and the Consulates and public buildings were accordingly heavily guarded.]

HOUSING WEEK CAMPAIGN OPENS.

PROGRAMME OF WORK.

IRISH HOUSEOWNERS' VIEWS.

That the Irish Houseowners' Protection Association was anxious to do everything possible to solve the housing shortage was the view generally expressed at a meeting of the National Executive of the Society, which was held at 37 Nassau street, Dublin, on Friday last. Many of the Association's members, it was stated, were at present erecting new houses, but the problem would have to be tackled in a more scientific manner.

"Housing Week" opened in Dublin yesterday, when a letter from the Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Gregg) was read in the various churches asking the congregations to give their support to the project.

A series of public meetings and conferences have been arranged to take place each day during the week, beginning with a conference this morning and a public meeting at the Mansion House to-night.

HOUSING METHODS UNSUCCESSFUL.

SUGGESTED REMEDIES.

It was agreed that the following memorandum should constitute the policy of the Irish Houseowners' Protection Association in regard to housing:—

At present the housing problem is dealt with by three methods—State-aided building under the Building Facilities Acts; private enterprise mainly by the speculative builder; the palliative measure of restricting rents by Statute, so as to prevent the shortage of houses resulting in excessive rents, such as would follow the operation of the law of demand and supply.

Have the three methods brought us nearer a solution of the problem of providing houses at rents which will give the investor a reasonable return on his money, and which are sufficiently reasonable to a prospective tenant in relation to the present cost of living? The whole question is essentially a financial one, because there is no shortage of either the constituent materials of houses or of human labour with which to build them. It is clear that the methods adopted up to the present have not met with success. The Building Facilities Acts have not been availed of to any adequate extent; the private builder is prevented from building, because he is convinced that he will not be able to sell his house at a reasonable profit, and owing to the policy of rent restriction he fears that at any moment the Legislature might extend the application of the Rent Restriction Act to embrace houses built after April, 1919. The landlord and tenant problem is accentuated by the operation of this Act to such an extent that as soon as a house which is controlled becomes vacant the landlord tries to sell it. In these circumstances the problem of providing sufficient housing accommodation, so far from being solved, is really becoming more acute.

HELPFUL RELATIONS.

It should also be observed that, if the present method of State aid is likely to produce material result, it should offer sufficient attraction to the tenants of controlled houses or flats who could command some available capital to leave such houses and build for themselves. At the present time the occupant of a controlled house, with a rent calculated on the 1914 basis, is unwilling to give it up to another and proceed to build a house for himself, even with the Government grant. The tenant of 1914, or his successor, is preferentially treated to the detriment of the younger generation of prospective tenants, who have either to go into rooms or flats, or build houses for themselves at costs out of all proportion to the financial obligations of his friend, who is living in his controlled house. Is there any wonder why such prospective tenant is unwilling to avail himself of such building facilities when, perhaps, he is daily expecting to get into a controlled house, where under the Act he will enjoy all the advantages of ownership without any of its obligations?

It is suggested that the Building Facilities Acts, and the Rent Restriction Act, would be brought into helpful relations, one with the other, by taking a common basis of application. At present the basis of rent restriction is Poor Law valuation, and of the Building Act floor space. Supposing, on the other hand, it were enacted that any house having a floor space of any exceeding 1,250 square feet shall not be subject to any restriction of rent, and at the same time it were enacted that the Building Facilities shall be extended to prospective builders of houses having a floor space exceeding the same number of square feet, obviously the occupier of a house at present controlled, and having a floor space exceeding the amount in the Act, would see that it is to his advantage to avail himself of the building grant. The smaller class of tenant would still be protected, whilst the tenant who has some available capital would be induced to build for himself, thus vacating a house for some other tenant. In a short time the rents of uncontrolled houses would be naturally adjusted, and a great number of new houses would arise. This would, we believe, be a substantial contribution to the solution of the problem so far as it is possible for the State subsidy method to be utilised.

INDUSTRIAL STAGNATION.

The whole question of housing is only another aspect of the general economic condition, which presents itself to-day. It is one with unemployment, the high cost of living, and the general stagnation of our industrial life. To anyone sufficiently conversant with the real facts, it is obvious that the employer and employé are in the hopeless dilemma, if wages are increased, the general cost of living rises in direct ratio, and the result is that neither the employer or the employé gain anything, and this is by reason of the fact that in the present financial system all costs, wages, salaries, dividend and interest, or other overhead charges, must re-appear in prices. Unless the entire machinery of industrial and economic life is running freely rents cannot be paid or houses purchased, and "State aid" on the present lines is but a poor and inadequate contribution to the gigantic problem of housing.

"This Association is of the opinion that the housing problem will not be solved unless the Government determine to arrange credit facilities for private builders and prospective purchasers on such terms as will reduce the element of interest in costs to a negligible item. At the present time any scheme of house purchase on the instalment system is so overborne by the interest charged that it ceases to be an economic proposition. Instead of burdening the taxpayer with the large sums in grants under the Building Facilities Acts, the Government should endeavour to arrange for the issue of credit, bearing only a nominal interest for the construction and purchase of houses.

"If such a policy be not adopted we are of the opinion that either the Rent Restriction Act and the Building Facilities Act should be altered, or that the Rent Restriction Act should be abolished at once, so that the private builder and investor may have a free and open market.

"The Association is prepared to co-operate in dealing with the problem, and has under consideration a scheme to be suggested to the Government, by which property of members of the Association would secure a certain immunity from control in consideration of our corporate undertaking in regard to rents and conditions of tenure."

MEETINGS AND CONFERENCES.

THE WEEK'S DISCUSSIONS.

The opening conference of Housing Week will be held at 11 a.m. to-day, at 42 Dawson street, Dublin, when special aspects of the problem will be considered. A mass meeting will be held at the Mansion House, at 8 o'clock

On to-morrow evening Kingstown sympathisers will attend a meeting at the Town Hall.

At Bray on Wednesday evening another meeting will take place, and on Thursday evening a conference of women, on the subject of "The Home" will meet at 42 Dawson street.

"Housing Week" will close on Friday evening next, when a lantern lecture will be given at Rathmines Town Hall by Mr. M. G. Topham Forrest, F.R.I.B.A., on "London's Housing Problem and how it is being solved."

ARCHBISHOP'S LETTER TO THE CLERGY.

In the majority of the churches yesterday reference was made to the opening of Housing Week in Dublin, which began yesterday.

In a letter addressed to the clergy of the Church of Ireland in the United Diocese of Dublin, Glendalough and Kildare, Dr. Gregg, Archbishop of Dublin, says:—

"I shall be glad if you will do what you can to make known among your people the proposal of the Central Housing Council to organise a Housing Week, October 18th to 24th. It is hardly necessary to say that Dublin makes miserably inadequate provision for the housing of its poorest citizens, and that the public conscience needs to be aroused in order to put an end to a state of things subversive of both morals and health.

"I rejoice to think that action has already been taken both by the authorities and by public-spirited individuals, but much more needs to be accomplished, and Housing Week ought to be of great service in interesting our citizens in the experience gained elsewhere and in stimulating them to support wisely-conceived housing proposals. I hope you will recommend the lectures and conferences to your parishioners."

In the course of a sermon preached at St. Matthias's Church Harvest Thanksgiving Service, the Rev. D. H. Hall, after speaking on the subject of harvest, referred to Dublin's housing needs. At the present time, he said, there are 26,000 families in the city in need of houses. What is necessary for the safety of the city is a change of attitude, and that is already noticeable. Not long ago those in authority laughed at his estimate that 1,000 houses a year could be built, but now the work is going on. The new attitude is made clear in a greater regard for the sacredness of all life and a sense of trust in God. In giving over the key of one of his houses to a tenant, Mr. Hall said that his habit was to tell the new owner: "God Almighty built this house; He made the material and the skill which put it together, and He entrusts you with the use of them."

PRESBYTERIAN SUPPORT FOR HOUSING WEEK.

At the Evening Service in Abbey street Church, Dublin, Dr. Denham Osborne, preaching on "Social Wrongs and the Fall of Satan," referred to the housing campaign, and laid stress upon the claim of the slum child to decent conditions of upbringing and living. The tenements of Dublin, he said, condemned the children to one room as a mockery of a home, and to a death-rate which showed that "for every babe carried to its grave from our homes, five little bodies were borne from the tenements to the cemetery." It was so pitiful to witness the preventable massacre of the innocents. He appealed to all to heartily unite in this serious endeavour to ascertain how they could rescue these little children and provide homes for their parents instead of hovels.

TO DEVELOP CORK FISHERIES.

CONSERVATORS AND LETTINGS TO VISITORS.

"In the past many cross-Channel anglers came and spent weeks fishing and distributing very large sums of money. At one time it actually ran into £15,000 or £20,000 in a season," declared Mr. R. Wallace, Chairman, at a meeting of the Cork Fishery Conservators on last Saturday.

He added that the Irish Tourist Association were making great efforts to revive the traffic, and he would ask the Secretary to supply the Association, as requested, with particulars of the fishery lettings on the river during the season.

The Dublin district of the Salmon Anglers' Association wrote stating that they had passed a resolution condemning the increase in the rod licence duty, and asking the Board if it was their opinion to forward a similar resolution to the Ministry of Fisheries.

The Chairman said that he agreed with the resolution. The Cork salmon anglers were really a police force on the banks of the river, as they prevented illegal destruction of fish. The old duty should remain, as the Board always looked upon the Anglers Club as men who did as much for the protection of the river as the paid bailiffs, and he (Chairman) was sure that that applied to the rest of the Free State as well. The Chairman also asked whether it would be possible to get a free day on the river for the anglers.

Mr. Haynes said that if the anglers had a free day, the cross-Channel traffic could not be developed, as those anglers would not come for five days a week fishing.

The Secretary read a resolution, passed by the Board last April, calling for a reduction in the rod licence duty, and it was decided to forward a copy of the resolution to the Dublin anglers.

MUNSTER AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

IMPROVING THE MEMBERSHIP.

At the monthly meeting of the General Committee of the Munster Agricultural Society, in Cork on Saturday, Mr. J. Daly, V.S., put forward a proposal for the general improvement of the Society. He said that he would like to see bodies such as the Farmers' Union co-operating with the Society in its work. Last year the Society met with success, but that only brought £200 to their credit at the end of the year. There was no use in going on in such a way if they were to avoid getting into debt. He did not think that they could ever pay their way holding two shows in the year, and he proposed that a committee of inquiry be appointed to go into the whole question of the [illegible] and more attractive organisation of the Society and its shows.

The Chairman (Captain T. A. Clarke) said that if they improved the membership they would solve the whole difficulty. The position of show societies was this—their only profit-making business was their shows, but they had their upkeep and standing expenses to meet all the time. As regards their own Society, their expenses had increased practically treble within the last ten or eleven years, but their subscriptions and their entry fees and everything like that remained the same, and that was their difficulty.

Following a number of other suggestions as to the better working of the Society, it was agreed that a Committee should approach the different bodies interested in the work of the Society with the view of securing greater support for the Society and its work.

STATE GUARANTEE OF TRADE LOANS.

£1,000,000 OFFER; £47,600 ISSUE.

Only in three cases has money guaranteed under the Trade Loans Act in the Free State been placed at the disposal of the applicants, it is stated in the Irish Trade Journal, the official publication of the Ministry of Industry and Commerce. The sum involved in these cases amounts to £47,000. Other cases, it is added, are now approaching completion.

The Act came into force on the 1st of August, 1924, and was put forward as the Government's answer to demands for action to stimulate employment and to counter "profiteering." It authorised a Government guarantee for loans for undertakings "calculated to promote employment," and also the guarantee or grant of loans "calculated to promote a reduction in the retail price of essential commodities." Up to £750,000 could be guaranteed under the first head and up to £250,000 under the second, and of the latter amount £50,000 could be lent by the Government. The original Act, which had force only for twelve months, was extended for a further twelve months by an amending Act.

The Journal states:—"There have been 337 applications under Section 1 of the Act and 34 under Section 2. Of these, 20 and three, respectively, have been recommended by the Advisory Committee, and the Minister has intimated his willingness to give the desired guarantee in thirteen cases under Section 1 and two cases under Section 2. No loans have been granted. Considerable delay was experienced through difficulties raised by the banks in regard to financing loans for more than five years. To obviate this a sum of £300,000 has been placed by the Government at the disposal of the National Land Bank to finance loans guaranteed under the Act."

The difficulty with the banks, and also the necessity for making provision for working capital apart from the sum involved in the guaranteed loan, are given as reasons for the small use made of the Act as yet.

At the beginning of the second winter since the passing of the Act no indication of any effect on the cost of living through its provisions can be seen.

As regards employment, certain industries have been helped; and the provisions of the Act may yet be useful, for instance, in enabling firms engaged in manufacture to take advantage of the protection given by the import duties now imposed on certain goods.

REDUCED TO A FINE ART.

JUSTICE ON INTIMIDATION IN COUNTY CLARE.

"In a county like this, where intimidation has been reduced to the very finest of fine arts, a person in my position is bound to take the most serious notice of a case like this," said Justice Gleeson at Ennis Court, when three young men were charged with "intimidating" a ganger in the employment of the Office of Public Works carrying out drainage operations on the Fergus under a Government grant of £15,000.

The accused were Michael O'Brien, Andrew Baker, and Thomas Roughan, of Moyrhee.

According to the prosecution, they were members of a party of twenty men who were dismissed on 28th September, as there was no further work for them. When the dismissal was announced a crowd surrounded the ganger, Patrick Griffey, and declared in threatening language that if they were not allowed to work nobody else would work, that they had "used powder against the Black and Tans, would use it again, and did not care for the Free State or any other State."

The ganger said that "the whole mob were talking together, and he could not identify the accused in particular as having used the words complained of."

Mr. T. J. Hunt, solicitor for the accused, said that his clients had apologised to the ganger.

After hearing two other witnesses, John T. Moloney and James Hynes, neither of whom could identify the accused as having used the words complained of,

The Justice said that he did not think it was a case in which any good purpose would be served by sending the accused for trial. He would refuse informations, but, as the accused were admittedly in the crowd, he would order them to enter into their own surety of £50 and two sureties of £25 each to keep the peace for twelve months.

WINDING-UP WEMBLEY.

LIQUIDATORS TO BE APPOINTED.

The British Empire Exhibition at Wembley will be no more after the 31st inst., when a last ceremony will be performed by the Duke and Duchess of York.

The Exhibition will be placed in the charge of liquidators as soon as possible after its close, and for this purpose extraordinary general meetings of the British Empire Association will be held on October 26 and November 10.

The programme for the final day of the Exhibition will include the last performance of the Tattoo, which will start at seven instead of eight o'clock. This will be followed by a musical programme by the massed bands of the Brigade of Guards, and a big fireworks display. The bands will play patriotic and popular airs, winding up with "Auld Lang Syne."

It is understood that the Prince of Wales will visit the Tattoo in the course of this week.

IDLE COUNTY CORK FACTORY.

DUNLOP COMPANY TO BE ASKED TO TAKE IT OVER.

Mr. M. Mulcahy, at the meeting of the Midleton (Co. Cork) Council, referred to the new local industry established by the "Osobrite" Company, which, he said, should have the full support of the people. They had an enterprising company providing work for the unemployed of the town, and anything the Council could do in the matter of forwarding the project should be carried out by the members who, he was sure, were in full sympathy with the efforts of this company.

The Chairman (Dr. J. F. Walsh) said that he quite agreed with Mr. Mulcahy's remarks. They now had a factory convenient to the town—a factory which, he thought, had great prospects before it.

Continuing, the Chairman referred to the idle factory in the Mill road, and said that he had seen by the Press that the Dunlop Rubber Company were on the look out for a suitable site in the South.

Mr. Mulcahy said that this factory had the necessary equipment for all electrical purposes, and would be an ideal premises for the Dunlop people should they require it.

The Chairman proposed that their Town Clerk be instructed to write to this company requesting their representative to visit the premises with a view to taking it over for the purpose required.

Mr. Mulcahy seconded the proposition, which was unanimously adopted.

SCHOOLROOMS FLOODED.

ROOFS STRIPPED OF LEAD AT CARRICK-ON-SHANNON.

A particularly callous case of theft was brought to light last Friday evening when rain came through the roofs of the Presentation Brothers' National Schools at Carrick-on-Shannon, literally flooding the schoolrooms. On investigation it was found that the lead on the roofs had been cut up and carried away.

The matter was reported to the Civic Guards, who, assisted by detectives, within a short time located much of the stolen lead.

The schools were built by the people of the parish, and the robbery is strongly condemned.

UNKNOWN MAN'S FATE.

The body of a young man was found on the bank of the River Imber, near Comber, Co. Down, yesterday. Beside the body was a bottle labelled poison. The remains have not been identified.

FORCED TILLAGE.

THE GOVERNMENT'S BILL.

STATEMENT AT CLARE FARMERS' UNION.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

ENNIS, Saturday.

Colonel O'Callaghan Westropp, President of the Clare Farmers' Union, created some surprise at the meeting of the Union this afternoon by announcing that "a Compulsory Tillage Bill is actually in draft in a Government office in Dublin." This information, he stated, had been furnished to him by a responsible person connected with the Dail, who had also given him an indication of its main provisions. Those were:

(1) That every farmer who tills a certain proportion of his holding in excess of a fixed percentage will get a bonus of £3 an acre; and

(2) That every farmer who fails to till the minimum acreage specified by the Government will be fined, or will lose the proportion of the agricultural grant which would otherwise have gone to the relief of his poor rate.

Colonel O'Callaghan Westropp said that, although his information was not official, he was satisfied that it was substantially correct, and, if the farmers were not to be wholly crushed out of existence, they would have to take immediate action against the introduction or the passage of any such bill. In Clare, on a very low estimate, they had lost 12,000 head of cattle and sheep, valued, at least, at £120,000. They could not now pay rent, rates or annuities, and the Sheriff was out every day seizing the last surviving cow on many a farm. It looked as if the National troops and the Civic Guards would soon be asked to lay down their arms and truncheons in favour of crowbars and picks with which to level the houses of the people in default. It was appalling to think that the Government were able to find money for every conceivable purpose except that of assisting the farmer, or of helping the people of such counties as that to re-stock their land.

Last year the National Loan was shaken five or six points by the Army mutiny. Now he was told that in the coming estimates there would appear a sum of £900,000 to buy off the mutineers. He wondered how the country would take such a proposal. As to the proposed compulsory tillage, did the Government take into account such varying quantities as soil and climate, sunshine and rainfall? In the West their lands were unstocked and the farmers could not meet their obligations. In some Leinster counties it might be possible to till without actual loss, but the farmers in the West would have to pay the bonus to encourage them to do that, while at the same time they were to be penalised themselves by the stoppage of the agricultural grant.

UNREAL UNEMPLOYMENT.

Passing on to a general review of the position of the farming industry, Colonel O'Callaghan Westropp said that persistence in the "dole" policy, and the adoption by many workers of the "ca'canny" policy were responsible for much unreal unemployment, and for the fact that many workers had now become actually unemployable.

It was amazing that during the present year attack after attack had been made on interests and industries forming integral parts of the economic and social structure of the State. The loss due to failure to deal with the double income tax question could hardly be less than a million a year. They all remembered the President's unhappy attack on the business men, whom he called "antique furniture," although that was partially explained after it was discovered that at the time the President was distracted by differences amongst his Ministers. However, it was followed by threats to the banks, whilst the menace of legislation had shaken the confidence and ruffled the temper of the licensed trade. Then came the gratuitous attack on the medical profession and the medical schools. And now the full blast of the Government Party machine was turned on the luckless farmer, who was expected to go on producing at 40 per cent. increase in 1914 prices, whilst he had to pay out at 90 per cent. over those prices—a state of things which led straight to bankruptcy. It was not too much to say that the farmers' labour is slave labour, because on the plantations the slave received his food and was not compelled to share his master's losses, but the farmer was expected to continue in business at a loss, and to increase his production in the face of foreign competition, prohibitive transit rates, a difficult climate, and no assistance in elementary education, which was all that most of his class could receive.

MINISTERS' AERIAL RAIDS.

Elementary agriculture and domestic economy must be given a dominant place in primary schools if the next generation is to be progressive, and the speaker hoped that when the Minister for Education finished with the Boundary Commission he would be allowed to attend to the business of the Department in connection with which he drew his salary. It was rather curious that Ministers, for whom there was ample employment in their own spheres, were allowed to make aerial raids into other worlds. They had seen the Minister for Posts and Telegraphs organising and conducting the Tailteann Games, then Chief Director of the Party machine, and now Lecturer-in-Chief to the Irish farmer.

Mr. Walsh had reminded the Irish farmer at Bandon that he was "in closer proximity to the world's best market" than any of his competitors; but had he compared the respective freights? When all their rivals made a gallant show at Wembley and touted for the British market for their produce, the Free State alone stood aloof in an isolation, which, so far from being splendid, was intensely stupid and looked as if it were intensely sulky. Was subsidised tillage to be the panacea for agricultural depression, reduced bank clearings, falling exports and an adverse trade balance? Could anyone outside a lunatic asylum say how it would pay to produce more when the present price does not pay for the cost of production? How could a man be richer because a pickpocket after taking his money from one side of his clothes replaced it in the other? Was it seriously proposed that the poorest country in Western Europe should spend the last remains of its credit in subsidising uneconomic industry?

APPEAL TO LABOUR.

Continuing, Colonel O'C. Westropp said that he wondered if it were any use to appeal, not to the Government, but to Labour. At present Labour held the business of the State in a stranglehold, and, like the ivy, was fast killing the tree on which it grew. In Dublin the licensed grocers' assistants had enforced their claim for better pay and shorter hours. Therefore, the pint cost more than in England or even in the country. The Dublin docker needed the pint to do his full work, but, in order to pay the increased price for the pint he had to get increased wages. In every branch of industry they should frankly recognise that they would have to work longer hours and work harder, and for a much lower wage than they did during the British connection. The State was in real danger from a deliberate refusal to face facts and a tricking out of their nationality in garments that they could not afford.

ALLEGED LARCENY OF LACES.

PECULIAR BELFAST CASE.

In the Belfast Custody Court on last Saturday, John Moore, 33 Old Lodge road, and William Doig, 76 Royal avenue, were remanded till Friday next, bail being fixed in £20 and two sureties of £10 each. They were charged with the larceny, on July 24 last, of 97 boxes and 102 parcels of boot and shoe laces, contained in a wooden box, the property of Robert D. Wright, manufacturers' agent, Alfred street, and valued at £42 10s. 9d.

Constable John Hall stated that when he took Moore to the detective office he said: "I bought 40 boxes, a gross in each box, at 2s. each, about five or six weeks ago from the prisoner Doig. I have more in my shop on the Old Lodge road." Witness went to Doig's premises, and the latter denied selling the laces. As a result of further inquiries, witness charged Doig, but he made no statement. While in the charge office Moore said in Doig's hearing: "If this man told the truth I would not be here." Doig replied: "This man (Moore) has nothing to do with it. He got the laces from me." Moore said: "Why don't you tell the truth who you got them from?" and Doig said: "I have no chance now."

Accused were remanded as stated.

IN THE THEATRE AND CINEMA.

DUBLIN PROGRAMMES.

"Katja, the Dancer," pays a return visit to the Gaiety Theatre. The cast includes Sylvia Cecil, Babs Farren, as Patricia; Frances Daris, as Maude; Roy Russell, as the Prince; Gus Sharland, as the Count; Stratford Moss, as Simon, and Reginald Palmer as Leander. There will be a full chorus and an augmented orchestra.

On a vaudeville programme at the Theatre Royal are Dollie and Billie, comedians; Williams and Taylor, comedians and dancers; the Flying Banvards, gymnasts; Launcelot Quinn, baritone; Dolly and Inez, dancers; Dan Leno, jun.; Tom Cable, and Dot Carr, etc.

Mr. Brinsley McNamara's three-act comedy "The Glorious Uncertainty will be performed at the Abbey Theatre each night at 8 o'clock. There will be a matinée on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

The revue, "What'll I Do?" in twelve scenes, will be the attraction at the Olympia Theatre. The artists include the Sad Welsh Miners, Victor Leopold, Charles Conley, Millie Jillson, Winifred Laurie, Eddie Walker.

A musical version of the Irish-American drama, "Green Bushes," by G. J. Baldwin Buckstone, will be given at the Queen's Theatre. The Lennox Magee troupe will appear.

"The Moral Sinner," a new Paramount picture, will be shown at La Scala Theatre. Dorothy Dalton takes the rôle of a clever girl thief regenerated through her love for a young criminologist. James Rennie takes the leading male part.

"The Lost World," adapted from Conan Doyle's story, will be again shown throughout this week at the Metropole Cinema.

"Forty Winks," a film version of the stage production of Lord Chumley, will be the chief picture at the Carlton Cinema. Viola Dana, Theodore Roberts, and Raymond Griffith are included in the cast.

The Grafton Cinema's programme includes "Wages of Virtue" (Gloria Swanson) and "Famous Music Masters — Haydn and Mozart."

At the Grand Central Cinema "A Woman of Paris," written and directed by Charles Chaplin, will be the principal picture.

Alice Joyce and Kenneth Harlan will be seen in "The White Man" at the Sackville Picture House.

The Rotunda Cinema will have "Singer Jim McKee."

"The Stranger," with Dustin Farnum in the lead, will be exhibited at the Kingstown Picture House.

"Love's Wilderness," in which the chief parts are filled by Corinne Griffith and Holmes Herbert, will be on view at The Pavilion, Kingstown.

STATESMAN AND POET.

CENTENARY OF THOMAS D'ARCY McGEE.

Mr. James MacNeill, High Commissioner for the Free State, presided at Caxton Hall, London, last night, when Mr. Frank MacDonagh gave a lecture before the members of the Irish Literary Society on "The Centenary of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, Irish-Canadian Statesman and Poet."

Mr. MacDonagh said that the subject of his paper was a man who, although in the early years of his life was a revolutionary, became eventually the constitutional leader in Canada, and was responsible for the framing of the Constitution, such as we knew it in Canada to-day, and as it had been accepted by the Irish Free State.

He was a brilliant orator, and played a notable part on the platform in America in opposition to the agitation which was being carried on in the country against Irish immigration by a body called "The Know-Nothing Party." McGee took the platform against this movement, and his newspaper was the champion of the Irish race in America. He sought to make the Irishmen good citizens, and established night schools in New York for Irish children, and so successful were they that the system upon which they were organised was copied by all the large States of the American Union.

McGee removed from the United States to Montreal in 1857, and advocated in his paper the union of the provinces of Canada, and the Dominion of Canada first took its place among the Federal States of the world in July, 1867. It was McGee who brought about the creation of the office of Governor-General of Canada, and when Sir John MacDonald became Prime Minister McGee took office under him.

The last ten years of his career was spent in Canada, but he confessed that, though intense was the interest he took in the country and all that belonged to it, yet is did not supply a field of mental labour and affectionate inspiration which Ireland would have done. He edited a paper in Montreal, practised at the Canadian Bar, wrote his popular history of Ireland, and frequently wrote ballads on Irish subjects. In April, 1868, he was struck down by an assassin in Ottawa when returning from the Parliament House, and, curious enough, it was at that very hour that Mr. Gladstone was extolling his service to Canada in the British House of Commons.

HOLYHEAD'S NEW NAME.

SOME COMMENTS AND NEW SPELLINGS FOR KINGSTOWN.

The change in the name of Holyhead to Caergybi is commented upon by several English Sunday papers, and two of the efforts to spell the name Dun Laoghaire are evidence of the poor success that has attended the efforts to familiarise the Saxon with the Gaelic substitute for Kingstown. The following quotations are given textually:—

CLUE FOR CROSSWORD PUZZLE.

What's in a name? cried Juliet, and, Pilate-like, would not stay for an answer. Not so the Holyhead Town Council; for that resolute body attaches sufficient importance to a name to exchange Holyhead for the old Welsh Caergybi, "the fort of Gybi." Kingstown has grown to Dunaoghaire of late years; and now the passenger to Ireland may start in as Celtic a frame of mind as he will end in. Caergybi. It is a comfortable name, round and well-nourished; though, perhaps, lacking in those tongue-twisting qualities which are pre-eminent in Pwllheli or Machynlleth.

A name which you all know by sight very well,
But which no one can speak, and no one can spell.

Caergybi. Yes, certainly an excellent clue for the crossword puzzle. But the Post Office and the railway company still have to be informed of the change. We have heard of Irishmen who patriotically refused to issue tickets to Kingstown. Is it not possible that the Englishman may refuse to send his letters via Caergybi?—Sunday Times.

REASONS FOR NAMES.

It looks as if the passion for changing names had crossed St. George's Channel, for Holyhead has decided, by a vote of its Town Council, to take the title of Caergybi (the fort of Gybi). But Holyhead's modern function is not a fort but a railway station; and it seems to have overlooked the fact that the name of a place is not what it wants to call itself, but what other people want to call it. Mr. Long or Mr. Whitehead do not bear those names because their ancestors chose them, but they were imposed on their ancestors by the will of the community. Possibly that factor will be represented in the present case by the railway company and the Postmaster-General.—The Observer.

HISTORIC.

The news that Holyhead is now to be called Caergybi will not affect many people. They will continue to call it Holyhead, a euphonious name suggestive of beauty, reminiscent of history. Officially, Kingstown is now spelled Dun Laochaire and pronounced Dunleary; but no one minds. As for Cork, it has some strange new title that not one person remembers. Oslo means nothing to anybody, until he remembers Christiania; Leningrad is sometimes called Petrograd, and even St. Petersburg, to this day. This fashion for changing names is a nuisance. We are still friends with the French; but we continue to call a station after Waterloo and our largest square after Trafalgar. Indeed, the French Financial Attaché has his office in Trafalgar House, Waterloo place, to this day!—Sunday Express.

ACCIDENT TO DUBLIN WOMAN.

Suffering from shock and injury to the lip, which necessitated three stitches, Mrs. K. Bryan, Charleville avenue, North Strand, Dublin, was treated in Jervis street Hospital last night. The injuries were sustained through the capsizing of a car in which she was driving at Kilcock yesterday evening.

ANOTHER CIVIL WAR IN CHINA.

"INEVITABLE."

SHANGHAI'S CAPTURE MAY AFFECT CONFERENCE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

SHANGHAI, Sunday.

Marshal Sun Chuan Feng, by his coup d'état in taking this city, and effectively eliminating the Feng Tien influence from the Lower Yangtsze valley, has, it is believed, forestalled the possibility of the foreign Powers carrying out their tariff conference on the lines envisaged at the Washington parley.

This is the belief here to-day, based on the recent interview given by Marshal Sun, opposing the conference, and on the consequent rallying of the radical student and labour elements to his standards.

Owing to Marshal Chang Tso Ling's tactics of suppressing student and labour activities in the territory under his jurisdiction, and Feng Tien's support of the Powers' programme for a policy of moderate tariff revision, Chang is now accused of pro-foreignism.

The possibility exists that the radical Kuo Ming Tang group may join the rejuvenated Chih Li faction in the demand that China should refuse to negotiate with the Powers except on the basis of a complete treaty revision.

The Shanghai Student and Labour leaders are publishing declarations hailing Marshal Sun Chuan Fang, whose troops occupy the city, as the great deliverer and patriot who drove the Feng Tien traitors from Shanghai. The vernacular paper, representing the Labour Unions, in its editorial, says:—"The workers of Sun Chuan Fang's forces have reached Shanghai and Feng Tien has fled. Martial law has been rescinded and the General Labour Union headquarters soon will be re-opened and the imprisoned workers released. Let us prepare a great celebration for the renaissance of the Labour Unions. Long live our fellow-workers and the unions."

Rumours are prevalent that Marshal Chang Chung Chang, Military Governor of Shantung, is wavering in his loyalty. The situation in the Shanghai districts has been quiet. Thus far it has not been necessary for the foreign concessions to mobilise their volunteers.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENTS.

PEKING, Sunday.

Chinese opinion generally is that war between the provinces of Chekiang and Kiangsu is almost inevitable. Officials, however, express the hope that the conflict, if it starts, will not spread elsewhere or affect the opening of the Tariff Conference.

SHANGHAI, Sunday.

The triangular character of the military situation in China renders it a most interesting one. The partisans of Marshal Wu Pei Fu control the provinces of Hupeh and Chekiang, and Marshal Chang Tso Lin has not interfered with either province, fearing that, if he sent large forces south of the Yangtse, Feng Yu Hsiang, the so-called Christian General, might cut them off.

Wu Pei Fu's strongest supporter, General Sun Chuan Fang, the Chekiang leader, has now announced the combination of five provinces against Chang Tso Lin, and it is reported that three other provinces are preparing to support Wu Pei Fu, including that of Honan, where Yu Wei Chun, a former supporter of General Feng Yu Hsiang, commands a force of 180,000 men, most of whom were formerly the picked troops of Marshal Wu Pei Fu.

Hitherto Marshal Wu Pei Fu has not personally identified himself with the state of war between General Sun Chuan Fang and Marshal Chang Tso Lin; while General Feng Yu Hsiang is lying low, ready, apparently, to attack anyone when the moment appears opportune.

There is, however, no reason to believe that Marshal Wu Pei Fu is ready to bury the hatchet so far as General Feng Yu Hsiang is concerned.

Chang Tso Lin and Feng Yu Hsiang both command well equipped armies, each of a strength of upwards of 200,000, not including many waverers, whose defection in favour of Wu Pei Fu would give the latter a numerical equality with each of his rivals.

Wu Pei Fu's plan is apparently to extend and consolidate his central position during the winter, and to await the conflict between Chang Tso Lin and Feng Yu Hsiang, which seems inevitable.

The immediate question is whether Chang Tso Lin or Feng Yu Hsiang will interfere in the meantime.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.

HONG KONG, Sunday.

After three months of isolation Shameen, the foreign presidential quarter of Canton, has been partially re-opened. Many foreigners have ventured into the Chinese city, and several have been arrested by the strikers. These include two Canadian Sisters of Mercy. Other foreigners were turned back, and warned to remain in Shameen until they had received permission to enter Canton from the Strike Committee.

HAY BURNED BY RAIDERS

STEWARD BOUND AND GAGGED.

A daring outrage was committed at Pallaskenry, County Limerick, in the early hours of Saturday morning, when four masked and armed men raided the house owned by a farmer named M'Givery, which is in charge of a steward named Patterson.

The raiders bound and gagged Patterson, who states that several shots were discharged close to him, but he escaped injury.

Before the raiders left they burned a barn of hay, which is valued at £180, and also an outhouse.

After a time Patterson was able to release himself, and made his way to the Civic Guards station at Adare, where he reported the outrage, which is attributed to agrarian trouble.

A COSTLY JOKE.

SMUGGLING GOODS INTO THE FREE STATE.

Stating that he was satisfied accused meant to evade the regulations, Justice Louis Walsh at a Special Court in Letterkenny fined James Lynch £5, or, in default, three weeks' imprisonment, on a charge of attempting to smuggle dutiable goods into the Free State.

Accused was unable to pay, and was removed to Sligo Jail.

John McLean, Customs officer, on duty at St. Johnston Station, saw the accused with a parcel. He gave evasive, unsatisfactory answers. The parcel contained clothing and an old pair of boots. Accused was wearing new boots.

Accused, giving evidence, stated that he had been working in County Londonderry, and did not know the new law. He meant it only as a joke.

MERCHANT CHARGED.

Mr. Hayley Morriss (37), a wealthy merchant, owner of a mansion and large estate at Nutley (Sussex), and Madeline Roberts (20), housekeeper, were charged, at Uckfield (Sussex) last Saturday, with conspiring to procure a girl aged 15½. Both were remanded in custody. The police, in opposing bail, said a far more serious charge might be preferred against Morriss, who is the brother of Mr. H. E. Morriss, owner of Manna, this year's Derby winner.

THE LATE CANON SHEEHAN.

DONERAILE MEMORIAL TO PRIEST NOVELIST.

FROM OUR OWN REPORTER.

MALLOW, Sunday.

The Canon Sheehan National Memorial was unveiled at Doneraile to-day in the presence of a large gathering of people, many of whom had travelled from distant parts of the country to be present at the ceremony. The town was specially decorated for the occasion with flags, banners and evergreens. On the banners were hung portraits of the late Canon Sheehan, and nearly all bore the inscription: "To God and Ireland True." The houses of the town were all profusely decorated, and many had pictures of the late Canon hung up outside the doors.

The memorial consists of a simple carved stone pedestal, suitably inscribed in Irish and English, surmounted by a finely-wrought life-size figure in bronze of the late Canon, the work of Mr. Francis Doyle Jones, London. It stands in the centre of the quadrangle opposite the parish church, close to the spot where the remains of its subject are laid.

UNVEILING CEREMONY.

Before the unveiling ceremony High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Browne, S.J. The Most Rev. Dr. Browne presided at the Mass, and was assisted at the throne by the Very Rev. Canon Drury, P.P., Doneraile, and Monsignor Verling, Perth, Australia.

The simple ceremony of unveiling the memorial was performed by the Most Rev. Dr. Browne, after which Sheila O'Sullivan, a little Doneraile girl, laid a holly wreath at the base of the monument. One of the late Canon's hymns was sung by the girls of the convent schools, accompanied by the Greenmount Boys' Band from Cork.

Addressing a great meeting after the ceremony, the Bishop of Cloyne referred to the great life work of the late Pastor of Doneraile. They were, he said, perpetuating the memory of an illustrious Irishman, a great priest, a Christian gentleman, and an author of European fame. No one had ever known him to utter a bitter word, "and I, who knew him so well, think it but fitting to say these few words."

A WISE COUNSELLOR.

In an eloquent panegyric, the Rev. M. J. Phelan, S.J., said that Canon Sheehan's reputation as a writer was a national asset, but he was too big to be confined within the walls of one parish. He had linked the name of Doneraile to immortality. In honouring his memory they were also paying high homage to their native parish. Canon Sheehan had made the novel an instrument to elevate and spiritualise the lives of men. Most novelists painted the exterior life of their country, but he subordinated all his characters to the grand purpose of flinging on the canvas the inner life of the entire nation. When Canon Sheehan entered the realms of fiction he did so with a high purpose. He did not seek fame, but fame sought him.

Moving a vote of thanks to Father Phelan, Lord Castletown said that besides being his friend, Canon Sheehan had also been his wise counsellor and loyal companion. "It was Canon Sheehan's advice and help which, more than anything else, put me in a position to fashion what eventually became the National University of Ireland," added Lord Castletown. "It is my hope that the memory of so great and remarkable a man will be an inspiration to all generations of Irishmen."

STREET SCENE IN DUBLIN.

POLICEMAN AND COAL WORKER INJURED.

Another street attack on coal workers in Dublin took place on Saturday night, and resulted in a man named Fitzpatrick and a member of the Civic Guard being rather badly mauled by a crowd.

Constable Whelan, who was in civilian clothes, was accompanying Fitzpatrick, who works for the Coal Owners' Association, to his home, and when passing along City quay they were surrounded by a crowd of about thirty men. Both were struck with iron bars, and the constable had to use his revolver to scatter the attackers. He and Fitzpatrick were taken to Mercer's Hospital. Fitzpatrick was detained for further treatment.

Later in the evening the police arrested Laurence Walsh, coal labourer, Townsend street, and he will be charged this morning in the Police Court.

LURGAN CHURCH BI-CENTENARY.

PRIMATE'S CLOSING ADDRESS.

The Lord Primate, Dr. D'Arcy, yesterday forenoon closed the week's services in connection with the 200th anniversary of the consecration of the present site of the Shankill (Lurgan) Parish Church.

Lurgan, he said, was a very interesting place, established early in the beginning of the 19th century. It was quite a modern towns compared with the City of Armagh, which was founded about the years 444-445 by St. Patrick. In the year 1619, Lurgan had 42 families. These were virtually all destroyed in the dark days of 1641, and the town was restored in 1690.

The growth of Lurgan was very instructive, because it marked the growth and development of the North of Ireland, not only in industrial, but in religious matters. The population in 1831 was 2,842 inhabitants, and in 1911 12,500.

As regards the Parish of Shankill, which included the country districts; in 1831 its population was 7,700, and in 1911 14,700, and virtually double. There were many brilliant theologians connected with the history of the parish, including the Rev. Knox, Vicar-General of the United Diocese of Connor and Dromore; the Rev. John Gibbs, Dean Campbell (a notable figure in this diocese), and Dean O'Loughlin (recently retired).

HURLING MATCH FRACAS.

"SPLIT WITH A WELT."

At the Kells Circuit Court, before Judge Doyle, Thomas O'Dare, Trim, sued R. Mullen, Kells, for £100 damages, for assault at the Navan Show Grounds.

The plaintiff said that he was at a hurling match between Kells and Trim, at Navan, on July 12th. Griffin, one of the Trim players, was hurt, and the match was stopped. He went over to see what was the matter, and Mullen ran and give him a box in the face. He then swung a hurley over his head and "split my head with a welt." The plaintiff added that he was brought to the Meath Infirmary, where he had four stitches put in his head.

Nugent, a member of the Trim team, said that he saw Mullen strike O'Dare with his fist and the handle of a hurley.

Defendant said that he struck O'Dare in self-defence.

Mr. B. Carolan said that he heard O'Dare use a lot of offensive language, particularly towards Mullen, who gave him a shove. O'Dare then came on with a half-hurley and raised it over his head. Mullen struck him.

Judge Doyle said that he did not accept O'Dare's account of the affair. It was lamentable that there was not more restraint and control on the occasion. He did not feel justified in giving a decree, and dismissed the action.

FUNERAL OF ARCHDEACON POWER.

The funeral of Archdeacon Power, P.P., which took place at Dungarvan on Saturday after Requiem Mass, the celebrant of which was Dean Walsh, St. Mary's, Clonmel, was very largely attended by people of all classes in the town and the surrounding country. The burial took place close to the entrance to the church to which he was so much attached, and which he did so much to beautify during his life.

BALLYBAY FLAX MARKET RE-OPENS.

After being closed for more than ten years, the Ballybay flax market re-opened on last Saturday, and there was a good tonnage of superior fibre on offer. Prices ranged from 12s. to 14s. per stone.

FATAL DUBLIN MOTOR ACCIDENT.

CHARGE AGAINST A MINISTER.

INFORMATIONS REFUSED.

Informations were refused by Mr. Cussen in the Dublin District Court last Saturday at the conclusion of the hearing of the charge against Mr. James Burke, Minister for Local Government, of the manslaughter of John Jennings, a labourer, who was knocked down by a motor car driven by the Minister at Pembroke road on the 12th inst., and who died, shortly after admission to the City of Dublin Hospital, from shock and bleeding following a fracture of the base of the skull.

Mr. D. O'Flaherty, of the State Solicitor's Office, appeared for the prosecution.

Mr. Maguire, K.C. (instructed by Mr. Shiel), appeared for the Minister, who was present on remand; and Mr. J. V. Brady, solicitor, for the next-of-kin.

"LOOK OUT!"

James Jackson, a fitter employed by the Tramways Company, said that, when standing at the corner of Elgin road waiting for a tramcar, he saw Jennings, who was about seven feet from the footpath. He could not see whether Jennings was walking or standing at the time. He saw a motor car coming in the direction of the city and shouted to Jennings, "Look out!" Jennings apparently had his back turned to him. The car then swerved, and the left mudguard seemed to strike Jennings on the legs. Jennings wobbled and fell against the side of the motor car and the step-board, and was on the ground when the car swerved on into the footpath.

Replying to Mr. O'Flaherty, the witness said that the car stopped about twelve yards from where Jennings was lying. When he saw the car about five yards away it was going at the rate of about six miles an hour.

Cross-examined by Mr. Maguire, he said that he could not say whether Jennings heard him shout or not. He did not notice him turning to go back across the road, nor did he see him hesitate. He was perfectly clear that no part of the car went over him.

Mr. Cussen—Is the road "up" at this point?—Not quite at the point, but a little bit further on.

By Mr. Maguire—The driver of the car did everything humanly possible to avoid Jennings by swerving.

John Brien, who stated that he was about fifty yards from the scene of the accident, said that Jennings was about three feet from the pathway when he was struck by the car. The car came at a fast pace, and when about thirty or forty yards from the scene it swerved to the right. When Jennings was struck by the car he turned in the air and fell on the road. The car then ran up on the footpath and turned.

Mr. Maguire asked the witness did he agree that at the time of the accident the car was going only at six miles an hour.

The witness replied that he did not.

HESITATED ON ROAD.

James Croke said that he was cycling in front of the motor car, and when approaching the place where were the obstructions, caused by the breaking up of the road, he got off his bicycle to give the driver of the car a clear road. He saw a man stepping off the footpath. The man seemed to realise that he was in danger and stood. Then he made a step forward, and afterwards turned back towards the footpath. The left wing of the car struck him, and he fell. The witness did not hear a horn sounded. He jumped on his bicycle and went for the ambulance.

Mr. Maguire—If the man had not hesitated the accident would not have occurred?—I have not the slightest doubt it would not have occurred.

Mr. Burke was doing his best to avoid the accident?—Yes; he made a desperate attempt to get clear of him.

Mr. Cussen complimented the witness on his promptitude in going for the ambulance.

Dr. Sless, of the City of Dublin Hospital, said that when he saw Jennings in hospital he had a fracture of the base of the skull and was unconscious.

Replying to Mr. Maguire, the witness said that, considering the man's physique, a fall on his head on the road would have been likely to cause the fracture.

Sergeant Quinn, in answer to Mr. Maguire, said that it was necessary, on account of the obstructions on the road, for the car to keep over to the right-hand side.

This concluded the evidence.

Mr. O'Flaherty asked that informations should be returned.

Mr. Maguire submitted that informations should not be returned, as there was no case to go to a jury against Mr. Burke. It was an unfortunate accident, resulting in the death of this man. No one regretted it more than Mr. Burke, and no one could have been more prompt in expressions of sympathy. Mr. Burke attended at the hospital and did everything he could, and counsel submitted that there was no responsibility for the accident on him. It was perfectly clear from the evidence that the man hesitated. If he had either gone on or stood there would have been no accident, but he hesitated, and by reason of that the accident occurred.

QUESTION OF SPEED.

Mr. Cussen—If your client was travelling at such a slow pace as suggested he could have stopped before he struck the man. The evidence of John Brien is that he was travelling at a very fast pace. If he slowed down, it is unexplained why he did not stop. To say that he could not go to the left is no answer. The cyclist, scenting danger, stopped. You must exercise your own discretion whether you will put your client in the box at all.

Mr. Maguire—If your worship has any doubt about it——

Mr. Cussen—I have. On the evidence before me I would send it for trial.

Mr. Maguire said that the evidence of the doctor made it clear that Jennings was an extremely heavy man and that a collision or even a fall would injure him.

MR. BURKE'S EVIDENCE.

Mr. Burke was then called by Mr. Maguire, and said that the deceased man walked from the footpath towards the débris and, when he had gone several paces across the roadway, stood for a second and then went on and came back. The witness did not see that he could have done anything but what he did. If he had turned to the left he would have been on the workmen and the rubbish on that side, and he did not feel that he could pull up the car, because the man turned only about two yards from where the car was. He might have been able to bring the car to a stand-still, but he felt that if he had done so he "would have smashed the man." He thought that he had avoided the accident, and it was only when he tried to bring the car back that he saw that the man had been hit.

Mr. Cussen said that he would like to hear something about the speed.

Mr. Burke said that when going towards Elgin road he was travelling at twelve to fifteen miles an hour, but he was not going as fast as that at Elgin road. He would say the speed there would be eight to twelve miles an hour. He changed the gear about forty yards away from the accident.

Mr. O'Flaherty did not ask the witness any questions.

In reply to Mr. Cussen, the witness said that he had been driving since 1911.

Mr. Cussen said that he was satisfied that the defendant was not guilty of such a degree of criminal negligence as would establish a prima facie charge of murder or manslaughter. The evidence given by Mr. Burke satisfied him that his speed was not excessive, and that, had the man continued on his way, no accident would have occurred. Under the circumstances, he could not hold that there was a case in which any jury would convict, and, accordingly, he refused informations.

PASSING OF CLONMEL BREWERY.

DECISION TO PUT IT ON THE MARKET.

Following a general meeting of the company, it was decided to place Clonmel Brewery on the market for sale.

This brewery, the property of Messrs. Thomas Murphy and Co., is one of the oldest in the South, and carried on a flourishing trade up to the great war in the manufacture of stout, ale, and minerals. Over 100 hands were employed, and there were branch offices in Cahir, Tipperary, Dungarvan, Galway, and elsewhere. Since the great war trade has been declining, and the staff gradually reduced.

U.S MARKETS.

WEAK CLOSING OF STOCKS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Saturday.

On the Stock Market to-day there were wild fluctuations both ways in Motors and high-priced Industrials and Specialities. Trading was unprecedented for a Saturday, and the final transaction was not reported on the "ticker" until thirty minutes after the usual closing period. Early buoyancy was attributed to unconfirmed rumours of competitive buying of Motors, prospects of sustained money owing to the large gold influx, an outlook for a slashing "cut" in the income taxes, the activities of speculative syndicates, optimistic tenour of business reports, and gratification over the outcome of the Locarno Conference. General Motors advanced 5 points to 137, and some other Motors and Specialities rose 5 to 11 points; United States Steel Common touched 128½. The market then collapsed under an avalanche of selling for both accounts, fostered by uneasiness over the extraordinary fluctuations, and a belief that the technical position is unstable. Dupont Common fell 11 points from the high level, General Motors and Hudson Motors 10, Cast Iron Pipe 8, Chrysler Motors 7, and numerous others 3 to 6 points. The market closed weak. Government Bonds steady. Railroad Bonds steady. The day's sales totalled 1,730,000 shares.

DIVIDE THE LAND.

THREE-PARTY MEETING IN CO. TIPPERARY.

A largely attended public meeting in [illegible] County Tipperary, yesterday, passed a resolution demanding the division of the ranch lands among the representatives of the evicted tenant, small farmers and landless men, including ex-I.R.A. men of the different political sections.

Letters regretting inability to attend, and wishing the objects of the meeting success, were received from Messrs. James Burke, Minister for Local Government; J. J. Walsh, Minister for Posts and Telegraphs; Patrick Ryan, Daniel Breen, T.D.; Daniel Morrissey, T.D.; and others. A communication was also received from Mr. M. R. Heffernan, T.D.

Mr. Edward Mansfield, ex-President, Irish National Teachers' Organisation, and Chairman of the local Land Settlement Committee, who presided, expressed regret that Mr. Dan Breen was unable to attend owing to illness. Mr. Breen was at one with Mr. Burke and Mr. J. J. Walsh in supporting the movement for the break-up of the big ranches. The co-operation of all these, with Mr. Dalton, T.D., in this matter was, they trusted, an augury of national good-will and co-operation among all the progressive elements in this country.

Continuing, Mr. Mansfield said that at present there were men trying to dominate all departments of our national and economical life who would be almost ashamed to show their heads in a united Ireland. The rancher who prated so gladly about the "rights of property," forgetful of the more than doubtful methods by which his right in it was acquired, was now availing himself of all the old reactionary elements to dig himself in to fight the rights of the people and human needs, which transcended the rights of property, however strong, and also to evade the law of the land, for which he professed so great a respect.

"REASONABLE COMPENSATION."

The division of the lands locally, besides helping to stem emigration, would help towards increased production and the development of trade, and would strengthen the State financially and politically by the large amount of indirect taxation and the increase in the number of contented people which would result, and which would be the best guarantee of national stability.

He claimed that the law of the land—the Land Act of 1923—should be carried out, not only as regarded the abolition of landlordism, but in the wider sphere of the economic distribution of the land; and he suggested that the ranchers, who were constantly professing their respect for the law should now bow to its decisions and not set themselves up as obstacles to national progress. That meeting favoured reasonable, but not exhorbitant, compensation to the "ranch lords."

THREE DESERVING CLASSES.

Mr. L. J. Dalton, T.D., said that the division of the ranches would be a security to the entire people. Increased production would stimulate trade and place the farmers in a better position to educate their children, and would also help to retard our present economic decline. He hoped that the powers which the recent Land Act conferred would be carried into effect by the Land Commissioners, for the value to the nation of a proper economic working of the land would be incalculable. It was impossible on the small holdings to carry out properly a scheme for the improvement of dairying and other stock.

There were three classes who deserved special consideration in this matter—the evicted tenants, the workers and the men of the old I.R.A.

Mr. Mansfield stressed the claims of the old I.R.A., and earnestly hoped that the cordial co-operation shown there on that platform would prove to be the beginning of a better understanding between all the forces which were working for the full realisation of the national ideal.

Mr. P. O'Brien, Organising Secretary of the Tipperary Branch of the Transport and General Workers' Union, speaking on behalf of the workers, supported the claim for a division of the ranches.

MR. BEVIN ON O.M.S.

Mr. Ernest Bevin criticising the O.M.S. (Organisation for the Maintenance of Supplies) at a meeting in London last night, described it as the "Order of Mugs and Scabs." Recently, he said, one Government Department asked him to serve on a Government Committee, and at the same time another Government Department deputed detectives to watch him at Bristol. "It was a good job that I didn't tell the dockers there that I was being watched," added Mr. Bevin.

BECTIVE RANGERS v. INSTONIANS, AT DONNYBROOK LAST SATURDAY.—Though hard-pressed, Arigho succeeds in clearing the ball.

From Steam to Chilly Wind

YOU'VE been busy over that tub—washing's hard work—what with the lifting, rubbing and wringing.

Then you go outside to hang them out. You must stand still while you do it—all hot as you are. There's a chilly wind blowing. It may be a good drying day; but is it any wonder that you catch cold?

Some day a cold will catch you—all unprepared. Then be on your guard. Keep Velocium handy. It's the safest insurance against the whole bunch of troubles that start with a cold.

Velocium, the extract of an oriental plant, nas penetrative antiseptic properties which go right to the root of the trouble in a sure but gentle way.

Its virtuous properties are imparted to the blood-stream with the food; the fortified blood circulates through the tissues of the body and reaches the mucous membrane which lines the throat, nose and mouth and covers the lungs. The healing, soothing properties of Velocium relieve the congestion, hasten the off-throw of excessive mucus, and away goes your cold.

A Word to Wise Husbands

YOUR wife, good soul, in her daily round, will go on working for you and the family with scant regard for her own health or a thought of the risks she runs.

Point out to her the wisdom of keeping Velocium in the house ready for use against invading chills and colds.

Anyone caught unawares—be it your wife or yourself—runs great risk of a serious illness at this time of the year.

It isn't 'fussy' to keep Velocium handy and take it at the very first symptom, it's just common sense. Don't you agree?

Velocium is sold in tablet form in sealed glass Emergency Tubes 1/3; Home size 3/- per box; Large size 5/- per box. Of all the best chemists.

DIVIDE THE LAND.

THREE-PARTY MEETING IN CO. TIPPERARY.

A largely attended public meeting in ...tt County Tipperary, yesterday, passed resolution demanding the division of the ...ch lands among the representatives of the ...al evicted tenants, small farmers and ...dless men, including ex-I.R.A. men of the ...erent political sections.

Letters regretting inability to attend, and ...hing the objects of the meeting success, ...re received from Messrs. James Burke, ...nister for Local Government; J. J. Walsh, ...nister for Posts and Telegraphs; Patrick ...an, Daniel Breen, T.D.; Daniel Morrisey, ...D.; and others. A communication was also ...eived from Mr. M. R. Heffernan, T.D.

Mr. Edward Mansfield, ex-President, Irish ...tional Teachers' Organisation, and Chair...n of the local Land Settlement Committee, ...o presided, expressed regret that Mr. Dan ...een was unable to attend owing to illness. ...r. Breen was at one with Mr. Burke and ...r. J. J. Walsh in supporting the movement ...r the break-up of the big ranches. The ...operation of all these, with Mr. Dalton, ...D., in this matter was, they trusted, an ...gury of national good-will and co-operation ...ong all the progressive elements in this ...untry.

Continuing, Mr. Mansfield said that at ...esent there were men trying to dominate ... departments of our national and economical ... who would be almost ashamed to show ... heads in a united Ireland. The rancher ...ho prated so gladly about the "rights of ...roperty," forgetful of the more than doubtful methods by which his right in it was ...cquired, was now availing himself of all the ...old reactionary elements to dig himself in to ... the rights of the people and human needs, which transcended the rights of property, however strong, and also to evade the law of the land, for which he professed so great a respect.

"REASONABLE COMPENSATION."

The division of the lands locally, besides helping to stem emigration, would help towards increased production and the development of trade, and would strengthen the State financially and politically by the large amount of indirect taxation and the increase in the number of contented people which would result, and which would be the best guarantee of national stability.

He claimed that the law of the land—the Land Act of 1923—should be carried out, not only as regarded the abolition of landlordism, but in the wider sphere of the economic distribution of the land; and he suggested that the ranchers, who were constantly professing their respect for the law should now bow to its decisions and not set themselves up as obstacles to national progress. That meeting favoured reasonable, but not exhorbitant, compensation to the "ranch lords."

THREE DESERVING CLASSES.

Mr. L. J. Dalton, T.D., said that the division of the ranches would be a security to the entire people. Increased production would stimulate trade and place the farmers in a better position to educate their children, and would also help to retard our present economic decline. He hoped that the powers which the recent Land Act conferred would be carried into effect by the Land Commissioners, for the value to the nation of a proper economic working of the land would be incalculable. It was impossible on the small holdings to carry out properly a scheme for the improvement of dairying and other stock.

There were three classes who deserved special consideration in this matter—the evicted tenants, the workers and the men of the old I.R.A.

Mr. Mansfield stressed the claims of the old I.R.A., and earnestly hoped that the cordial co-operation shown there on that platform would prove to be the beginning of a better understanding between all the forces which were working for the full realisation of the national ideal.

Mr. P. O'Brien, Organising Secretary of the Tipperary Branch of the Transport and General Workers' Union, speaking on behalf of the workers, supported the claim for a division of the ranches.

MR. BEVIN ON O.M.S.

Mr. Ernest Bevin criticising the O.M.S. (Organisation for the Maintenance of Supplies) at a meeting in London last night, described it as the "Order of Mugs and Scabs." Recently, he said, one Government Department asked him to serve on a Government Committee, and at the same time another Government Department deputed detectives to watch him at Bristol. "It was a good job that I didn't tell the dockers there that I was being watched," added Mr. Bevin.

FREE STATE'S PROGRESS.

labour in rural areas a rate greatly in excess of that which prevails for the agricultural worker.

A DISCOVERY.

I wish it to be clearly understood that in what I have to say I make no suggestion that responsible leaders or officials of Labour unions are consciously playing the game of those who desire to keep this country a kind of economic kitchen garden for another country, and to restrict and hamper any tendency to industrial development. There are, however, some things happening in connection with this Shannon scheme which it would be well that they, in common with the general public, should know and ponder on. Certain information has reached me within the last few weeks which, on reflection and after consultation with my colleagues, I have decided to mention here to-day.

Persons resident in Dublin City and suburbs have been canvassed during the last month to join, or subscribe to, a secret organisation, the object of which is described as being "to combat certain anti-British trade tendencies" which are supposed to be manifesting themselves within the Free State. The agent who canvasses for recruits or subscriptions, an ex-officer, is outspoken in favour of the useful future, which, with an increasing membership and exchequer, he foresees for his organisation. Just at the moment, he explains, they are concentrating on the Shannon scheme, fomenting disturbance and difficulties of one kind and another, and have good hopes of being in a position ultimately to render the project abortive. Having achieved that, he feels sure that further fields for useful endeavour will present themselves.

DEVELOPMENTS TO GO ON.

There are no "anti-British" trade tendencies here that I am aware of. You have here an undeveloped country lacking in many respects that technical equipment which would enable its own citizens to take the initiative in schemes of improvement and development. Other countries have realised that, and have been quick to make either to the Government or to local authorities proposals which on careful examination seemed mutually advantageous. That is why there are Belgians in Carlow, Germans in Limerick, Frenchmen about to instal an improved cleansing system in Dublin. No rival proposals were forthcoming in these matters from British sources, and when British engineers or commercial men have the vision to see and the initiative to undertake and exploit an opportunity they will find the same readiness to do business with them. We are not sentimentalists in matters of trade development.

I am forced to the conclusion that it is not the development of the country through the medium of Frenchmen or Germans, Belgians or Americans, that is objected to, but simply the development of the country. That process of development is going to continue. It is going to continue despite any forces, secret or open, that are called into existence to obstruct it. If at any time the situation seems to require it, if at any time the activities which I have indicated become any less negligible, any less contemptible than they are at present, the Executive Council will seek from the Dail the fullest powers requisite to deal with them.

DRAINAGE AND ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

I think that we may leave that unpleasant topic there for the moment. I am not suggesting—and I wish to stress the fact—that the wage difficulty which has caused a cessation of work in Limerick is directly due to a conspiracy to render the Shannon project abortive. I do not believe that myself, and I have no desire to suggest what I do not believe. But such a conspiracy exists—I have, unfortunately, evidence of its existence—and those occupying pivotal positions in organised labour bodies or in organised bodies of ex-servicemen, British or Irish, would do well to watch for and beware of its agents, who will endeavour to exploit and bedevil for their own ends the situation created by the stoppage.

No survey, however hurried and general, of the activities of the Government would be complete without some reference to what has been done in the important spheres of drainage and road improvement. One hears frequent reference to the satisfactory condition of the roads. Between September, 1923, and September, 1925, the sum of £2,238,653 was made available by the Government for works of improvement and reconstruction on roads and bridges, and about £1,370,466 has been spent. The total sum expended by the British Government on road works between 1909 and 1922 was less than £700,000. In addition to the amount referred to as definitely allocated to road work, a sum of half a million pounds was made available for relief works last winter, and probably not less than £200,000 of that sum was spent on improving the roads.

THE BARROW AREA.

For many years before the Treaty arterial drainage, a matter of great importance to the farmer, had been almost completely negelected. Most of the old systems had been allowed to fall into disrepair. No new schemes were undertaken. The legislative machinery was indeed considerably out of date. The Government has shown by legislation and action in the last two years its determination to remedy that state of affairs. The Drainage Maintenance Act, passed in 1924, enables us to restore districts which had become partially or wholly derelict. Already this summer the restoration was undertaken of 27 such districts and 2,750 men were employed on that work. There is one such district here in your own neighbourhood to which the Government has given a free grant of £400, which is quarter the total cost of the undertaking. In this present year further drainage legislation was passed to enable new districts to be opened up and to enable State assistance to be granted where necessary.

The drainage of the Barrow is, of course, a different proposition and will require separate legislation. On that head I have only to say that, despite Press statements to the contrary, the policy of the Government is that which was announced in the Dail last July. We are prepared to carry through this work if the areas that will be directly benefited will abide by the promises made on their behalf by deputations, and bear a fair proportion of the burden. We had an expert of European standing to examine various incomplete plans that were with the Board of Works, and at present Irish engineers are employed in Dublin and on the Barrow in working out a complete detailed plan. In a matter involving such a large expenditure it will not be considered unreasonable to examine the situation thoroughly with a view to ensuring the best results.

THREE YEARS' WORK.

I have endeavoured to give you some conception of the legislative and administrative activities of the Government throughout the last three years. Only a very inadequate survey could be made within the limits of a brief address of this kind. I hope, however, that I have covered sufficient ground to convince you that throughout the last three years we have striven strenuously and conscientiously to do the kind of things that a people is entitled to expect from its Government. Our limitations have been the limitations of our resources, and those resources were strained during part of the time by grave internal difficulties which I need not elaborate. I claim on behalf of the Government that its three years' stewardship will stand the closest examination. In patient toil we have carried our bricks to the structure, rearing from the chaos of 1922 the ordered State fabric of 1925. We have fulfilled our trust.

I believe that I see as clearly as any distinguished visitor such social and economic evils as exist within the State. Not one of them exists in greater measure than three years ago, two years ago, or last year. On the contrary, enterprise and development are in the air. We have passed out from the ravines. The people know that they own their country and can make what they will of it. No amount of cant about midnight treaties can alter that. It is my faith in the new spirit that is abroad that causes me to raise my voice in emphatic dissent from the verdict of the pessimists. The country is not sick, but convalescent—physically, mentally and morally convalescent. Her need is peace—peace and hard work.

THE CHAIRMAN.

Mr. Michael Brennock, Chairman of the local Urban Council, who presided, said that, although many people had small grievances against the Government, and although there had been sins of omission and commission, it had to be admitted that a Government that had brought the nation out of the inferno of the past three years deserved the support of the people. They could not expect the Government of any small country to perform herculean things in one year or two.

THE EDUCATIONAL POLICY.

Finian Lynch, Minister of Fisheries, said that the present educational policy of the Government had been widely criticised because of their attitude towards making the education of the country a really Irish one. He hoped that the Government would remain steadfast in that educational policy, no matter who disliked it. (Hear, hear.) If the Irish people were dissatisfied with the Government's attitude towards education, they could dispense with the Government; but he doubted very much whether the people, if an issue of this kind was put to them, would throw away this opportunity of an Irish Ireland education.

Speaking of the fishing industry, the Minister said that the fishermen had, perhaps, suffered more than the farmer as a result of conditions following the European War. The central European market, Germany and Russia, was the place that consumed most of the products of the Irish fisherman. Germany used to take virtually all the herrings that were cured in Ireland, and they were not even able to cure enough for export. After the war Germany suffered financial collapse, and could not buy their fish, but it was encouraging to notice that all that had now changed. The Germans were coming here again looking for their herrings and offering very good prices. During the coming year he hoped that more funds would be available to help in the way of loans for the purchase of better equipment for fishermen.

THE SINISTER ELEMENT.

The Minister for Justice had spoken of certain sinister influences that were working towards the economic destruction of the country. It was hopeful and cheering that the Government intended to seek from the Dail all necessary powers to deal with any of these influences or conspiracies. The sinister element mentioned by the Minister of Justice would fall on very unfruitful ground in canvassing what might be called the old Unionists, because of their loyal acceptance of the Constitution of the State.

THE GOVERNMENT COMMENDED.

Dr. White, Waterford, said that despite the statements of pessimists the country was improving and on the way to prosperity. He commended the work of the Government in connection with housing.

Senator P. W. Kenny urged that confidence in the Government was a necessity to the well-being and security of the State. The vital thing was to preserve the nation, and to compass that end was the duty of every really patriotic Irishman. Why should not the Republican Party in Ireland, as was the case in other countries, fall in with the administration of the country and work along constitutional lines?

Mr. James Reidy, Mayor of Clonmel, said that he held that prosperity could be reached in this country if a really united, earnest effort was made by all its citizens.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY AT INCHICORE.

BAKERS' COLLECTOR SHOT.

A plucky Dublin man lies in Steevens's Hospital suffering from the effects of a gunshot wound received at Inchicore on Saturday evening, when he defied four armed men who sought to rob him.

He is Patrick Donoghue, aged 40, of 8 King street, Inchicore. He is in the employment of Messrs. Rourke, bakers, Store street, and was in Inchicore on his firm's business with a motor bread van, which was driven by Patrick Kelly.

At 7.30 four men, carrying revolvers, surrounded the van and ordered Donoghue to put his hands up. Instead he jumped at the nearest of the men and struck him in the face and knocked him down. Immediately a shot was fired by one of the men, who was behind Donoghue, and then all four ran off in the direction of Tirconnaill road.

Donoghue, who was wounded in the shoulder, was brought to Steevens's Hospital. There it was found that his injuries were not very serious, and by yesterday evening his condition was satisfactory.

It is thought that the armed men wanted to get any money that Donoghue was supposed to have collected in the course of his rounds. None of the men wore masks and several residents of the locality saw them distinctly.

Armed detectives were in Inchicore within a few minutes of the occurrence, but they failed to come up with the gunmen. Their investigations were continued yesterday, but up to last night no arrest had been made.

WHISKEY PRODUCTION.

NO REDUCTION BY DUBLIN DISTILLERS' COMPANY.

With regard to the statement in last Saturday's Irish Times that certain distilleries in Dublin were not increasing their stocks this season because of a reduction in the demand, we are informed by the Dublin Distillers Company, Ltd., that this is not correct as far as the Dublin Whiskey Distillery is concerned.

This distillery, we now learn, is working as usual, and we regret the inaccuracy in our issue of Saturday last, which made it appear otherwise.

ROMAN CATHOLIC HIERARCHY ATTACKED.

At a meeting in Sackville street, Dublin, yesterday, held to demand the release of political prisoners, Mr. William Paul attacked the Roman Catholic Hierarchy and clergy, who, he said, were the real enemies of the country. He referred to the pilgrimage to Rome as a "joy ride," and stated that £70,000 of Irish money would be spent on the Continent. It would, he declared, be better for the Bishops to open the doors of the cells for the prisoners than to go knocking at the Holy door in Rome.

They were told they were bound to contribute to the support of their pastors, but he thought that they were not bound to contribute to their support if they did not act as pastor should.

DERRY'S FOOD SUPPLIES.

DISCLOSURES IN ANALYST'S REPORT.

Mr. John Hawthorne, Belfast, public analyst for Londonderry, in his report to the Corporation, states that during the quarter ended 30th September last he examined 113 samples of food and drugs. Adulteration certificates were issued in respect of four samples, or about 3.5 per cent. of the total. Last quarter's figure was 4.7 per cent.

The average composition of the 33 genuine new milk samples was:—Milk solids not fat, 8.73 per cent.; milk fat, 3.54 per cent.; water, 87.73 per cent. Notwithstanding the favourable summer, these figures were not quite so good as for the corresponding quarter in 1924. As regards buttermilk, the 22 genuine samples gave an average added water content of just under 10 parts to each 100 parts of milk. Last quarter's figure was 15.

It was interesting to note that none of the 22 samples of butter contained any preservative, except salt. The samples of "custard" powder consisted mainly of cornflower, with a little arrowroot and traces of colouring and flavouring materials. The "egg" powder was mainly ground rice, with about 10 per cent. of baking powder and traces of cornflower and yellow colouring matter. As the labels indicated to any purchaser who could read them, that these products contained neither milk nor eggs, no action could be taken; but it was unfortunate that the words, "custard" and "egg," should continue to be used in connection with articles of this nature.

Boric acid was present in the sample of cream and the five samples of margarine examined, but the amounts were within the prescribed limits in each case. Sulphurous acid was present in the five meat preparations received, but in no case was the amount over three grains per pound.

CHILDREN AND THE LANGUAGE.

DISCUSSION AT KILKENNY TECHNICAL COMMITTEE.

"He was afraid that children were spending their time at Irish which many people thought should be spent at something else which would fit them for the battle of life. If that was so let their education be balanced without undue stress being laid on one particular thing, which outside their own shores was of no benefit to the people."

The above observations were made by the Very Rev. Dean Phair, M.A., Dean of Ossory, at a meeting of the Kilkenny Joint Technical Committee, when it was proposed to appoint three whole-time teachers of Irish under the 1d. in the £ rate struck by Kilkenny County Council for the teaching of Irish in the county.

A communication was read from the Department, saying that they were unable to deal with the Irish appointment for the meeting, in view of the withholding of the rate being involved.

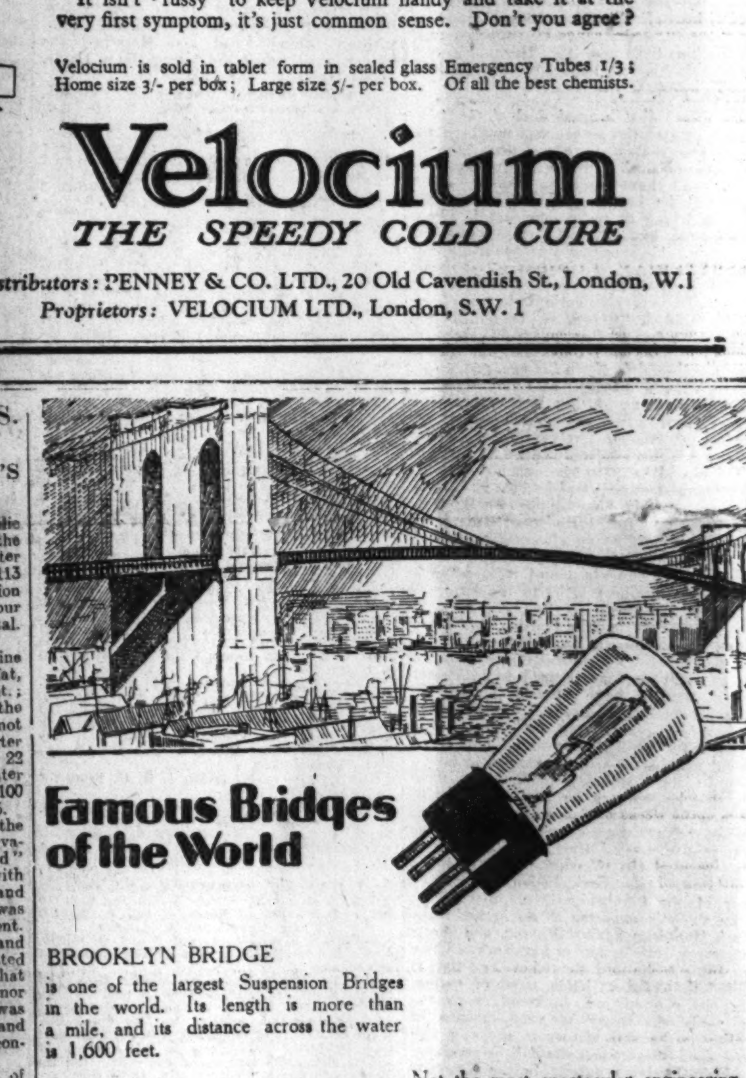

Colonel Poer O'Shee suggested that in order to popularise the Irish language they should hold social entertainments in the different areas, as he did not think there was any question about the fact that the present scheme was not popular. 99 per cent. of the population were paying money for what a great many looked upon as gratifying the whim of one section of the people. In order to get over the undercurrent of suspicion that was running through the minds of some people he proposed that a shilling per head per lesson be charged to those who joined the classes, and they would then see if there was that tremendous amount of interest taken in the language, as some people would lead them to believe there was.

The Very Rev. Dean Phair said that he was entirely in favour of the revival of the language. The reasons why he did not learn Irish was: firstly, he was too old, and secondly, other people were trying to compel him. The moment they compelled a man to do a certain thing they took the whole value out of it.

Mr. O'Hanrahan said that by establishing classes outside the schools they were providing the missing link for the child leaving school with a good knowledge of the language. The language of a country was worth all the money being expended on it. He did not hold that education was merely for the purpose of preparing children for exportation.

Colonel O'Shee's proposition that the pupils be charged at the rate of a shilling per head per lesson was defeated on a show of hands by 8 votes to 7.

For occupation of the County Hall by the Government during the war £1,473,000 was claimed by the London County Council, who announced yesterday that they receive £86,000 in settlement.

NOVEL SITUATION IN COUNTY CLARE.

HOUSING DEAL "HELD UP" BY BAR ASSOCIATION'S RULES.

At the Ennis District Court on last Friday a number of civil bills were struck out or adjourned under novel circumstances. They had been issued by a Limerick solicitor, who did not attend, and the local solicitors present said that they could not "move" them for him. In the Co. Clare Bar Association they had a binding rule that no member could move a civil bill for any person who was not a member, and they would not allow anyone to break that rule.

The Ennis Urban Council are at present "up against" another rule of the local Bar, which provides that, in the case of a property sale, both vendor and purchaser must be represented by a separate solicitor. The Council sold eight houses for £550 each. The total purchase money was paid and lodged in the joint names of the Council and the purchasers pending the completion of the usual agreements. The purchasers engaged their own solicitors to prepare the necessary agreements and paid the usual fee of £10 each.

The Council could not pay any fee, but the Council's solicitor refused to approve the agreements unless the purchaser paid him £10 each, his explanation being that he had to make this charge under the rules of the local Bar. The purchasers have declined to pay a second set of fees, pointing out that it would be inequitable to compel them to pay £160 in costs on a transaction involving only £2,800.

The Council have decided to hold a special meeting on the 22nd inst. for the purpose of trying to settle the matter, as until the agreements are completed they cannot get possession of the £2,800, and cannot proceed with another housing scheme.

COURSES FOR UNEMPLOYED JUVENILES.

DUBLIN ADVISORY COMMITTEE REAPPOINTED.

A communication was received from the Department of Industry and Commerce at the meeting of the Dublin Advisory Committee for Juvenile Unemployment, held at the Offices of the Department, in Lord Edward street, thanking the members for their assistance in the past and stating that the Minister had re-appointed the Committee for a further period of three years.

The Secretary's report detailing the work of the Juvenile Department of the Employment Exchange for the three months ended September, 1925, was submitted and adopted. The Domestic Service Sub-Committee reported that a day training course in household work for girls of 15 to 17, who desired to take up domestic work, had been established at the Technical School in Rutland square, and that 22 girls, selected from about 60 applicants, were attending classes daily.

A report on the working of the courses of instruction for unemployed juveniles for the year September, 1924, to July, 1925, was presented and adopted. The report showed that during the session 403 boys and 586 girls, between the ages of 16 and 18 years, attended the courses, while unemployed and in receipt of unemployment benefit, the average period of continuous attendance being between five and six weeks. The average weekly attendance throughout the session was 63 boys and 86 girls.

IRISH SECONDARY TEACHERS: ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

At the last meeting of the Association of Secondary Teachers, Ireland, the following officers were elected:—Rudolph Mecklenburg (Castleknock College), Chairman; C. L. Dillon (High School), Vice-Chairman; J. H. Keane (Mount Richmond Street Schools), Lon. Treasurer; D. J. O'Kelly (Castleknock College), Hon. Secretary.

Votes of thanks were tendered to outgoing officers.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

TWO-YEAR-OLD FORM.

CORONACH'S DEFEAT.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE PROSPECTS.

BOX HILL AND HEAH DEAD-HEAT.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.
LONDON, Sunday Night.

It is possible that much of the racing at Newmarket last week had an important bearing on the future. The defeat of Coronach, for one thing, has altered many pre-conceived ideas about the relative merits of the two-year-olds of the season. Before he ran last week it was a perfectly simple proposition to point to him as the best of his age; and we shall be very interested to see in the Calendar next Thursday Mr. Dawkin's free handicap of the two-year-olds, and whether he takes the victory of Lex at its face value, or whether he still insists on the superiority which Coronach showed in the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster. The defeat of Coronach has been the main subject of conversation ever since Friday, and his next appearance is anticipated with immense interest. It is very doubtful whether any decision has been come to to run him again this season; but I should think that it is unlikely that he will be started for any race this year, unless, of course, his trainer is anxious to know the best or the worst about him.

Supposing that Coronach does not come to himself again, it is hard to say which is the next best two-year-old of the season. Lex, of course, is a colt of exceptional gameness; but I imagine that, after the very severe race he had on Friday, it is unlikely that we shall see him run again this season; but on the Champagne Stakes running, apart altogether from what Coronach did with him, he does not come out so well as either Apple Sammy or Review Order, who finished in front of him there. I know that his trainer, R. Day, considered that he was unlucky at Doncaster, and expected him to beat Coronach on Friday. I should imagine, however, that it was rather with hope than confidence that he and the owner of Lex, Sir Abe Bailey, supported him to win the Middle Park Stakes.

Apple Sammy has reasonable pretensions to be considered a high-class colt, but his record is not altogether inspiring, for, although he has won twice, he has been relegated into "a place" on four other occasions. This does not suggest that he is altogether a smasher, and although he was giving 16lb. to Tolgus when the latter beat him in the Imperial Produce Stakes at Kempton Park, Mr. Persse's colt won so easily as to suggest that there might not have been much between them at level weights. Tolgus, however, is not engaged in any of the classic races, so we leave him out of account for present purposes. Legionnaire was beaten a length and a-half by Apple Sammy there, and a few days later showed a clear superiority over Short Story and Lex at Newmarket. The form, therefore, does not suggest that Lex, even though he beat Coronach, is anything like as good as Apple Sammy, and it is to be supposed that Mr. Dawkins will put Mr. Hornung's colt very high in his free handicap.

1926 CLASSES.

I am afraid that a good deal of the two-year-old form of the season has not been inspiring, and that if Coronach does not reassert himself during the next five weeks—which, as I have said, is unlikely—most people will be hard put to it during the winter in trying to name one that is likely to distinguish himself in the classic races of next season. Legatee was a two-year-old who made an attractive first appearance last week, but, like Tolgus, he is not in any of the classic races, his nominations having been rendered void by the death of his former owner, Sir Edward Hulton. Still, there is reason to suppose that next year he will be among the leading colts of his age.

There were a number of Cambridgeshire candidates running during the week, but none of them made any great impression, excepting, of course, Twelve Pointer, whose claims to win the big handicap at Newmarket for the second year in succession had been well recognised even before he beat St. Becan and Diophon in the Select Stakes on Wednesday and then mastered Heverswood over six furlongs on the following afternoon. Dawson City made no great impression in the Autumn Handicap on Wednesday, and it is possibly doubtful whether he will be to the liking of his trainer next week.

The old maxim that the horse who is going well at the Bushes in the Cesarewitch is a likely winner of the Cambridgeshire does not seem to apply now as it used to in former years, at least we have not seen it work out in practice for many seasons. Winalot, however, was going extremely well approaching the landmark last Wednesday, but it is doubtful whether he will be allowed to take a chance in the Cambridgeshire. It is more likely that he will run for one of the handicaps over a longer distance, possibly the Manchester November, before the end of the season in five weeks' time.

I am assured that Verdict will have to be taken into serious consideration as a likely winner of the Cambridgeshire. She did as well as she was expected to do in the Duke of York Handicap against Pharos, and she is giving every satisfaction in her work. There is one thing to be said about her, and that is that the suspicion of being tired of racing, which she showed last back-end, seems to have vanished. Beary is very hopeful of repeating on her his victory in the race two seasons ago. Next week she will be receiving 15lb. from Twelve Pointer. In the Kempton Park Jubilee, in which Parth beat her a short head, she was giving 2lb. to Twelve Pointer, who finished only fourth. The Duke of Westminster's colt has in the meantime gone from strength to strength, while, except on the day on which she beat Epinard in the previous October, Verdict has never seemed quite so good as she was on Jubilee day, and a few weeks later when she reversed the running with Parth in the Coronation Cup at Epsom. Should Willie Waugh have Verdict back to anything like her best form it will be a very interesting situation as between her and Twelve Pointer on the afternoon on which the Cambridgeshire is run.

Outside this pair, few of the Cambridgeshire candidates seem to be attracting much attention. Sansovino is a little doubtful still, and Mr. Lambton has not been giving him a great deal of work. The Sirdar, who was third in the Derby, was to have run for the Prix du Conseil Municipal this afternoon, and his running there will be the best guide to his chance in the Cambridgeshire. It is doubtful whether Eugene Leigh, the trainer of Coram, has anything like the same hope of him as he had of Epinard two seasons ago. I expect, however, that he will be nearer Twelve Pointer next week than he was in the race for the Select Stakes.

A POOR CLASS FIELD.

How extremely moderate are the three-year-old fillies of this year was indisputably proved by the race for the Autumn Oaks at Lingfield yesterday afternoon, in which Lord Astor's filly, Mystical, lost her maiden allowance by winning by two lengths from her stable companion, Alness. Last year Straitlace won this event, and the year before Teresina, a few days after her great effort in the Cesarewitch against Rose Prince. All sorts of good fillies have won it in the past, but it is doubtful whether any of those who took part in yesterday's race could win a fair class handicap, even with bottom weight. How poor the class of the field was is shown by the fact that Mr. R. C. Dawson's Amorellina, who has been beaten in the most moderate company in the course of the year, started favourite. She made the running for a mile and a quarter, but then she weakened, and Mystical, who is far from being generous, came out and beat Alness by two lengths, the favourite being half a length away, third.

The best race of the afternoon was that for the Lingfield Handicap, in which Box Hill and Heah dead-heated. Smirke did not exactly ride one of his best races on Heah, for at half-way Frank Hartigan's gelding was going more strongly than anything, but in the last few strides of the race Weston got Box Hill up to make the dead-heat with him, the uncertain Karl being a length away, third. The October Nursery, for which there was the big field of twenty runners, saw a comfortable victory for The Master by a length and a half and a length over Nephew and Evening Rose, the latter of whom had won at the last meeting here. Evening Rose failed to stay home, and The Master, who had always been prominent, won with a little in hand. A month ago he had failed by a head to beat the Irish colt, Leinster Wonder, at Haydock Park. His owner and trainer, Sam Darling, has not had much luck with his horses this year until Forseti won him the Cesarewitch last week, but the tide seems to have turned in his favour. Beary does not often ride for Mr. Persse's stable, but he had the mount on Lomondside in the Non-Stayers' Plate, as Beasley could not do the weight. The race for the last half mile was a mere procession, Lomondside winning in a canter by ten lengths.

GLASHEEN'S FORM.

I note that Lieutenant-Colonel Charteris's filly, Glasheen, has been sent to run for the National Produce Stakes at the Curragh on Wednesday, and that she is favoured by the weights. Although Glasheen has not won in England this season, she has shown some smart form, and it will take a good one to give her anything like a stone. Moti Mahal, giving 15lb., had not much in hand of her at York in the race for the Prince of Wales's Plate. Moti Mahal is not far removed from being the best of her sex in training; for she made a great race with Bella Minna at Derby, and at Goodwood she gave weight and a beating to Lex. I do not know whether Glasheen will stay the six furlongs and sixty-three yards at the Curragh, but if she does it will take something up to the best class in England to give her weight and a beating.

GALTEE MORE.

PHŒNIX PARK.

CLOSE FINISHES.

AMATOI WINS CHIEF EVENT.

DOUBLE FOR FORDRED STABLE.

The breakdown in the long spell of fine weather came at an inopportune time for the second October meeting at Phœnix Park, and considering how depressing were the conditions in the early afternoon, it was surprising that the attendance was even as good as it was. Those who did turn out were well rewarded; for the weather cleared up before the start of racing and remained fine for the rest of the afternoon, while excellent sport was provided. Close finishes were general, and a most exhilarating race for the chief two-year-old event was the feature of a very pleasant afternoon's entertainment. This was won by Mr. A. B. Coyle's Amatoi, who is trained by E. Fordred, and was ridden by T. L. Browne, and the same trainer-jockey combination earlier in the day was also to the fore when Princess Theresa won the Woodenbridge Plate.

Odds were laid on Faithful for the opening race, and for a good part of the way Mr. Musker's filly held out strong hopes for her supporters. She was well in front two furlongs from the winning post, but when challenged by Princess Theresa she weakened, and was readily beaten. Scarlet Silk and Hazel Grove attracted most support for the Ward Plate, and both ran well, but not well enough to dispose of Flattery, who commanded the situation throughout and demonstrated her partiality for this track, over which she had won twice previously, by scoring very easily.

Although only five runners put in an appearance for the Whitechurch Plate, it furnished a very fine race, and any one of four horses seemed to hold an equal chance a furlong from the end. Roi du Monde, who had made the early part of the running, was the first beaten when the critical stage was reached. Then Saorstat looked to hold the best chance, but he was tackled by both Buntz and Top Speed, and the first-named of this pair, staying on the best, snatched a clever victory, thus supplementing her win at the September meeting over the same course, which was her only other win this season.

Dargos and Geraint were preferred to Amatoi in the wagering over the West Plate, but in another thrilling set-to Mr. Coyle's filly wore them both down and scored by a neck from Geraint, from whom she was in receipt of 14lb., while Dargos was only another neck off, third. Amatoi had only run three times previously, this being her first winning bracket; but she showed smart form in the Railway Stakes at the Curragh, when only beaten a neck by Silver Lark. Another splendid finish was witnessed for the Wilkinstown Plate between the two outsiders, Sparsholt and Ann Earn, the former only winning on the post, with the favourite, Shadza, only fourth. Goose Green, despite his many failures this season, was entrusted again by his connections for the Warrenstown Plate, but again ran in disappointing fashion, and could do no better than fill third position behind Pasol and Horatius, the former, well ridden by young John Doyle, scoring cleverly. Details:—

2.30—WOODENBRIDGE PLATE of 100 sovs. Second receives 5 sovs. Weight for age. 1 m.
Mr. F. S. Myerscough's ch. f. PRINCESS THERESA, by My Prince—Lady Theresa, 4, 8-7 .... T. L. Brown 1
Mr. J. Musker's FAITHFUL, 3, 8-10 P. Beasley 2
Mr. J. P. Daly's STONESTOWN, 3, 7-2 J. Lenehan 3
Mr. C. M'Laughlin's Irish Temple, 3, 7-9 Jas. Doyle 0
Mr. R. J. Duggan' Wilublong, 3, 7-2 John Doyle 0
(Winner trained by E. Fordred.)

Betting—5 to 4 on Faithful, 2 to 1 agst. PRINCESS THERESA, 10 to 1 Stonestown or any other. Stonestown led from Wilublong, Faithful, Irish Temple, and Princess Theresa, for half a mile, when Faithful took command, followed by Princess Theresa, Stonestown, and Wilublong. Inside the distance Princess Theresa headed Faithful, and, drawing clear away, won in a canter by six lengths; a length divided second and third. Wilublong was fourth. Time—1 min. 46 4-5 secs.

There was no bid for the winner.

3.0—WARD PLATE of 100 sovs. Second receives 5 sovs. Two years old. 5 f.
Mr. T. Ray's b. f. FLATTERY, by Captain Ross—Imitation, 8-3 .... D. Ward 1
Mr. R. Power's SCARLET SILK, 7-13 John Doyle 2
Mr. J. Read's HAZEL GROVE, 8-0 W. Howard 3
Mr. J. T. Rogers's Ear-Ring, 8-2 E. M'Cormack 0
Mr. Parkinson's The Little Boss, 7-7 (car. 7-8) W. Redmond 0
Mr. C. M'Laughlin's Nellie's Pet, 7-10 Jas. Doyle 0
Capt. R. Teague's Ruby Dennis, 7-7 J. Dines 0
Mrs. D. B. M'Kenna's Tinnakill, 7-7 J. Patman 0
Mr. Coombs's New Year's Eve, 6-13 P. Moylan 0
Mr. D. Cogan's Polish Princess, 6-9 E. Walsh 0
Mr. P. Lenehan's Miss Nurmi, 6-9 J. Lenehan 0
(Winner trained by T. Ray.)

Betting—4 to 1 each agst. Scarlet Silk and Hazel Grove, 5 to 1 each FLATTERY and The Little Boss, 7 to 1 each Tinnakill and Miss Nurmi, 20 to 1 any other.

Ruby Dennis refused to start, and Flattery, jumping off in front of Scarlet Silk, Tinnakill, New Year's Eve, and Miss Nurmi, made all the running, and won easily by two lengths; a length divided second and third. The Little Boss was fourth, New Year's Eve fifth, and Miss Nurmi next. Time—61 secs.

The winner was sold to Mr. J. H. H. Peard for 240 sovs.

3.30—WHITECHURCH PLATE of 100 sovs. Second receives 5 sovs. 1 m.
Mr. R. N. Caddell's br. f. BUNTZ, by Lomond—Senta, 3, 8-13 .... J. Dines 1
Mr. A. D. Comyn's TOP SPEED, 3, 9-3 M. Wing 2
Mr. J. J. M'Auley's SAORSTAT, 4, 9-3 E. Quirke 3
Mr. D. Sullivan's Sir Stingo, 3, 9-9 Jos. Canty 0
Mr. J. Daly's Roi du Monde, 3, 9-5 D. Ward 0
(Winner trained by M. Arnott.)

Betting—7 to 4 agst. Saorstat, 3 to 1 Sir Stingo, 4 to 1 Roi du Monde, 5 to 1 BUNTZ, 100 to 14 Top Speed.

Roi Du Monde made the running from Top Speed, Buntz, Saorstat, and Sir Stingo, for five furlongs, when he lost his place, and Saorstat assumed command, followed by Top Speed and Buntz, the latter of whom forged to the front close home, and won a good race by half a length; a similar distance divided second and third. Roi Du Monde was fourth. Time—1 min. 45 1-5 secs.

4.0—WEST PLATE of 210 sovs. Second receives 10 sovs. For two years old. 5 f.
Mr. A. B. Coyle's ch. f. AMATOI, by Prince Hermes—Vitoi, 8-3 .... T. L. Brown 1
Major Cape's GERAINT, 9-3 T. Burns 2
Mr. O. L. Mackean's DARGOS, 8-13 M. Wing 3
Mr. T. J. Clarke's Too Wild, 8-7 Moylan 0
Capt. Musker's Bonsky, 8-7 P. Beasley 0
Mr. D. J. Cogan's Argina, 8-3 (car. 8-4) E. M. Quirke 0
Mr. J. J. M'Auley's Roitoi, 8-3 W. Howard 0
(Winner trained by E. Fordred.)

Betting—6 to 4 agst. Dargos, 2 to 1 Geraint, 4 to 1 AMATOI, 8 to 1 Argina, 20 to 1 any other.

Geraint was the first to show in front, attended by Dargos, Argina, Amatoi, and Roitoi, with Bonsky last, and so they ran until a furlong from home, when Amatoi improved her position, and, heading Geraint close home, won by a neck; a similar distance divided second and third. Roitoi was fourth, Argina fifth, and Bonsky next. Time—61 4-5 secs.

4.30—WILKINSTOWN PLATE of 100 sovs. Second receives 5 sovs. For two years old. 5 f.
Mr. J. T. Rogers's b. c. SPARSHOLT, by Battle-axe—Eden, 8-11 .... W. Hamill 1
Mr. F. Straker's ANN EARN, 8-11 E. M. Quirke 2
Mr. J. J. Parkinson's STEEL PIN, 8-9 P. Beasley 3
Mr. W. T. de Pledge's Shadza, 8-11 T. Burns 0
Mr. E. R. Conron's Miss Vitus, 8-11 Jas. Doyle 0
Mr. B. Kirby's Benella, 8-11 Joseph Harty 0
Mr. J. T. Rogers's Stillorgan, 8-6 E. Walsh 0
Mr. A. B. Coyle's Ann B., 8-6 T. L. Brown 0
Mr. P. Lenehan's Brilliant Orb, 8-6 J. Lenehan 0
(Winner trained by J. T. Rogers.)

Betting—5 to 4 agst. Shadza, 3 to 1 Ann B., 5 to 1 Benella, 100 to 8 each SPARSHOLT, Steel Pin and any other.

Ann Earn made the running from Sparsholt, Shadza, Ann B., Brilliant Orb, and Steel Pin, to the distance, where Sparsholt challenged, and won by a head; four lengths divided second and third. Shadza was fourth, Ann B. fifth, and Miss Vitus next. Time—62 1-5 secs.

5.0—WARRENSTOWN PLATE of 100 sovs. Second receives 5 sovs. An open handicap. 5 f.
Mr. J. F. Downey's b. c. PASOL, by Paso-del-Norte—Ardennes, 4, 6-9 .... John Doyle 1
Mr. J. M'Auley's HORATIUS, 3, 9-6 Joe Canty 2
Mr. R. C. Ross's GOOSE GREEN, 3, 8-13 J. Moylan 3
Mr. J. Peard's Slane Castle, 5, 9-12 Joe Boyle 0
Mr. J. Cogan's Zanoni, 5, 9-7 E. M. Quirke 0
Mr. Crotty's Flying Spray, 5, 8-4 W. Redmond 0
Mr. E. Delany's Buzzy, 4, 6-9 J. Lenehan 0
(Winner trained by J. Kirwan.)

Betting—2 to 1 agst. Goose Green, 5 to 2 Horatius, 5 to 1 each PASOL and Flying Spray, 7 to 1 Zanoni, 10 to 1 Slane Castle, 20 to 1 Buzzy.

Flying Spray jumped off in front of Slane Castle, Goose Green, Zanoni, and Horatius, with Pasol and Buzzy next, and there was no change until they had gone three furlongs, when Horatius drew into the lead, but failed to resist the challenge of Pasol, who won by three-quarters of a length; a length and a half divided second and third. Buzzy was fourth, Zanoni fifth, and Flying Spray next. Time—60 2-5 secs.

MULLINGAR.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The Newbrook course will to-day be the scene of what promises to be a very successful meeting. The programme is certainly suggestive of interesting racing under both rules, and there should be no dearth of runners. A special fast train leaves Broadstone at 11.45 this morning and returns at 4.30. Selections are appended:—

Newbrook Plate—Bachelor's Trump or Noble Prince.
Mullingar Plate—Louvois Prize.
Directors' Plate—Charabanc.

THE IRISH CESAREWITCH.

MISCHIEVOUS AND JILLSOME DOUBTFUL RUNNERS.

Mischievous, it was reported, was supported at Phœnix Park on Saturday at 100 to 8, "taken and offered," for the Irish Cesarewitch at the Curragh on Wednesday next; but backers would be well advised not to make any investments on him at present, for it is exceedingly doubtful if he will go to the post. The circumstances are these:—In his race at Baldoyle on October 10 his connections were confident of his prospects for it, and they regarded it as affording the son of Jackdaw a public trial. He was, however, easily beaten by Clonlara. It has since transpired that Mischievous was struck into and cut, while last week-end J. Dines, who was to have ridden him at the Curragh, was released from his engagement, and at the moment is without a mount in the race. As regards Jillsome: she is very well, and on Saturday morning went splendidly in a long-distance gallop on the Curragh, but her owner, Mr. F. S. Myerscough, is at present undecided whether to run her for the Royal Whip (which is also on Wednesday's programme) or the handicap. No rider has been engaged for her for the latter race.

Hidennis has arrived from Newmarket, and is at Brownstown House; he also is the property of Mr. Myerscough. The son of Tredennis ran exceptionally well for a mile and seven furlongs in the English Cesarewitch, and it is the opinion of J. Leach, who was his rider in that race and will have the mount on him this week, that he would have won at that distance. The Curragh race is over a mile and three-quarters. Naturally, Mr. Myerscough regards very favourably the colt's prospects. Not until this morning, when he has an opportunity of seeing how Hidennis moves at exercise will he determine whether Jillsome will be a Cesarewitch candidate or go for the Royal Whip. We venture to anticipate that she will run for the Cesarewitch only in the event of Hidennis revealing any ill effects of his cross-Channel passage.

East Galway is due to take his chance in the two-mile October Flat Race at Mullingar this afternoon, and his running or non-running at headquarters will depend upon how he may acquit himself. D. Ward will have the mount on him to-day and also in the Cesarewitch, should he go to the post.

The list of probable starters and jockeys for the Cesarewitch is:—

CEYLONESE, br. h., by Willonyx—Excelita (Mrs. T. Coombs), 6, 10-0 (Coombs) .... H. Wragg.

WESTMEATH HUNT PUPPY SHOW.

The Westmeath Hunt Puppy Show, held at the Kennels, Knockdrin, presented many interesting and encouraging features. Captain Filgate, M.F.H., Louth Hounds, and Captain Naper, Ballymacad Hunt, had in all 10½ couples before them. The prize-winners were:—

Dogs—1st, Vaulter, walked by Miss Fetherstonhaugh, Rockview; 2nd, Vagabond, walked by Captain J. B. Grant.

Bitches—1st, Joyful, walked by Mr. P. Gavin, Dalystown; 2nd, Varnish, walked by Major J. Purdon.

Best Couple—Prize to Miss Smyth, Ballynegall.

The puppy-walkers were subsequently entertained at Knockdrin Castle, where Mrs. Field presented the prizes and the Master thanked all who had walked puppies, and the people generally of the district for their cordial support to the hunt.

Lord Longford returned thanks for the puppy-walkers, and proposed the Master's health, a toast warmly honoured.

LAWN TENNIS.

P. D. SPENCE AND MRS. BEAMISH RETAIN TITLES.

Two matches of outstanding importance in the concluding stages of the Covered Courts Championships of London were the Singles events, in which P. D. B. Spence and Mrs. Beamish defended their titles. Each had worthy opponents for the finals, but neither title changed hands, Spence defeating E. Higgs in straight sets and Mrs. Beamish disposing of Mrs. Edgington in two. The latter was expected to put up stouter resistance, for she had played convincing tennis throughout the championship. On Saturday, however, her play was far below the standard of Mrs. Beamish's, and she won only three games in the match.

Spence and Higgs fought out a great duel. The fact that Higgs forced two 'vantage sets is ample indication of his tenacity. He took the holder to six-all in the first set, but lost the next two games. In the second set Spence played brilliantly and won it 6-3; but Higgs again reached his best form in the third. However, his efforts were again in vain, though he compelled Spence to contest twelve games before winning the set and match. Results:—

Men's Singles.—Final—P. D. B. Spence (holder) beat E. Higgs—8-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Ladies' Singles.—Final—Mrs. Beamish (holder) beat Mrs. Edgington—6-3, 6-0.

Men's Doubles.—Third Round—P. D. B. Spence and C. H. Kingsley (holders) beat S. M. Jacob and N. Sharpe—6-2, 6-4, 7-5.

NEWMAN DEFEATS SMITH.

Newman scored his first win over Smith this season at Glasgow on Saturday, when he beat the Darlington professional in their 16,000 game by 675 points. At the resumption of play on the concluding day he was more than 800 points in front. However, Smith reduced this to 775 in the afternoon session. The chief breaks were 313, 233, 119, and 101 (unfinished) by Newman; and 332 by Smith. Interval scores:—Newman (in play), 15,334; Smith, 14,617.

Smith again had the better of excellent play in the final session. He had the splendid average of 101 and the winner 86. Newman had breaks of 197, 324, 103; and Smith 205, 257, and 150. Result:—Newman, 16,000; Smith, 15,325.

THE LEAGUE GAMES.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY AND RAILWAY UNION UNBEATEN

Wet and dismal as Saturday morning was, the afternoon cleared up wonderfully, and a heavy league programme was duly worked off. There appears to be some slight confusion in the arrangement of grounds, and revision will be necessary if the weekly list to be carried through as efficiently as in the past.

Two of the Senior matches resulted in very close games, Dublin University beating Monkstown by two goals to one, and Three Rock Rovers defeating Pembroke Wanderers by the same score. The third match, Railway Union v. Kingstown Grammar School, was a contrast, and the greater finishing power of the Park avenue team enabled them to run up a total of six goals without reply. In the Junior divisions there were two drawn games, but generally the scoring was high.

RAILWAY UNION (6) V. KINGSTOWN G.S. (0).

This match, at Tivoli terrace, was by no means as one-sided as the result would suggest. Kingstown Grammar School had quite a good share of the play, and, with a little more control of the ball, might have put up a couple of goals. The hockey was of a good standard all through. Both teams settled down at once and the defences had plenty to do. The home forwards were well supported by Phillips, Devlin and Felton, and returned attack for attack, but usually shot wide or lost control of the ball at the circle. Staples and Ritchie were the pick of a good forward line, and the former was unfortunate on one occasion in not scoring with a splendid cross-shot, which struck the upright.

Railway Union played their characteristic game and all the goals were the outcome of clever movements. The first came after ten minutes' play, V. Sully netting from Browner's centre. Some nice combined attacks by the School followed, and several penalty corners were awarded against the visitors, but these were effectively cleared. For the next twenty minutes defence beat attack, then T. Browner sent in past Gibson after the latter had saved from H. Sully. The third goal followed soon after, V. Sully scoring from a seemingly impossible angle. The teams crossed over with Railway Union leading by three clear goals.

Immediately on resuming the visitors got down again and V. Sully made no mistake with a shot from Corscadden's centre. The School were held on the defensive in this period, and Gibson's display in goal was brilliant. A great rush by the Railway forwards overcame the defence, and T. Browner worked in neatly to increase the lead. It was only after the next goal, scored by C. Sully from close in, that Grammar School reversed the play and launched attack after attack. Maguire netted from Ritchie, but was ruled off-side, and shortly afterwards the final whistle closed an interesting game with Railway Union good winners. Teams:

Kingstown G.S.—C. W. Gibson; E. S. Phillips, E. J. Devlin; J. C. Rutherford, R. E. Felton, H. Moore; T. Staples, W. C. Ritchie, E. Winder, E. Maguire, F. Duke.

Railway Union—W. Leopold; K. Browner, K. Downey; J. Peatt, W. Chiddick (capt.), J. Ryan; T. Browner, C. Sully, H. Sully, V. Sully, J. Corscadden.

Umpires—Messrs. C. Bruton and G. Richardson.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY (2) V. MONKSTOWN (1).

Royal terrace was the scene of a fast League match between Dublin University and Monkstown, which resulted in a win for the visitors by the odd goal in three. Trinity were at full strength, but Monkstown were without A. Fenton in goal, whose place A. McNally filled remarkably well. Trinity were first to attack, and within five minutes of starting they forced a corner, following which West scored. Monkstown settled down quickly after this reverse, but could not get on even terms. Constant raids were made on both goals without result, and at the interval the visitors lead by one goal.

The home team made determined efforts to equalise on resuming, but Kelly and Packham proved too good. After fifteen minutes had elapsed in the second period, while Trinity were pressing strongly, "sticks" was given against Monkstown, and from the ensuing short corner Connell scored, thus putting his side further ahead. From the bully-off Monkstown broke away, and Legge burst through on his own, and passed to Craig, who made no mistake with a fast shot. Monkstown were only one goal behind now, and they kept up a continuous attack on the visitors' goal for about ten minutes, but failed to get through a steady defence. The closing stages were keenly contested, and both goals had more than one escape, but the final whistle found no further increase in the score. Teams:—

Dublin University.—D. Vanston; G. N. Kelly, W. A. Packham; B. J. Daly, W. F. Connell (capt.), J. P. Pigot; J. R. Peacocke, J. G. Wilson., G. F. West, A. T. Williams, J. E. R. Keyms.

Monkstown.—A. McNally; V. G. Williams, G. Darcus, W. F. Williams, D. Morrison, H. Legge; W. P. Delamere, E. Gray, R. Towers, A. Craig, A. G. Coates.

Umpires—Messrs. A. H. Orr and J. S. Jackson.

THREE ROCK ROVERS (2) V. PEMBROKE WANDERERS (1).

By 2 goals to 1 Three Rock Rovers scored their first win in the Senior League this year, defeating Pembroke Wanderers at Foxrock on Saturday. The winners are still in difficulties as regards their half-back line, and the return of the Irish captain, H. J. Brown, at full-back, gave them the opportunity of trying C. Blair White at centre-half. For a first appearance in a strange position, the latter did very well, and if at times his passing was obvious, he got through an amount of solid defensive work, and gave the Wanderers' forwards very little scope.

All three goals were scored prior to the interval. Pembroke Wanderers opened with a good goal after about ten minutes' play. Getting well down on the right—the first attack Wanderers really pressed home—G. K. Pilkington, who held a roving commission throughout, brought off a partial clearance, and, following up well, W. Buttimere scored from close in. Quite some time elapsed before J. F. Mahony equalised, the result of a movement which developed on the right and wound up with a well-placed centre by Eyre. A minute or so later Mahony scored again, this time following a penalty corner which was partially cleared. To half-time play ran evenly, and there was no addition to the score when the whistle went.

On changing over, Rovers reorganised their attack. J. M. Eyre was moved inside right, G. A. Boyd going on the wing, while Huet dropped back to the middle line in Boyd's place. No real improvement was noticeable, and the wisdom of all such changes in the middle of a game is open to question. Throughout the second half both sets of forwards were very unconvincing in the circle. Both had a number of openings, all of which went astray, and when the ball did find the net—as it did once for each side—the striker was whistled back for an infringement. Thus the half ran its course with the defenders holding the upper hand, and at the finish the score was unaltered.

For the losers, H. Buttimere did very well in the centre, but the forwards were weak in the circle, and showed a tendency to lose position through the field. Teams:—

Three Rock Rovers—G. K. Pilkington; H. J. Brown, J. H. Tuke; R. Browne, C. Blair-White, G. A. Boyd; J. M. Eyre, A. P. Huet, J. F. Mahony, F. M. Eagar, V. Medcalf.

Pembroke Wanderers—N. M'Neill; E. E. Spence, E. O'Sullivan; H. Buttimere, C. J. Little (capt.), G. D. Clancy; L. Crawford, A. F. Hall, W. Buttimere, J. A. Stanistreet.

Umpires—Messrs. J. S. McMahon and D. J. Colter.

MOTOR CYCLING.

LEINSTER TRIAL TO ENNISCORTHY.

The concluding competition of the Leinster Motor Cycle and Light Car Club took place on Saturday, when the annual reliability trial to Enniscorthy was held. The conditions were far from agreeable, as a dense fog was encountered from the start until Aughrim was reached, and as the most severe part of the course lay in that district it was not surprising to find that most of those who failed to complete the journey met with their troubles in the early part of the trial. There were seven retirals before Aughavanagh, and one of those who checked there did not reach the finish.

The start took place from Terenure, and although the forenoon rain had ceased, the roads were in a heavy condition.

The competitors left the main road at Templeogue Bridge and ascended Ballinascorney Gap. Passing through Kilbride Camp, they entered the first of the two non-stop sections at Kippure fork. This section of seven and a half miles included the ascent of Sorrell Hill, and owing to the prevailing conditions it proved more than usually difficult. After passing through Valleymount, an ascent of Wicklow Gap was made from the West, and, continuing to Laragh the second non-stop section was entered. It followed the Military road over the mountain to Drumgoff, and again over the mountains to Aughavanagh. Only thirteen of the starters checked at this point, the missing ones being—G. B. Frazer, the only car entrant; P. J. Mooney, J. Adair, N. Lepler, R. E. Boyce, J. J. Nolan, and C. P. Hamill.

The fog lifted by the time Aughrim was passed, and the remainder of the route of ninety-two miles was covered under pleasanter conditions. Only one of those who reached Aughavanagh (J. F. "Bush") fell out in the concluding stages.

The starters were:—F. Holmes, 3½ h.p. Triumph; J. J. Beggan, 2¾ h.p. Cotton; H. McCrae, 3½ h.p. Montgomery and side-car; G. Briggs, 3½ h.p. Montgomery; C. P. Hamill and J. F. "Bush," 3½ h.p. Norton; G. Irvine and G. Burney, 2¾ h.p. Enfield; R. D. Gibson and J. Nolan, 2¾ h.p. Raleigh; H. Adair, 2¾ h.p. Rex-Acme; W. Knowd, 3½ h.p. Sunbeam; P. McGonagle, 2¾ h.p. O. K. Bradshaw; A. Robinson, 2¾ h.p. New Imperial; R. E. Boyce, 2¾ h.p. A.J.S.; N. Lepler, 3½ h.p. N.U.T.; C. H. Farmer, 2¾ h.p. Rudge; J. Adair, 2¾ h.p. Dot-Jap; P. G. Mooney, 3½ h.p. Norton and side-car; G. B. Frazer, 9 h.p. Rover car.

ROVERS' BIG VICTORY.

BOHEMIANS BEATEN BY JACOBS.

Possibly the defeat of Bohemians by Jacobs—the home team won by 3-1—was the outstanding feature of a most interesting series of games in the Free State League on Saturday. It was generally expected that Bohemians would prevail, but their forwards again failed, and the victory of Jacobs was as meritorious as it was surprising.

Against a rather ragged Pioneers' team, which was further weakened when Cummins was knocked out in the first half, Shamrock forwards, at Milltown, were in irresistible form, and although the Rovers eased off in the second half, after leading by seven goals to one, they won as they liked by ten goals to two.

Brideville surprised St. James's Gate at Inchicore, winning by three goals to two, after the sides had changed over with a goal each, one of the St. James's Gate backs having kicked through his own goal in an attempt to clear. St. James's Gate ought to have done much better with the chances which came their way in the opening stage, but the forwards were slow to take them. The winners played good football in the second half, and had their opponents drawn level, as more than once they looked like doing, it would have been a lucky division for them.

Fordson's long journey from Cork to Athlone was not barren of result. They played bright, enterprising football against the town team, and well deserved their success by 5-2. They were indebted to Kelly (2) and Hannon for their lead of 3-1 at the interval, Athlone's goal being scored by Jas. Sweeney. Brooks reduced the home side's arrears on changing over, and in a futile attempt to clear, one of the Athlone's defenders put through his own goal after Hannon had scored a fourth.

At Woodbrook, Bray Unknowns suffered a heavy defeat from Shelbourne, who, holding the upper hand all through, won by 5-0.

HOW JACOBS WON.

The meeting of Jacobs and Bohemians, at Rutland avenue, was productive of a very moderate game. The most notable feature was the utter failure of the visiting attack, whom, with the exception of Willits, played distinctly poor football. The team could hardly be counted a strong combination, for Thomas, M'Ilroy and O'Kane were absentees; while Jammett, Bermingham and Stynes, who filled the positions, were hardly up to the senior standard. Of the trio mentioned the last-named was, perhaps, the best, but he has a good deal to learn yet. He is enterprising enough, but lacks judgment in placing. There was little excuse for the failure of the backs, all of whom have played together for some time. The half-backs were rather moderate, and were it not for the manner in which Albert Kelly persevered to try and pull Bohemians together, the Dalymount team might have suffered a more serious defeat. This, and some good goal-keeping by Cannon, were the redeeming features of the team's display.

The reappearance of Stephen Boyne in Jacob's side made a great difference to the defence, as it was mainly owing to his experience and excellent judgment in leading the defence that the success of the side was due. He not alone held the attack of Bohemians well, but kicked and placed with sound judgment, while always placing the ball to advantage. On several occasions when the home defence was hard pressed in the opening period, his resource saved the situation, were it not for which Bohemians would have obtained an early lead.

In the early stages, however, the home forwards were no better than Bohemians, but the re-shuffling of the forwards before ends were changed had the desired result, as Lynam, who went centre forward vice P. Byrne, was mainly responsible for the side's success, his dash being too much for the disjointed defence of the Dalymount team.

That, and a good understanding on the left wing between Smith and Blackford, backed up by excellent goal-keeping by Collins, were the main factors in Jacobs' victory; indeed, the goal-keeper has seldom given a finer exhibition.

At the start Bohemians put in a strong burst, and for a short space kept Jacobs' backs busy. S. Boyne cleared, and L. Kelly, at centre half, opening out to his left, Smith and Blackford executed a nice passing move, which took play to Bohemians' end. Albert Kelly stopped the move and got Willits away, the latter giving to Murray, who effected a good centre, which Jammett foozled. For some minutes Jacobs had the best of the exchanges, and after 25 minutes' play Blackford got the ball nicely across to Tucker, who shot into an open goal, Cannon having come out. Lynam added the second quickly, Cannon dropping a shot from Blackford, which the home centre forward pounced on and put into the net. Before ends were changed Otto reduced the lead, all three goals being scored inside five minutes. Jacobs held an early advantage in the second half, and Heron increased their lead, but after this Bohemians monopolised the play. It was at this stage that Collins's goal-keeping proved effective, and he saved a number of hard shots; indeed, it was his alertness which beat Bohemians in the closing minutes.

DUBLIN WINS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE TIE.

INTERMEDIATE FOOTBALL FINAL.

(BY PAT'O.)

St. Laurence O'Toole's called on the services of four players from outside teams for their Dublin selection against Meath in the National League tie at Croke Park yesterday. With P. McDonnell and P. Carey standing down, it was, to some extent, an experimental side, for Meath's reputation seemed to threaten no danger to the Dubliners, whose most formidable rivals in Leinster seem to be the Slaney men. Before a comparatively small attendance, Meath put up a creditable performance, and near the end a draw seemed likely. Dublin had a little in reserve, however, and finished with great dash, to win by a margin of four points. They are still unbeaten in League games, and seem likely to come through some more matches without losing a point.

The local team were attacking from the first whistle, and Peter Synott, bursting through on the left, readily kicked a point across. Meath played strongly in return, and, forcing the pace, Ratty balanced matters from a free close in, and after Clarke had run a goal through for Meath it was found he was inside the square when put in possession. Ratty compensated somewhat by kicking a neat point, setting Meath in front. Dublin were taking matters quietly, being content to play steady League football. The Synott brothers were prominent in attack, and from a free twenty yards out Stynnes notched a point, and set the teams once more on level terms. Dublin played better football towards the end of the half-hour, and Rennick was called on frequently in Meath's goal. He had some good assistance from Coffey and Keenan, but Dublin's forwards were working in fine harmony at this stage. Stynnes and O'Brien had further points before half-time, yet Meath continued to put up a determined struggle, and were particularly strong in defence.

Dublin—4 points.
Meath—2 points.

Dublin continued their aggressiveness on resuming. Norris and Hunt fed their front line; Stynnes ran a point through; Synott kicked another, and Grace, from far out, put Dublin well ahead when he shot their seventh point. Meath continued to persevere, however, and some long punting and accurate fielding by McIvor, Coffey and Ratty gave them a footing in O'Toole's territory. Indeed, Meath had a fine chance with only McDonnell to beat when they shot wide. They returned immediately to attack. McDonnell had to leave his posts to save, and Murray, racing in, drove the ball into an open goal for the only major score of the match. Fast football followed, for Meath were only two points behind, and were fighting hard for a goal. Norris brothers kept the visitors out, and when the Dublin men got away their polish and perfect understanding before goal sent them further ahead. The eighth point came from a rush, and Stynnes added another from a fine movement in which all the forwards participated. Meath fought ruggedly. Coffey, Keenan and Rennick played good football, and a little accuracy in shooting would have narrowed the gap. Meath are a young, enthusiastic side, who may run into the front rank in a year or two. Final score:—

Dublin—9 points.

Dublin—J. McDonnell, Norris (2), Fitzgerald O'Toole, Kelly, Synotts (3), O'Brien, C. McDonald, Stynnes, Grace, Hunt, Shanahan.

Meath—Rennick, Rafferty, Clusker, Coffey, Keelan, Colclough, Newman, Ratty, Curtis, McIvor, Kearns, Clarke, Keogan, Skeerin, Murray.

We expected a fast and clever display of football between McDermotts and O'Dwyers, and the latter were expected to add to their long list of successes this season. They had a big following from Balbriggan, and were at full strength. The McDermotts were the heavier and sturdier side, and when it came to football they were O'Dwyer's equals in every respect. Their fielding and shooting were very finished, and they have a backline which seem capable of holding out the best of our senior attackers. They, indeed, gave a very impressive display, and O'Dwyers, usually bright nippy forwards, were inept and harmless against O'Connor, Kennedy, Killeen, and Cuddy.

The football was of a close scrappy nature for fifteen minutes, and O'Dwyers seemed to have shed all their recent sparkle. Monks had a complete "off day," and could do nothing right. Fox and Kennedy scored two points for McDermotts, and though O'Dwyers made some very determined onslaughts (hitting the crossbar once), the City backs held them at bay, and the North Dublin men had a blank sheet at the half-way stage.

McDermotts—2 points.
O'Dwyers—Nil.

Curry, in O'Dwyers midfield, had borne the brunt of the work, and he continued to play robust and brainy football. He is one of the most promising of all our young players, and he fed his forwards repeatedly. McDermotts backs were rigid, however; O'Connor, Kennedy, and Killeen were rarely seen in better form, and Allen put his side three points ahead. Curry sent out to Knight, who centred quickly to Donnelly for the latter to score Balbriggan's only point. Brennan led up to a fourth score near the end

Sean McDermotts—4 points.
Balbriggan O'Dwyers—1 point.

Earlier in the day we had an exciting hour's hurling in the Intermediate semi-final between Kickhams and O'Tooles. From beginning to end it was a fast reckless game. Some regrettable temper was shown in the later stages, and two players from the O'Tooles were ordered off. Kickhams were quickest into their stride; for after Stephens had opened the scoring for O'Tooles, Hennessy sent three points across for Kickhams, and Powell (a very promising hurler) had a fourth. Thenceforward, it was a ding-dong match. A fine drive by P. McDonnell was doubled into the net by Stephens, but Layng negatived in finding the mark at the other end, giving Kickhams a three point lead at the interval. Costigan, Muldoon and Holland were playing steadily for Kickhams, as were Carey, Lennon, Dwyer, and Ivory for O'Tooles. after Kickhams had a point, O'Tooles came along in most determined fashion. McDonnell and Dwyer scored in succession, setting the teams level. Crowley brought off a wonderful save in Kickhams goal near the end, and when Howell landed a point off a free, O'Tooles were narrowly beaten. The winners meet Erin's Own in the final.

Kickhams—1 goal, 6 points (9).
O'Tooles—2 goals, 2 points (8).

GALWAY WIN FOOTBALL FINAL.

Galway won the 1925 Senior Football Championship yesterday at Tuam, beating Mayo by 1 goal and 5 points to 1 goal 3 points.

It was a strenuous game, very fast throughout, and the margin of superiority was indicated by the result. It was also a very closely contested match in the first half, and up to the last ten minutes the issue was undecided. At the interval Galway led only by a point. Mayo played a great game in the second half, and had the best of it for 20 minutes, when Henry gave them the lead by scoring a goal. The Galway men, however, broke down Mayo's attack, and Walsh, the captain, shot a goal, putting his side again ahead. The game finished with Galway pressing hard.

At the same venue Roscommon won the junior semi-final in hurling by defeating Mayo by 4 goals and 2 points to 3 goals and 1 point.

HANDBALL.

BRISK PLAY AT GUARDS' DEPOT.

Lively contests were witnessed in the Civic Guards' Depot yesterday in the inter-club matches Round Towers and Geraldines and Clontarf and Round Towers. The three matches in the latter were well fought, and many aces were only gained after brisk exchanges. In the first the Clondalkin players started off with the lead of two games to one from a previous date, when the match was postponed owing to the rain. With the first hand Wall tossed out 12 aces for the Round Towers, when Fetherston deposed him by lobbing in the right-hand corner, and with good tossing the Clontarf player soon reduced the lead, and, combining well with R. M'Ginn, who excelled in the play, they won the game after Stynes and Wall had added an ace to their score.

Round Towers took the lead 7-3, but their opponents in their next innings passed 7 all and held the advantage to 10. From 7-10 Stynes gave out unplayable tosses, and any that were returned Wall finished, and in his hand he finished the game.

R. Keogh and C. M'Mahon won the second match for Clontarf 3-0, but it was the strong tossing of R. Keogh that gave them the advantage. His partner played a grand all-round game.

M. Byrne and T. O'Carroll decided the issue for Clontarf by winning after the full rubber. They were evenly matched with J. Muldowney and Stynes and the feature was the close-in play.

The junior match was left undecided after two matches, as both teams were engaged in football fixtures. Details:—

Intermediate League—C. Stynes and W. Wall (R.T.) beat R. M'Ginn and W. Fetherston (Clontarf)—13-21, 21-10; R. Keogh and C. M'Mahon (Clontarf) beat J. Kiernan and K. O'Byrne (R.T.)—21-8, 21-20, 21-15. M. Byrne and T. O'Carroll (Clontarf) beat J. Muldowney and — Stynes (R.T.)—21-15, 20-21, 15-21, 21-18, 21-8.

Junior League—J. Moylan and F. Shouldice (Geraldines) beat W. and Ml. Farron (Round Towers)—18-21, 21-3, 21-3; P. Cooke and J. Muldowney (R.T.) beat J. Shouldice and J. Shevlin (Geraldines)—21-5, 21-5.

WANDERERS HOLD TRINIT[Y]

Following a blustery, threatening m[orning] Saturday afternoon turned out quit[e] and save for a rather stiff breeze wh[ich] a certain extent mitigated against length kicking, the conditions were [suit]able for the Rugby code. There we[re] Senior matches listed, and, while eac[h had] its own special attraction, the games [at] College Park and Donnybrook dre[w the] largest gathering. The surprise of the [after]noon was the fine display put [up by] Wanderers, who played up to reputat[ion] making a draw with Dublin Universi[ty, the] score being a penalty goal each. The [game] was productive of much good play, [parti]cularly by the Wanderers front ran[k, who] quite excelled themselves. Another [unex]pected result was the defeat of Lan[sdowne] by University College, the students' giving a very brilliant display. Bl[ackrock] College, as was more or less anticipat[ed, de]feated Old Wesley at Williamstown, [the] latter put up a plucky fight and led [at the] interval. Bective Rangers went und[er to a] strong side of Instonians, who sco[red eight] tries, five of which were converte[d. At] Castle avenue, Palmerston proved su[perior] over Clontarf, while Monkstown, tr[avelling] North, gave a meritorious perform[ance to] beat Queen's University. The mat[ches in] the Junior and Minor Leagues w[ere] keenly contested.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY (3) V. WANDERERS (3).

No matter how badly Wanderers may [play] they always put up a great fight again[st the] University in the College Park, and on [Saturday] they lived up to that reputation by pl[aying the] students to a draw, the scores being a pen[alty goal] kicked by Kennedy in the early stages of [the open]ing half, for Wanderers, to a penalty [goal by] Nunns in the second period, for Trinity. [It was a] most interesting and exciting game, [with] much open bright play and with a ra[ce] up right to the end. While admitting [that] 'Varsity had the better of matters territ[orially, and] looked like scoring oftener than Wand[erers, the] honours, however, must be given to the [Wanderers'] road combination, who surprised even [the most] optimistic of their supporters. INSTONIANS (28) V. BE[CTIVE] RANGERS (0).

A visit to Dublin from a team with [such a reputation] such as Instonians possess would, in [the ordinary] course of events, have attracted a lar[ge crowd to] Donnybrook on Saturday, but the fact [that Bective] Rangers, owing to injuries to players a[nd other] reasons, were unable to field anything [like their] strongest fifteen, acted as a deterrent [and the] crowd was moderate. WANDERERS HOLD TRINITY.

Following a blustery, threatening morning, Saturday afternoon turned out quite fine, and save for a rather stiff breeze which, to a certain extent mitigated against good-length kicking, the conditions were favourable for the Rugby code. There were five Senior matches listed, and, while each had its own special attraction, the games at the College Park and Donnybrook drew the largest gathering. The surprise of the afternoon was the fine display put up by Wanderers, who played up to reputation by making a draw with Dublin University, the score being a penalty goal each. The match was productive of much good play, particularly by the Wanderers front rank, who quite excelled themselves. Another unexpected result was the defeat of Lansdowne by University College, the students' backs giving a very brilliant display. Blackrock College, as was more or less anticipated, defeated Old Wesley at Williamstown, but the latter put up a plucky fight and led at the interval. Bective Rangers went under to a strong side of Instonians, who scored six tries, five of which were converted. At Castle avenue, Palmerston proved successful over Clontarf, while Mankstown, travelling North, gave a meritorious performance to beat Queen's University. The matches in the Junior and Minor Leagues were all keenly contested.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY (3) V. WANDERERS (3).

No matter how badly Wanderers may be doing they always put up a great fight against Dublin University in the College Park, and on Saturday they lived up to that reputation by playing the students to a draw, the scores being a penalty goal, kicked by Kennedy in the early stages of the opening half, for Wanderers, to a penalty goal, by Nunns in the second period, for Trinity. It was a most interesting and exciting game, possessing much open bright play and with a rare pace kept up right to the end. While admitting that the 'Varsity had the better of matters territorially and looked like scoring oftener than Wanderers, the honours, however, must be given to the Lansdowne road combination, who surprised even the most optimistic of their supporters. Both sides were below strength, Trinity being without D. J. Cussen and Wanderers without the Rev. R. Watson.

The result was a triumph for the Wanderers' front rank, who gave a capital display, and it was pleasing to see a department from which little was expected perform so well. Early in the game it was evident that the 'Varsity forwards were not going to have matters their own way, and midways through the opening half West, the Wanderers' captain, took Nowlan out of the pack to assist the defence. Even then the visitors' front rank held command in the scrums and up to the last ten minutes of the game they continued to more than hold their own. Though chief praise must be given to the Wanderers' forwards, the backs defended in the most resolute style. Despite all the effectiveness in combination of Millin and his men, they could not break through, and though in the last few minutes they made herculean efforts, they were held out to the end.

Kennedy, at full-back, for the visitors, gave one of his best displays. He kicked with great judgment, fielded safely and tackled splendidly. There was little to choose amongst the three-quarters. R. McKeever and Collins got through any amount of hard work in the centre, while J. Higginbotham and T. McKeever played finely on their respective wings. Great credit is due to Murray and Higginbotham, especially the former, for their excellent work at half—and the pair were always a thorn in the side of the 'Varsity "threes." West was the inspiration of the Wanderers' pack, and we have not seen him play a better game. Johnston, Fidler and Potterton are also deserving of the highest praise, and the manner in which the first-named "watched" Sugden was most effective.

The deadly tackling by Wanderers gave the 'Varsity backs very little scope, and though they had some clever movements, the ball seldom travelled along the whole line. The absence of Cussen and Cherry was, of course, a big loss, as Grealy and Dixon, who deputised, were only moderate. Grealy, who played last season for Clongowes, has good pace, but he lacks "fire" near the line, while Dixon was none too accurate in his taking of passing. Millin was the best of the back division, and next to him came Cussen and Nunns. Sugden had a trying time at the base of the scrum, and his passes were at times erratic. Flood, Dowse and A. Pike were the most noticeable of the forwards.

Wanderers, with the breeze in their favour, had the better of the opening half, and early on Collins had a good run to the 'Varsity "25." A passing bout by the home backs brought Trinity to beyond centre, but a rush by the Wanderers' forwards carried play back. At little inside half-way Trinity were penalised, and Kennedy kicked a great goal. A couple of passing movements by the 'Varsity looked dangerous after this, and from one bout Dixon seemed certain to score when dispatched into touch near the line by J. Higginbotham. Grealy also had a great chance, but he dropped his pass a few yards outside.

The second half was played at a very fast rate, and after ten minutes' play Nunns equalised the scores by landing a penalty goal. For fifteen minutes of this half Wanderers were without West, who, owing to injury, was forced to retire. The students had more of the play in this half, and towards the finish a hot siege was laid to the Wanderers' line. R. J. Cussen and Millin made strenuous efforts to penetrate, but the defence held sound to the end. Result:—

Dublin University—1 penalty goal (3 points).
Wanderers—1 penalty goal (3 points).

The teams were:—

Dublin University—E. W. Bingham; C. E. Nunns, H. L. Dixon, R. J. Cussen, T. J. Millin; C. Grealy, P. O'Donovan; M. Sugden, R. S. Flood, A. H. Pike, D. P. Chance, A. M. Buchanan, R. B. Pike, R. H. Dowse, R. G. Keays.

Wanderers—D. Kennedy; J. Higginbotham, R. McKeever, D. Collins, T. F. McKeever; P. Murray, C. F. Higginbotham; J. Fidler, C. C. Harte, J. W. Johnston, A. W. Nowlan, N. Potterton, J. K. Reilly, T. West (captain), D. T. Young.

INSTONIANS (28) V. BECTIVE RANGERS (0).

A visit to Dublin from a team with a reputation such as Instonians possess would, in the ordinary course of events, have attracted a large crowd to Donnybrook on Saturday, but the fact that Bective Rangers, owing to injuries to players and for other reasons, were unable to field anything like their strongest fifteen, acted as a deterrent, and the crowd was moderate. The result was in accordance with expectations, the visitors winning with ease by 5 goals and a try to nil. Taken generally, the game was a disappointing one, but occasionally there were some very spectacular movements by the winners which raised the enthusiasm of the crowd. The losers, in a sense, had far more of the play than the score would suggest, thanks to the effective scrummaging and spoiling of the forwards who all through the game got more of the ball in the scrums, but they very seldom looked like scoring. On the other hand, it was only a question of the Instonians backs getting the ball quickly from the scrums for a score to appear more than a probability. Between the respective back divisions there was no comparison. Not that the Instonians backs were seen at their best collectively, for they were somewhat bothered by the bustling tactics of the opposition and did not co-operate as well as usual, but individually they were far superior to those opposed to them.

Easily the outstanding player on the field was F. S. Hewitt, the Instonians centre, and whenever he came into possession he seemed to be able to do almost as he liked. He appeared to have devoted some attention to improving his speed since last season, and, this, allied to his general attitude and a powerful hand-off while running at top speed, proved too much for the Bective defence. Four of the tries were directly or indirectly due to his play. McDowell stuck to a tough job at the base of the scrum in his usual game manner, but, being badly hampered, did not succeed in getting the ball too quickly away. Hall did not attempt much individually, but served his centres well whenever the opportunity occurred. Abernethy made a few good runs, but neither Douglas nor McClenahan came much into the limelight, although the former got three good tries towards the end of the game. The forwards were better in the open play than in the scrums, and those to show up most were J. McDowell, Campbell, Neill and Goldsborough.

One could not say much in favour of the Bective backs; in attack they were a negligible quantity, and few of them tackled with any determination. Meldon and S. Ballagh were about the most useful. The forwards came out of the game with credit, scrummaging well, and although their movements were not concerted, doing some good work in the loose. Deering, who played in Junior football for Co. Kildare last season, was a very genuine worker throughout and tackled in no half-hearted manner, and Wade, Fagan and John Farrell also did well.

Hewitt scored the first two tries for Instonians, the second one being the result of a really fine solo effort, and, in the course of a run from beyond half-way he left a trail of fallen opponents who had unsuccessfully attempted to bowl him over. Both scores were beside the posts, and McClenahan had no difficulty in adding the extra points. Before the interval Neill got over for a soft try after receiving from a line-out from touch. For some time in the second half play was of a scrambling nature among the forwards, but eventually Hewitt again got away on a long run and his pass enabled Douglas to walk in for a try between the posts, and McClenahan again converted. Before the close Douglas scored two more tries, both of which McClenahan easily majorised from in front of the posts. The first one was the result of a clever run on his own and the second the outcome of good play by Hewitt and Abernethy. Teams:—

Bective Rangers—A. P. Atkins; D. O'Connor, J. Fitzgerald, C. L. Dickson; C. V. Meldon, S. Ballagh; J. C. Arigho; James Farrell; A. Wade, James McMurrough, C. Fagan, M. Deering, C. Downes, J. Sheehan, J. Farrell.

Instonians—G. A. Armstrong; A. C. Douglas (capt.), E. Abernethy, F. S. Hewitt, R. O. McClenahan; W. H. Hall, J. C. McDowell; H. Copeland, J. Neill, G. Dick, J. McDowell, H. Halliday, J. B. Goldsborough, J. P. Campbell, A. H. Millikin.

Referee—Mr. C. P. Stuart.

PALMERSTON (11) V. CLONTARF (5).

Perhaps, the two weakest teams we have in Rugby metropolitan circles met at Castle avenue on Saturday, when Palmerston won by a goal and two tries to a goal. This does not in any way disparage the respective contenders, for both are full of enthusiasm, and are doing a very great deal for the game. Each has a large membership, and ninety players were in action simultaneously at the Clontarf ground, and the home side can frequently boast of the ability to put five teams on the field. Palmerston have already shown their keenness by the acquisition of a new ground and spacious pavilion at Clonskeagh, and both Clontarf and Palmerston will get their turn when honours are being handed out, for adversity does not damp the ardour of triers. Both sides lacked weight in the pack on Saturday, and the game was mainly a forward rushing one.

Clontarf started uphill and with the wind against them, and Palmerston soon attacked. Several frees, taken by Seymour, relieved, Palmerston came again, and Clontarf being penalised for offside, Nicholson just missed from an easy position. Nicholson then gathered a cross-kick and sent Henchie away to put Wilson over at the left, for Nicholson to send wide. The play was mainly of the forward rushing order, and back play of the concerted sort was conspicuous for its absence on both sides. Clontarf were hard pressed for a time, and a loose rush by Palmerston ended in Ruddell scoring at the left, for Nicholson to add the points, and the Clonskeagh side led by 8 points clear at the interval.

In the second period it was expected that the home side, with the wind and slope in their favour, would do better, but they did not. Wild passing let them down, and C. and V. Kirwan and Russell brought play to the home 25. Ryan, McMahon and Carey cleared for Clontarf, and Seymour sent Miller away at midfield to score a most spectacular try, after showing great pace, and Seymour converted from a difficult angle. It looked like being a fighting finish, but in the closing stages Thompson put the issue out of doubt by scoring an unconverted try at the pavilion corner, and Palmerston won by six points.

For the winners V. Kirwan was sound at back, Nicholson and C. Kirwan were the best of the "threes," Russell very useful at half, and S. Kirwan, Wilson, Hill and Ruddell the best of a bustling pack. For Clontarf Nowlan played a very solid game in the last line of defence, Miller showed speed and resource, and Seymour was reliable in the three-quarter line. Allen and Bruen worked hard at half, and the best of the forwards were Carey, McMahon, Ryan, and E. A. Roche. Result:—

Palmerston—1 goal 2 tries (11 points).
Clontarf—1 goal (5 points).

Teams:—

Clontarf—G. S. Nowlan; J. S. Miller, E. N. Seymour, A. D. Browne, A. J. Hare; J. E. Allen, J. Bruen; E. A. Roche (capt.), O'S. Roche, D. Butler, M. J. McMahon, P. J. Kavanagh, W. E. Harrison, T. P. Carey, D. Ryan.

Palmerston—V. E. Kirwan; H. P. Nicholson, S. Henchie, F. P. Hussey, C. Kirwan; P. Phillips, R. E. Russell; C. M. Hill (capt.), S. V. Kirwan, J. R. Y. Wilson, D. D. Hussey, J. Kean, W. A. Ruddell, H. B. P. Anderson, T. A. Thompson.

Referee—Mr. W. H. Acton.

BLACKROCK COLLEGE (12) V. OLD WESLEY (3).

At Williamstown on Saturday Blackrock College, as anticipated, proved too strong for Old Wesley, and defeated them by 4 tries (12 points) to a penalty goal (3 points). Though they won by such a very sufficient margin it must be admitted that Blackrock gave a disappointing display. For fully three-quarters of the game—down to the last quarter of an hour—they were outplayed and circumvented by an Old Wesley side not at full strength; and not merely so, but they gave an unexpected exhibition of fumbling and messing. It is true that as a result of the rain that fell an hour or so before the match started the ball was soon greasy and slippy, and Old Wesley were playing as if, in spite of the odds, they were determined to know no defeat; but to anyone who had seen the neatness of handling by the Blackrock backs a week earlier and the general cleverness of the side then, the display on Saturday was a bad surprise. The side made some amends, of course, in the last fifteen minutes, but it was as if their opponents had stood up to them till the last ounce of strength had been put forth, and had then simply collapsed. There was no more fight in them. They were simply overrun—the first Blackrock score came from a regular sampede—and had time permitted Blackrock might apparently have added just as many scores as they liked, though even now not a kick at goal went truly or well.

Old Wesley, in spite of their defeat, as will be seen, very largely carried off the honours of the day. They were without Holland in the three-quarter line, but the line defended well, Richardson and Latimer being the pick. Nixon proved a very weak substitute for Kapp at full back, but Young was good at out half, and Toombe stuck well to his work at the base of the scrums. Grey, Love and Clegg were perhaps the pick of a fast and clever set of forwards. For Blackrock Willis was sound at full-back. Crowe in the centre, and McMullen on the left wing, were the best of a three-quarter line that only approached its real strength towards the close. It was an off day, too, for Blackrock place-kicking, for neither McMullen nor Crowe was successful, though one or two were very simple shots. Tierney did some good work at out-half, though he was not too sure in taking from Patton. Forward Broderick, Cogan and Keogh were noticeable in a hard-working pack.

Old Wesley had the best of the opening exchanges and were pressing at the home 25 when they were awarded a penalty free, from which Young placed a beautifully-judged goal. This was within the first few minutes, and not long afterwards a fine run by Young and McGowan and a forward dash headed by Grey put 'Rock again under pressure. However, the home side were soon showing up strongly, but an over-kick let the attack end in a touch-down. Then McMullen had a penalty kick at goal, but sent short. The clearance was fumbled and 'Rock came in a rush close up to the line, but the defence held out. A poor clearance by Nixon nearly resulted in McMullen getting over. Old Wesley put up a very hard defence, and the Blackrock backs showed little cleverness or mutual understanding in their attack. McMullen had a couple of penalty kicks at goal without success, and the interval was reached with Old Wesley leading by three points to nil.

For more than half the second period Old Wesley had quite as much of the play as their opponents. The Blackrock backs, however, were gradually beginning to work better together, though their attacks for a while missed fire. Crowe started a good run, but a forward pass spoiled. A good handling bout ended near the line with a wild kick and a touch down. Tierney had a good run, but Crowe knocked-on his pass. The pressure was kept up, and the Old Wesley defence at last succumbed. 'Rock overran them with a grand forward rush, and from a capital round of passing Kenny scored, but McMullen's kick failed. From other subsequent fine bouts of passing McMullen scored twice, but failed to convert; and finally, from a sweeping forward rush G. Gleeson added the fourth try, but Crowe just failed with the kick, the ball hitting the cross-bar. Result:—

Old Wesley—1 penalty goal (3 points).

Teams:—

Blackrock College—E. Willis; L. D. Stanley, A. Kenny, M. Crowe, L. D. McMullen; P. J. Tierney, W. Patton; G. Gleeson, G. Broderick, S. Keogh, J. Cloonan, M. Gleeson, M. Cogan, B. Maguire, J. Dempsey.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE (8) V. LANSDOWNE (6).

The two points' victory of University College, a goal and a try against Lansdowne's two penalty goals, at Lansdowne road on Saturday, must have surprised the winners themselves. The Lansdowne forwards had the better of matters, and most of the play took place in University territory. The backs played neat and accurate football, and many well-conceived movements went well up to a certain point. A try seemed constantly imminent, but the final bit of dash or inspiration was lacking. The students' determined and uncompromising defence held, and their line was never crossed.

Lansdowne, with the advantage of the wind, at once set up an attack, and Jack landed a penalty goal. Soon after E. Davy, getting from a scrum at midfield, cut through and, passing to Buckley, left him with only Crawford to beat, as the latter went for him. Buckley transferred to Lawler, who easily got over, but the kick at goal failed. Lansdowne pressed continuously; Harris and McGuire, on opposite wings, had several dashes. Jack and Hogan opened out the game, but nothing tangible resulted until just before half-time, when a magnificent place kick by Crawford from a penalty near the touch line put his side three points ahead.

In the second half Lansdowne still attacked. Crawford, from half-way, was barely short with a fine attempt to drop a goal. Jack often set his three-quarter line going, but all to no avail. The 'Varsity defence was superb. At last play swung towards the Lansdowne 25. E. Davy sent to Buckley, who dodged through with Lawler close behind, and once more the pair bore down on Crawford. The latter hung back a little, Buckley feinted to pass out, and, swerving in, was over for a fine try, which McCarron converted. This put the College ahead, and, though Lansdowne attacked persistently, the end came without further score.

To the University defence the greatest credit is due. McCarron, E. Davy, and McGowan all did heroic work in this respect. Buckley and Lawler worked splendidly together on the right wing, and the two tries which they shared were remarkable for understanding, resourcefulness and opportunism of high quality. The forwards did their part in defence, Brosnan, Lyddy and Winters being most prominent. For Lansdowne Crawford was at times brilliant; he might, perhaps, have taken down Buckley when the latter scored, but Lawler was there to take a transfer, and might have scored in any case. Jack gave his three-quarter backs plenty of opportunities, but there was a singular lack of the unexpected in the methods of this line. The forwards were good to a man and deserve sympathy for having been on the losing side. Result:—

Lansdowne—2 penalty goals (6 points).

Teams:—

University College—E. T. McCarrin; J. G. Lawler, J. Buckley, J. G. Fitzgerald, T. J. Morris; E. Davy, P. W. McGowan; M. Brosnan, J. C. Lyddy, J. F. Cullen, A. J. Culhane, J. J. Winters, P. A. Smyth, L. Devereux, C. S. Flynn.

Lansdowne—W. E. Crawford; T. V. Harris, T. V. Davy, G. P. S. Hogan, R. E. McGuire; T. O'Reilly, H. W. Jack; M. Bell, W. G. Brown, M. Dunn, E. A. Heard, J. McEnery, E. G. Pemberton, T. O. Pike, T. Travers.

Referee—Mr. T. Bell.

MONKSTOWN (11) V. QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY (9).

Monkstown, travelling several short of their usual side, were rather lucky to gain a victory over Queen's University at Belfast on Saturday. Queen's lost the services of V. Craig midway through the first half owing to an ankle injury, and J. N. M'Fecters, their right wing three-quarter, after palpably limping for a time, did not resume after the interval. In spite of these disadvantages Queen's seemed to have a better share of the play than in the first moiety, and in the last ten minutes nearly pulled off a win. Then a big rush took them almost to the line, and the ball was there for anyone to pick up and go over, but no one could do it. It must be said, however, that Queen's were fortunate in having an early three points lead, as after a Monkstown player had kicked the ball back to nearly his own posts the visitors were penalised for lying on the ball, and Stewart easily landed a penalty goal. Up to this Monkstown had had the best of the exchanges, Pickeman and Ganly opening up very well, while in the loose the forwards invariably over-ran the 'Varsity pack. It was from one of these rushes that eventually Todd got over, Pickeman just failing with a splendid kick. Later Ganly cut clear through and scored beside the posts, Pickeman goaling. On the other side M'Kee later partially emulated his performance. He did not succeed in scoring, but hard scrummaging at the line, Rea slipped over, Stewart failing to convert. Monkstown accordingly crossed over leading 8 points to 6.

Dickson came out on the wing vice M'Fecters in the second half, and the depleted pack made a wonderfully good attempt to hold their opponents. They compared very favourably in the matter of possession, and the game became more open as it progressed. Though the halves on both sides worked admirably, the passing of the three-quarters was slow, and as a consequence movements were easily checked. One burst by Gage looked promising, but Monkstown touched down. Forward play carried the Dublin side back, and strong pressure culminated with Murphy going over, Pickeman missing the kick. Then Carruth scored far out, Rea failing to enchance. Several times after this the Monkstown three-quarters were on the move, only to find Stewart unbeatable. From a free Pickeman almost dropped a goal, the ball just falling short, and in the closing stages Queen's, bursting away, should have scored, but failed. Result:—

Monkstown—1 goal 2 tries (11 points).
Queen's University—1 penalty goal 2 tries (9 points).

Teams:—

Queen's University—J. W. Stewart; J. N. M'Fecters, G. F. Magarran, J. H. Gage, H. C. Armstrong; M. A. Rea, F. M'Kee; G. Caruth (capt.), V. Craig, N. W. Calvin, A. H. Common, M. L. Foster, K. Forsythe, J. Gorley, D. A. C. Knight.

Monkstown—J. M. O'Sullivan; C. M'Caldin, A. Swanton, D. L. O'Brien, R. H. Brett; J. D. Ganley, D. C. Pickeman; J. F. Murphy, R. A. Ross Todd, E. C. G. Mulhern, S. N. Lane, G. Carrol, H. A. Brittain, M. A. O'Reilly, M. J. Byrne.

Referee—Mr. A. Strain (Malone).

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY 2ND (5) V. COUNTY KILDARE (3).

Trinity 2nd paid a visit to Naas on Saturday, when the Co. Kildare Club opened their season. The home club were below strength, being without Ellison O'Flaherty, Keoghan and R. Brophy, but the substitutes gave a good account of themselves. A keen, fast game resulted, and if forward play predominated it was not of the kick and rush order, but full of clever and fast following up. The home side kicked off, and for a long time confined the visitors to their own territory; but the Trinity defence was sound, and Forsyth unbeatable. Early in the second half Baker, Robinson, Weir, and Hewett all handled before the latter scored under the posts. Forsyth added the extra points. J. Brophy kicked a penalty goal for the homesters. For the winners, Forsyth, at full-back, was very safe and kicked a good length. Baker, at "five eighths," proved a success, and had a hand in all the passing moves as well as kicking judiciously. Of the other backs, O'Donnel and Hewett (the wing three-quarters) and Woods (scrum half) were best. Forward, Lyburn, Anderson and Bam were the prominent figures in a very fast pack. For the losers, J. O'Connor was in fine form at full-back, and kicked with great accuracy and length. Of the three-quarters, Lawler and Gaffney were best, the latter being particularly good in defence. Osborne and O'Dowd hit it off well at half. Of a heavy pack, who were not fit, Sargent, E. O'Connor and Gibson were best. Score:—

Dublin University 2nd—1 goal (5 points).
Co. Kildare—1 penalty goal (3 points).

Teams:—

Dublin University 2nd—Forsyth; O'Donnell, Robinson, Weir; Hewett, Millar, Woods, Baker; Lyburn, Pratt, Barnett, Bam, Anderson, Williams, Graham.

Co. Kildare—J. O'Connor; Lawler, Gaffney, Johnson, Mooney; O'Dowd, Osborne; Sargent, E. O'Connor, Brophy, Dunne, Gibson, Forde, O'Donnell Hennessy.

LONDON IRISH (23) V. U.C.S. OLD BOYS (0).

London Irish, who have so far won three of their four games this season, defeated the U.C.S. Old Boys on Saturday by four placed goals and one penalty goal to nil. Play from the start was vigorous, the Irish forwards dominating the game. After five minutes J. McKeever kicked a penalty goal for the Irish, and a few minutes later, as a result of a forward rush, Morgan scored, McKeever converting. The Old Boys were for the most part on the defensive, and C. J. S. O'Malley was feeding the Irish backs well. Following a bout of passing J. Dollar scored behind the posts after a good run, McKeever again converting. Soon afterwards a forward rush led by the Irish captain, S. J. Cagney, ended in the International scoring between the posts, McKeever having no difficulty in converting.

The second half was much more evenly contested, the Old Boys' backs getting more of the ball. The Irish defence was, however, sound, and following a dribble, in which Cagney, Reid and Morgan were conspicuous, the latter scored his second try of the match, McKeever again scoring.

The features of the match were the good display of the Irish forwards, who were splendidly led by Cagney. Morgan seems likely to develop into a forward of the highest type. Amongst the backs C. J. S. O'Malley deserves a word of praise for his work at the base of the scrum, whilst McKeever's place-kicking from all angles was ideal. T. Ryan, McKeever's partner at centre, who played with the Blackrock College Cup team last season, showed up well both in attack and defence.

MUNSTER SENIOR LEAGUE.

At the Markets Enclosure, Limerick, on Saturday, in inclement weather, Garryowen played University College, Cork, in the Munster Senior League. The ground was soft and holding and the play disappointing. Ten minutes after the start Price scored for the Garryowen, but the goal-kicking was faulty. University attacked subsequently and, receiving a nice pass at the quarter-way, Jagoe eluded the opposition, to score far out. The try was not converted. The second half was altogether in favour of Garryowen. Reynolds got over from a scramble in the College 25, but failed to add the points. Then, from a movement at the centre, Price received and raced over for a try, which was not improved on, and before the end McNara scored. Result:—

Garryowen—4 tries (12 points).
University College—1 try (3 points).

ULSTER SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

COLLEGIANS (14) v. BANGOR (0).

Bangor had Collegians as visitors in the Senior Championship, and, though they put up a sound display, they found that the Collegians' backs were too clever. Long scored an unconverted try in the first half, and in the second tries by Hillyard and Grant were registered, and also not enhanced. Before the finish, however, Hillyard crossed near the posts, and McKee converted. Result:—

Collegians—1 goal 3 tries (14 points).
Bangor—Nil.

LURGAN (21) v. KNOCK (0).

Knock continue to suffer defeat, as at Lurgan, in the Championship, they failed to score, and the home side ran out winners of a one-sided game. Hayes and Malcolmson scored tries in the first half, which Pedlow converted. In the second Sproule scored twice and Gracey once, the latter's effort being improved upon by Pedlow. Result:—

Lurgan—3 goals 2 tries (21 points).
Knock—Nil.

NAVAN (7) v. EDENDERRY (0).

On the Navan Show Grounds, on Thursday, Edenderry was defeated by Navan after a very interesting game, which was well attended notwithstanding the poor weather. Navan has come to the front greatly, the team having been successful in its two initial games—Edenderry on Thursday and Kells on the previous Thursday. In the game at Navan the forwards did well. A distinguishing feature was the quickness with which E. J. Finucane secured a dropped goal, and a short time afterwards, following some loose play near the Edenderry line, G. Darker (Navan) raced over for a fine try from a five yards scrum. W. M. Kirk's kick at goal went low. These were the only two scores of the match though the Navan forwards were always pressing in the visitors' 25 throughout the game. Score:—

Navan—7 points.
Edenderry—Nil.

Teams:—

Edenderry—J. Birmingham; W. and J. McNally, G. and P. Kelly; K. O'Toole, D. Patterson; W. Witchell, A. Bell, M. O'Brien, E. Moore, E. Robinson, J. McNamee, P. Mullally, E. Baine.

Navan—J. Finegan; J. Doris, A. Grey, E. J. Finucane, C. Crinion; A. P. Healy, W. Lacy; G. Hodgett, W. M. Kirk, D. McGuinness, J. J. Reilly, G. Darker, J. Keogan, R. Finegan, J. Reilly.

Navan team beat Kells, in Kells, last week by 14 points to 5.

INTERNATIONAL FORWARD ORDERED OFF THE FIELD.

Quite a sensation was caused at Northampton by the ordering off the field of A. F. Blakiston, the English International forward and captain of Northampton, in the match between Northampton and St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Some loose forward play was going on when Blakiston was sent off by G. Stephens, the old Moseley player, who was refereeing the game. It was impossible to see what had occurred from the Press box. After the game Blakiston was interviewed, but he said he thought it was in the best interests of Northampton that he had better not say anything. He added that he knew nothing about the incident for which he was sent off. The referee declined to discuss the matter.

PONTYPOOL CLUB AND ROUGH PLAY QUESTION.

Following upon the recent speech of Mr. Horace Lyne, the President of the Welsh Rugby Football Union, in which he appealed to clubs to drop players guilty of foul practice, the Pontypool Club officials on Saturday addressed a letter to the Union Secretary, suggesting that it should be compulsory upon a club which dropped a player for that reason to endorse their sanction to his removal to another club. At present, the letter stated, a player finds no difficulty in getting a place in a neighbouring team. If this suggestion were carried out, other clubs would be warned, and the Union might keep an interested eye upon his subsequent career.

ST. ANDREW'S COLLEGE v. WESLEY COLLEGE.

St. Andrew's College J.C.T. defeated Wesley College J.C.T. on Saturday by 16 points to nil. M'Caughty (3), Roulston, and Jones scored, Mitchell converting twice. Preston, at scrum-half, played a fine game for the winners, while Kingston, Atwell, M'Guire, and de Courcy were the pick of the Wesley team.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, DUBLIN, F.C.

The annual general meeting will be held to-morrow at 8 p.m., in University College. All members are requested to attend.

KING'S HOSPITAL v. MASONIC SCHOOL.—Played at Clonskeagh, King's Hospital winning by 2 goals (10 points) to 2 tries (6 points).

IRISH ZINGARI TOUR.

AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING.

The Irish Zingari played a match against St. George's Hill over the latter club's course at Weybridge yesterday.

The match served as a practice game for the Irishmen, who play the first of their arranged fixtures to-day.

The home club were beaten by eleven games to four. The Irishmen won all the foursomes, and led on the singles by six matches to four.

In the top match of the singles H. H. Hodges (St. George's Hill), going round in an approximate 73, defeated Captain Martin by 5 and 3.

IRISH LADIES' UNION.

MIDLAND BRANCH MEETING.

A meeting of the Midland Branch was held at Portarlington, when the following officers were elected:—Mrs. Harry de Courcy Wheeler (Robertstown), Hon. Secretary; Mrs. Minch (Athy), Hon. Treasurer; Committee—Miss Toomey (Athy), Mrs. Greening (Kilmeague), Mrs. Johnson (Moate), Miss A. Daly (Tullamore), Miss Smith (Edenderry). Selectors—Rev. L. M. Hewson (Ballinafagh), Mrs. Webb (Athy), Mrs. Neale (Newbridge), Mrs. Edward Colton (Tullamore), Miss Kathleen Smith (Edenderry).

The first test match will be played to-morrow at Robertstown, at 3 o'clock sharp between Kilmeague and Athy, and selectors are requested to attend. The Midlands district is comprised in the triangle formed by Athlone-Trim-Carlow.

BRITISH ARMY ON THE RHINE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Captain C. B. G. Stevens (1st Oxford and Bucks Regiment) won the championship of the British Army on the Rhine at Cologne on Saturday, defeating Captain Aitken (Royal Engineers) in the final by 6 and 5.

HOLE IN 1 FOR LORD LURGAN.

At Addington on Saturday Oxford University opposed a strong team of the home club over singles and foursomes. Addington won the singles by eight matches to four, and each side scored three wins in the foursomes, so that Oxford were beaten by four points.

In the top game T. A. Torrance, the Irish open champion, scored a comfortable win over A. D. Cave, the Oxford captain, by 4 and 3.

At the second hole on the new course, over which the contest was played, Lord Lurgan holed out in 1. In the foursomes Torrance and the Hon. W. Brownlow gained an overwhelming win over Cave and J. H. Taylor by 7 and 6.

PROFESSIONALS AT TANDRIDGE PARK.

Harry Vardon and Alex. Herd opposed Ted Ray and A. R. Baker, the local professional, in two exhibition four-ball matches on the Tandridge Park course at Oxted, Surrey, on Saturday. In the first the couples finished level, and later Herd and Vardon defeated Ray and Baker by 3 and 2.

TARIFF ON FOREIGN BARLEY FAVOURED.

KILKENNY FARMERS UNABLE TO FIND A MARKET.

When, at a meeting of the County Kilkenny Agricultural Committee, a resolution was passed favouring a tariff of 5s. per cwt. on foreign barley, Mr. McGrath, secretary, Kilkenny Farmers' Union, said that in the report submitted by the conference of barley growers they were asking them to till more land. It seemed to him that some of these people were enemies of the farmers instead of being their friends.

In County Kilkenny they had farmers with thousands of barrels of barley for which they could not get a market.

Mr. Dunne said that the conference recommended that anybody who got land must distribute it and that they should till 25 per cent. He thought that if the people who were applying knew that, they would not apply for very much land.

Colonel Poer O'Shee was of the opinion that it was a dangerous thing to impose a tariff from the point of view of the manufacture of beer and whiskey in this country. There was a probability of these firms closing down and going over to England.

Mr. Brophy said that foreign barley should be kept out, as at the present time there were enormous cargoes on the Liffey, while farmers were hawking their produce throughout the country to get a sale for it. He did not think that Messrs. Guinness were going to run away from Ireland.

Pitman Fellowship.—A Committee meeting of the Dublin Branch of the Pitman Fellowship was held last Saturday at 100 Lower Mount street. Arrangements were made in connection with the presentation of prizes by Mr. James Hynes (of Messrs. Pitman's London House) next Friday evening. Mr. Hynes, who founded the Fellowship, is an Irishman, and will deliver an address on the occasion. It was decided to hold a whist drive on 21st November and a social evening on 12th December.

Blackrock Debating Society.—The fortnightly meeting took place last Saturday night, when Mr. F. J. Carton proposed:—"That the Government should set up a Commission with a view to effecting a reconciliation between the Republicans and the Free State supporters." The principal speaker on the negative side was Mr. E. P. O'Keeffe. The discussion was joined in by, amongst others, Sir H. McLaughlin, Frank J. Hugh O'Donnell, Dr. King, ex-Major-General P. O'Daly, Miss O'Donnell, C. McKernon, U.D.C. The motion was declared carried. Mr. William Field presided.

Bray District Court.—Bray District Court will in future sit on every first, third and fourth Friday in each month. Hitherto the Court has sat on Saturdays. Mr. Liam Price, District Justice, in making the announcement, said that he believed the change would be a convenient one. He would continue to sit in the Town Hall, provided the Bray Urban Council did not object.

PASSENGERS BY B. AND I. LINE, VIA LIVERPOOL.

ARRIVALS:—Major-General Du Pree, Captain Henry, Senator and Mrs. Douglas, Colonel and Mrs. Kenny, Lady Cheetham, J. A. Jameson, J. D. Nugent, M. T. Brown, H. Walsh, A. Walker, Mrs. and Miss F. Casement, J. O'Loughlin, E. McDermott, L. Kerr, O. H. Donnelly.

DEPARTURES:—L. L. Dix, J. Geoghegan, P. J. Hickey, T. Hartford, Captain Fetherstonhaugh, William Griffith, J. D. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. O'Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. Haldene, Arthur Cannon, E. Allen.

LEINSTER.

Assistant Circuit Judge.—The Ministry of Justice announces that Mr. Bernard Roche, B.L., will sit as temporary Assistant Circuit Judge at Tullamore on next Monday, 26th October.

Longford Funeral.—The funeral took place on Saturday from St. Mel's Cathedral, Longford, of Mr. P. E. Fitzgerald, Main street, Chairman of the local branch of the Licensed Grocers' and Vintners' Association since its inception. He was for many years a member of the Town Council.

Dead on Roadside.—At an inquest held by Dr. M. Gray (Coroner) on the body of a farmer, Patrick Mulshay, of Rosduff, Co. Longford, who was found dead on the roadside at Arva, near Cavan, the jury returned a verdict of death from heart failure.

Potato Prices in Kilkenny.—The retail price of potatoes in Thomastown shops is 1s. per stone, while the contract price to Thomastown County Home, from Kilkenny City, carriage paid, is only 12s. 10½d. per barrel, or 7½d. per stone.

St. John Ambulance Corps.—At a public meeting, in St. Mary's Hall, Mullingar, it was decided to establish a branch of the St. John Ambulance First Aid Corps in Mullingar. Mr. Jukes, Divisional Superintendent, St. John Ambulance Brigade, Dublin, was present, and explained the aims and objects of the Association.

Surprise Visit to Creamery.—An Inspector of the Department, under the Dairy Produce Act, paid a surprise visit to Thomastown Co-operative Creamery on Saturday morning, and, it is stated, rejected milk from 14 suppliers, because of the cans in which it was conveyed being dirty.

Cattle Seizures.—Mr. Michael Conroy, bailiff, and three assistants, accompanied by Civic Guards, visited 20 farmers in Mullinavat and Kilmacow districts on Friday last, for the purpose of effecting seizure in pursuance of decrees for annuities obtained by the Irish Land Commission. On the farm of Thomas Corcoran, Rossinanane, Mullinavat, ten cattle were seized, and seven on the farm of Thomas Walsh, in the same district. As the cattle were being driven away the amount of the decrees and costs was paid. In the other eighteen cases settlements were arrived at.

MUNSTER.

Cows Seized for Law Costs.—A number of cows were seized in the Corofin, Co. Clare, district on last Friday, for the non-payment of law costs.

Cruelty to Fowl.—James Toohey, Nenagh, was fined 7s. 6d. and costs, at Borrisokane District Court, for cruelty to fowl by congestion with their heads downwards.

Limerick Chamber of Commerce.—Mr. F. J. Cleeve has been elected President, and Mr. J. E. Goodbody, Vice-President, of Limerick Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing twelve months.

Grant for Drainage.—The Secretary (Mr. F. W. Taylor), of the L. G. Department, has notified the North Tipperary County Council that a grant of £2,000 has been placed at their disposal for the drainage of lands in the Kilmastulla (Nenagh) district.

Youthful Poachers.—At Borrisokane District Court, four young boys, Jos. McCarthy, Patrick and William Cooley and Michael Gleeson, were prosecuted by Mr. H. B. Dalton, Clerk, Limerick Board of Conservators, for having been found beating the Borrisokane River with poles and nets for the purpose of capturing fish. Each of the defendants were fined £2 and costs.

Manslaughter Charge.—At Ennis District Court Matthew O'Halloran, 30 Denmark street, Limerick, was remanded on bail, charged with the manslaughter of Patrick Casey, farmer, of Drumline, Newmarket-on-Fergus. Casey was found on the road near Newmarket with his head crushed, and it is alleged by the prosecution that his fatal injuries were caused in a collision with a motor driven by the accused.

Alleged Embezzlement.—At Limerick District Court, Francis Geraghty was charged with alleged embezzlement of £103 from the New Ireland Insurance Company. Mr. Gaffney, solicitor for the defendant, said that he would hand in the amount in question to the Court, and as there was a sum of money due to his client he asked the Court to adjourn the case for a fortnight in order to ascertain the amount due to him. If there was any more money due by the defendant he would pay it to the company. The application was granted.

Co. Limerick Lands.—A meeting of the residents of the Murroe and surrounding districts was held at Murroe (Co. Limerick) to consider the adoption of steps for securing for landless and uneconomic holders and evicted tenants the lands of Glenstal, consequent on the departure of Sir Charles Barrington for England, and also the Farnane Estate lands. The Rev. Father Kearney, C.C., presided, and addresses were delivered by Mr. P. K. Hogan, T.D.; Mr. R. O'Connell, T.D.; and Mr. John Clancy, T.D. It was decided to form a branch of the Association dealing with the distribution of land, and a request was sent to the Land Commission to set up the necessary machinery for the distribution of the lands concerned.

Cruelty to Animals.—At Midleton District Sessions, John McCann, who did not appear, was fined 10s. and costs for cruelty to an ass while suffering from a sore. Thomas Cuddigan, summoned for cruelty to a horse, was fined 15s. and costs. Defendant did not appear. William Hickey was fined 7s. 6d. and costs for cruelty to a horse.

A Faithful Dog.—The National Canine Defence League has forwarded to Mr. Joseph Molloy, Old Mill street, Ennis, a medal for his greyhound, "Speed," in recognition of its sagacity and faithfulness to its master. Molloy was recently buried in a rabbit burrow for thirty-one hours by heavy stones, which pinned him to the ground. During that time his greyhound remained by his side, scratching at the stones to release him, and eventually brought a search party to his rescue.

The Ratepayers' Burden.—Apologising for his absence from meetings of the Clare County Council, Mr. John Hedderman has written recommending that "all new offices created since 1920 be abolished; that the pensions of officials who retired under the amalgamation scheme be reduced by one-third, and that a similar 'cut' be imposed on the salaries of existing officials." In his opinion, "it is bad business to have the officials of the county living in luxury and grandeur while the ratepayers, who are so hard hit, are living in poverty and misery."

CONNAUGHT.

T.D. Fined.—At the Carrick-on-Shannon District Court on Saturday Sean O'Farrell, Republican T.D., was fined 10s. and costs for using a bicycle at Drumsna without a light. Guard Galligan, who served the summons, said that the defendant told him he had not the slightest notion of coming to court.

Failure to Stamp Cards.—The Minister of Industry and Commerce, at the Carrick-on-Shannon District Court, decreed James O'Reilly, merchant, for £14 odd for failing to stamp the unemployment cards of two employés named Moran and McGowan, and, in summonses by the National Health Insurance Commissioners, for failing to stamp the cards of the same two employés. O'Reilly was fined 2s. 6d. in each case, and ordered to pay 8d. and 11s. 4d. in Moran's case, and 8d. and 5s. 4d. arrears in McGowan's case.

Operatic Society Summoned.—At the Carrick-on-Shannon District Court on Saturday, when the local operatic and choral society was summoned for failing to stamp admission tickets at a recent production of "Maritana," it was declared that the reason for not stamping the tickets was that it was thought this came under the head of educational and was exempted. It was staged at a loss. Justice Kenny adjourned the case, expressing the opinion that the production was educational, and asked the State Solicitor (Mr. Lynch) to put his views before the Commissioners. If the entertainment was not educational he did not know what was, and the sooner the Commissioners recognised this the better. He thought objects like this should be fostered.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

Claim for £400.—Omagh Rural Council on Saturday received notice of a malicious injury claim for £400 from Mr. James Leslie, Drumlish, for the burning of his dwelling-house and out-offices on the 7th October. The claim was referred to the Council's solicitor.

Good Price for Grass Seed.—In Armagh Market on Saturday grass seed reached the highest figure this season, perennial selling at £1 2s. 6d. per cwt. There was a very large supply of seed in the market, and it was all bought up.

Girl Guides.—At the annual meeting of the Londonderry Girl Guides, Miss Mary Osborne, County Secretary, in her annual report, stated that the Ambulance Cup had been won by Patrol Leader A. Mitchell, of the 2nd Londonderry Company; £95 5s. 6d. had been sent in response to the appeal of the Deputy Chief Commissioner, the Duchess of Abercorn, for the Ulster Headquarters Extension and Training Fund. The report was adopted, on the motion of Mrs. Peacocke, seconded by Mrs. A. F. Cooke. Miss M. A. Hair (Blue Cord Diploma), Scotland, who has just completed the successful conduct of a training week in Londonderry for Guides, delivered an address.

"The Worst in Ireland."—Major Stewart, M.C., declared at Clogher Council meeting on Saturday that the Tyrone roads were most disgraceful, and the worst in Ireland. Mr. A. Moutray, D.L., complained of tarred roads being unsuitable to horses, which, he said, might be kept in the stables altogether when the frosty weather came.

A Vacant Aldermanship.—Lord Londonderry, having resigned the Aldermanship of St. Anne's Ward, in the Belfast Corporation, Councillor J. A. Doran, J.P., has been selected by the Ward Unionist Association for the vacancy. Mr. David Shane, a member of the Poor Law Board, has been selected for the Councillorship.

"A Terrible Record."—At the Belfast Quarter Sessions, David Shaw pleaded not guilty to two charges of breaking and entering the offices of William Kirk and L. Wood, Upper Queen street, on the 14th September last. The jury convicted, and in deferring sentence the Recorder said that the accused had a terrible record.

Theft of Cash Box.—At the Belfast Quarter Sessions, George Shaw was found guilty of the theft of a cash box the property of Messrs. Anderson and M'Auley, which contained cash amounting to £32 13s. 10d., along with a cheque for £7 10s. 9d. and I.O.U. to the amount of £84. Sentence was deferred. Prisoner declared that he was innocent, and that it was the police who were manufacturing evidence against him. Mr. Mussen, Crown Solicitor, read out a list of previous convictions against prisoner, extending from 1897 until July, 1924, which prisoner admitted were correct.

New Co. Down Rectors.—At a meeting of the Board of Nomination of Annalong Parish, the Rev. Thomas Henry Lyons was appointed Rector of Annalong in succession to the Rev. J. Quinn, M.A. The Rev. James Johnston, M.A., has been appointed Rector of Tyrella and Rathmullen, in the Diocese of Down, in succession to the Rev. H. A. Jones.

Husband's Ordeal.—A Belfast burning tragedy, in which Mrs. Louisa Kennedy (34), of James street (Shankill road district), lost her life on the 4th October last, was the subject of an inquest held on Saturday, at which a verdict of "Accidental death" was returned. Evidence given by the woman's husband was that he was awakened at 3 a.m. by a smell of smoke, and on dashing downstairs discovered his wife lying at the yard door with her clothes in flames. When his wife recovered consciousness she told him that while warming some milk for the baby on the gas ring she took a weak turn and fell on the gas tube. The disconnected tube became ignited, and her clothes were set on fire.

Analyst's Exposure.—Mr. John Hawthorne, Belfast, analyst for Londonderry, in his quarterly report to the Corporation, states that three samples of custard powder submitted for analysis consisted mainly of cornflour with a little arrowroot and traces of colouring and flavouring materials. One egg powder sample received was mainly ground rice with about 10 per cent. of baking powder and traces of cornflour and yellow colouring matter. The analyst adds:—"As the labels indicated to any purchaser who cared to read them that these products contained neither milk or eggs no action can be taken."

Education Hampered.—Addressing Clogher Branch, I.N.T.O., on Saturday, Mr. John Harbison, J.P., Belfast, Northern District Representative C.E.C., said that it was a matter for regret that in the Northern Government economy programme the Education vote was the first to suffer. He criticised the inspection system as unfair, and said that there must be something seriously wrong when hundreds of teachers that had been sanctioned and recognised by the Department were now reported on as "not efficient." Mr. John M'Nelis, Representative I.N.T.O., said that next to Fermanagh Tyrone had the worst record for school attendance of any of the six counties, the backward state of education being due to irregular attendance and the age at which children left school.

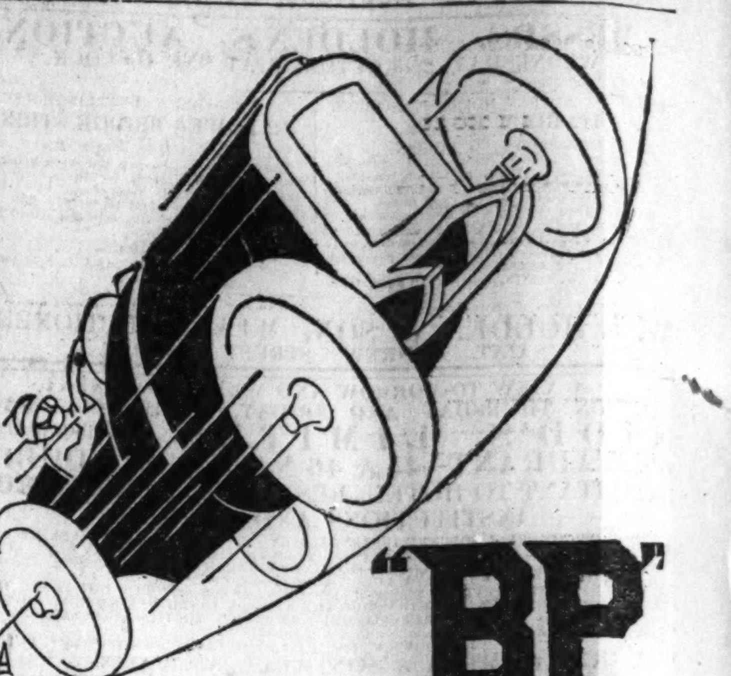

Derry Butter Price Increased.—The price of butter in Derry has been increased to 2s. 6d. per lb.

NORTHERN TEACHERS' PENSIONS.

SUGGESTED MONTHLY PAYMENT.

In the course of a letter from the Ministry of Finance, Northern Ireland, regarding the delay in awarding pensions to retired teachers, read at a meeting of the Ulster Teachers' Union Executive in Belfast on Saturday, it is stated that steps have already been taken to obviate, as far as possible, any delay in this department. The letter adds that "in some cases it would appear that teachers are unaware that on retirement it is necessary to make application for pension, and it has been noticed that very often three months have elapsed before the teacher informs this department that he desires to retire on pension."

In conclusion it is pointed out that the question of monthly payments instead of quarterly has already received full consideration, but it was considered inadvisable to introduce this innovation, as the costs of administrating the Teachers' Pension Fund, with all its allied activities, would increase to an abnormal degree.

"BP" MOTOR SPIRIT

The World's Fastest Car

The highest speed ever attained by a motor car—152.833 miles an hour—was accomplished by Mr. Malcolm Campbell at Pendine Sands on July 21st, when he created new World's records for the mile and the kilometre with his Sunbeam car, using "BP" Motor Spirit.

Over the measured mile Capt. Campbell's average speed for two runs in different directions was 150.776 miles an hour.

"AGRICULTURE."

SOME PRESS OPINIONS ON OUR SUPPLEMENT.

The supplement, "Agriculture," issued with last Tuesday's issue of the Irish Times, has been widely reviewed and quoted. Among other references which have been made are the following:—

The Tuam Herald—With commendable enterprise and much public spirit the Irish Times on Tuesday published a most useful and interesting supplement dealing with the vitally important subject of Irish agriculture, and illustrating, by a series of articles and a comparison of facts and figures, the two great and most formidable rivals Irish agriculture has to face at the present day. These are Denmark and Canada. . . . We wish for the sake of our imperilled agriculture that the excellent and helpful information imparted to the Irish farmer in the supplement to the Irish Times of Tuesday were in the hands of every farmer, and that it had what it deserves to have—a far and wide extended circulation in this country.

In The Observer (London) Mr. Stephen Gwynn says:—Irish farmers have been on a pilgrimage to Denmark, studying what is done there, and now the Irish Times brings out an "Agriculture" Supplement detailing what they saw—a most serviceable piece of journalism—and the Department of Agriculture utilises this to advertise the various facilities for agricultural training in the Free State.

The Anglo-Celt (Cavan)—The Irish Times of Tuesday last gave, as a free supplement, a most interesting and comprehensive outline of how the farmers in Denmark are winning the markets of the world. We would strongly advise all who can secure a copy to do so.

The Limerick Chronicle—The Irish Times has done good service to agriculture by its comprehensive and very informative supplement, issued with Tuesday's issue of that journal. Denmark looms largely in the contents, the methods of farming there, as described by its Special Correspondent, being given in detail. There are also articles on various other subjects, such as Irish cattle prices, marketing of Irish eggs, the peat problem, the Irish Condensed Milk Factory, etc., the entire making up an excellent publication.

The Nationalist (Clonmel)—It is a notable record of a notable tour; one of the first undertaken by Irish farmers on their own initiative, and throws a flood of light on the intensive methods by which the Danes are doubling their output, and beating the Irish farmers for the great cross-Channel markets. . . . The Irish Times has done a good service to Irish agriculture by its informative publication, which every farmer should secure and study.

The Newspaper World (London)—A fine 24-page "Agriculture" supplement was issued with the Irish Times on Tuesday. Outstanding features in the well-illustrated text matter were the position of Danish supplies in competition with Ireland for the British market, and the further competition threatening Ireland from the importation of Canadian cattle.

The Londonderry Sentinel—With the Irish Times of Tuesday was issued a supplement, "Agriculture," the pages of which were devoted to subjects of interest to Irish farmers. Of particular value was the record of a visit to Denmark for the study of the farming methods of one of Ireland's chief competitors in butter and pork. The number is well written and excellently illustrated.

The Kilkenny People—With Tuesday's issue of the Irish Times was presented free a 24-page supplement on "Agriculture." It is a very creditable and useful production, and the Irish farmer who misses getting it is making a mistake. There are several articles by recognised authorities on every branch of agriculture, and the numerous illustrations are calculated to enhance the value of these articles and to enforce the lessons they teach.

The Leitrim Observer—Accompanying the deputation was a representative of the Irish Times, the proprietors of which issued a specially-printed supplement, entitled "Agriculture," on Tuesday last, containing articles dealing with various phases of agriculture in Denmark, and the scientific methods adopted in fostering, as against the methods used in the industry in this country.

[Copies of the "Agriculture" Supplement can be ordered through newsagents or direct from this office.]

KILCOLGAN, COUNTY GALWAY.
IMPORTANT AUCTION.
KILCOLGAN CASTLE,
WITH HOLDING OF LAND.
Held in fee-simple, free from all rent.
I HAVE received instructions in the Estate of the late Miss Matilda St. George to offer for SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION at my SALEROOMS, VICTORIA PLACE, GALWAY, on WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28th, 1925 (if not previously disposed of),
All that and those the Premises known as Kilcolgan Castle, with a Holding of Land, containing 44 acres and 2 perches, or thereabouts.
The Castle is situated very convenient to the main road (recently steam-rolled). It is about 7 miles from Galway and the same distance from Athenry.
The Kilcolgan River, famous for salmon and trout fishing, forms a boundary to a good part of the Holding.
The Castle contains drawingroom, diningroom, 4 bedrooms, servants' room, kitchen, out-house in enclosed yard. There is a very large fruit and vegetable garden, well protected by a high wall.
The Lands are of a good quality and are well fenced. There is an abundant supply of good spring water, with pump supply to Castle. There is also a large farmyard, containing extensive stabling coach-house (suitable for garage), lofts, etc.
The Sale of the above should appeal to those desirous of securing a hunting lodge, being so conveniently situated for all the County Galway Meets.
Clear possession can be given to purchaser on completion.
Sale 1 p.m.
One-fourth purchase money and 5 per cent. auction fees immediately after sale.
For further particulars and conditions of sale apply to HENRY ST. J. BLAKE, Solicitor having Carriage of Sale; or
A. J. ROCHE, M.I.A.A.,
AUCTIONEER, GALWAY.

MILLBAY, ISLANDMAGEE,
COUNTY ANTRIM.
SALE OF VALUABLE
FARM OF LAND,
WITH LICENSED PREMISES AND GROCERY STORE ATTACHED.
I HAVE been favoured with instructions from Mr. Wm. Drummond to SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION, on the Premises, on FRIDAY, 30th OCTOBER, 1925, at 12 o'clock noon:—
ALL THAT VERY VALUABLE FARM OF LAND AND PREMISES, situate in the townland of Carnspindle (locally known as Millbay), Parish of Islandmagee, and County of Antrim, containing 40a. 0r. 26p., Statute measure, held under the Marquis of Donegall, at the judicial yearly rent of £32 16s. 6d.
On the Farm there is situate a large Dwellinghouse, containing kitchen (with close range), scullery, pantry, dairy, 2 sittingrooms, 5 bedrooms, and box-room with Spirit Licence attached. Also a Grocery Store and Cottage adjoining, containing sittingroom and 3 bedrooms (which is let furnished to summer visitors).
The Property is one which is capable of further development, and the Auctioneer can, therefore, fully recommend it as a most promising investment, as this is the only Licensed Premises in Islandmagee now, and the 'bus passes the door. It commands the entire trade for miles around, in addition to a constant flow of traffic from Belfast to Brown's Bay.
The Purchaser will be required to take, at the Auctioneer's valuation, a 5-Ton Cart Weighbridge.
Terms—£20 per cent. deposit, with Auction Commission, at time of Sale; balance on completion.
For further particulars apply to
JAMES M. O'BRIEN, Solicitor, Larne.
S. M'MULLAN,
AUCTIONEER, LARNE.
